

The Herald is delivered to subscribers... The publishers reserve the right to change the price of news delivery at any time.

TELEPHONE CONNECTIONS

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

Evening Herald

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1915.

Our Democratic friends will find the announcement that Robert H. Patterson is an aspirant for third time as Governor of this state a good joke, might as well make it a reality.

It is not the fact that the ex-Governor is in the field. He is clearly a possibility, and his campaign is in the hands of some of the ablest party leaders in the Democratic ranks.

SPEAKERS OF THE LATE-DIEING... The death of his estimable and loving wife, Editor John W. Parker, of the Mahanoy City Record, has the sincere sympathy of not only his brethren of the editorial profession, but of a large circle of personal and business friends.

It is, indeed, a serious blow to be sprung from one's life-companion, in the prime of life, by one's editorial brother, may seem harsh. In the fact that his bereavement was a consistent and devout Christian, one who in life administered to the wants of the poor, a kind and indulgent mother, and a loving and devoted wife.

An Important Issue. It is said to be a matter of a short time before his death, that the next great test that would force itself upon the American people would be immigration. That issue has become, and in a very serious form.

In the last session of Congress a German shipping company made a threat that it would defeat a certain member of Congress for re-election unless he did its bidding in the matter of immigration.

It is perhaps as well that the country should understand that the interests about flooding our ports with undesirable immigrants are not going to yield without a desperate fight. Congress passed a bill of exclusion, but President Cleveland vetoed upon the last chance of his administration and kept a salutary law of the statute books.

But the immigration question is one that will not down, and it must be met and settled. It should have been settled years ago, but neglect, special interests kept the Republican party from doing its full duty. The defeat of 1892 was a sharp reminder. Many articles noted the Democratic ticket in that year, not because they had been won over to the principles of Democracy, but out of a feeling of resentment against the Republican party for its failure to properly restrict immigration.

A tariff on foreign products without adequate safeguards for the workman against foreign labor, seemed to them a narrow and one-sided system of protection. The Contract Labor law had reduced, it is true, the evils of which they complained, but it had not abolished them. Had the party of protection met the issue as it should have been met, it would have been impossible to elect a President on a platform committed to a revenue tariff and without banks.

The fall of 1896 returned a protectionist President and a protectionist Congress. The fall of 1898 will choose a new House of Representatives, and in that campaign the Republican party ought to go before the country with the record of a wholesome law barring our ports against the objectionable class of immigrants who have in former times been permitted to swarm in upon us like the locusts of Egypt, and who have already done the country almost incalculable harm.

The Congress soon to assemble will have the power to enact such a measure; it will be backed by a President who will not nullify the work of Congress, as Cleveland did, and the much-needed law should be provided without further delay.

Just try a 10c box of Castoria, the Best Liver and Bowel Regulator ever made.

Special Winter Excursions to Old Point Comfort, Lakeside, Etc.

The Philadelphia & Reading Railway has placed on sale at all its principal offices, winter excursion tickets to Old Point Comfort, Lakeside, Atlantic City, Cape May and other prominent winter resorts in New Jersey and Virginia. These tickets are on sale at low rates with very liberal return rates. For full information as to routes, rates, etc., consult any Philadelphia & Reading agent, or address Edson J. Wanka, general passenger agent, Philadelphia.

WARNING—Persons who suffer from coughs and colds should heed the warning of danger and save themselves suffering and fatal results by using One Minute Cough Cure. It is an infallible remedy for colds, coughs and all throat and lung troubles. C. H. Hagenbuch.

REPORT OF BRITISH-FRENCH FIGHT

Uncontested, and Is Probably Unfounded.

London, Nov. 27.—The editorial of the London papers, most of which are British, is full of a sense of relief that a rumor is current among the natives there of a collision between 400 British and French troops, between 100 British and French troops, which, it is believed, will prove to be a conflict between the British and French troops.

While the London papers point to the danger of a conflict between the British and French troops, the Paris papers point to the danger of a conflict between the British and French troops.

It is not the fact that the ex-Governor is in the field. He is clearly a possibility, and his campaign is in the hands of some of the ablest party leaders in the Democratic ranks.

SPEAKERS OF THE LATE-DIEING... The death of his estimable and loving wife, Editor John W. Parker, of the Mahanoy City Record, has the sincere sympathy of not only his brethren of the editorial profession, but of a large circle of personal and business friends.

It is, indeed, a serious blow to be sprung from one's life-companion, in the prime of life, by one's editorial brother, may seem harsh. In the fact that his bereavement was a consistent and devout Christian, one who in life administered to the wants of the poor, a kind and indulgent mother, and a loving and devoted wife.

An Important Issue. It is said to be a matter of a short time before his death, that the next great test that would force itself upon the American people would be immigration. That issue has become, and in a very serious form.

In the last session of Congress a German shipping company made a threat that it would defeat a certain member of Congress for re-election unless he did its bidding in the matter of immigration.

It is perhaps as well that the country should understand that the interests about flooding our ports with undesirable immigrants are not going to yield without a desperate fight. Congress passed a bill of exclusion, but President Cleveland vetoed upon the last chance of his administration and kept a salutary law of the statute books.

But the immigration question is one that will not down, and it must be met and settled. It should have been settled years ago, but neglect, special interests kept the Republican party from doing its full duty. The defeat of 1892 was a sharp reminder. Many articles noted the Democratic ticket in that year, not because they had been won over to the principles of Democracy, but out of a feeling of resentment against the Republican party for its failure to properly restrict immigration.

A tariff on foreign products without adequate safeguards for the workman against foreign labor, seemed to them a narrow and one-sided system of protection. The Contract Labor law had reduced, it is true, the evils of which they complained, but it had not abolished them. Had the party of protection met the issue as it should have been met, it would have been impossible to elect a President on a platform committed to a revenue tariff and without banks.

The fall of 1896 returned a protectionist President and a protectionist Congress. The fall of 1898 will choose a new House of Representatives, and in that campaign the Republican party ought to go before the country with the record of a wholesome law barring our ports against the objectionable class of immigrants who have in former times been permitted to swarm in upon us like the locusts of Egypt, and who have already done the country almost incalculable harm.

The Congress soon to assemble will have the power to enact such a measure; it will be backed by a President who will not nullify the work of Congress, as Cleveland did, and the much-needed law should be provided without further delay.

Just try a 10c box of Castoria, the Best Liver and Bowel Regulator ever made.

Special Winter Excursions to Old Point Comfort, Lakeside, Etc.

The Philadelphia & Reading Railway has placed on sale at all its principal offices, winter excursion tickets to Old Point Comfort, Lakeside, Atlantic City, Cape May and other prominent winter resorts in New Jersey and Virginia. These tickets are on sale at low rates with very liberal return rates. For full information as to routes, rates, etc., consult any Philadelphia & Reading agent, or address Edson J. Wanka, general passenger agent, Philadelphia.

WARNING—Persons who suffer from coughs and colds should heed the warning of danger and save themselves suffering and fatal results by using One Minute Cough Cure. It is an infallible remedy for colds, coughs and all throat and lung troubles. C. H. Hagenbuch.

NITRO-GLYCERINE EXPLODES.

The Remarkable Feature Is the Absence of Fatalities.

Chatterfield, Ind., Nov. 27.—An explosion of nitro-glycerine occurred at a half mile west of this city Thursday night. Sixty quarts of nitro-glycerine had been hauled to the place for the purpose of shooting a gas well. The explosion was placed in a large steel tub located at the end of a steam exhaust pipe, for the purpose of blowing out the mixture. It is the theory that the tub became overheated, causing the explosion. A hole ten feet long and several feet in depth was torn in the earth, and the engine was blown to pieces.

Drillers Haney and McGuire had a remarkable escape. They were standing within 30 feet of the scene of the accident and were hurled 25 feet by the force of the explosion, but with the exception of a few bruises they are unhurt. Persons one mile away were lifted from their feet by the concussion and the jar was felt for ten miles.

Trains and telegraph lines were not affected. The explosion was a great relief to the community, as it was expected that the mine would be abandoned.

And yet this most fatal of all diseases is not without its remedy. It is an older remedy than the discovery of penicillin, and it is a remedy that is as effective as penicillin. It is a remedy that is as effective as penicillin.

It is not the fact that the ex-Governor is in the field. He is clearly a possibility, and his campaign is in the hands of some of the ablest party leaders in the Democratic ranks.

SPEAKERS OF THE LATE-DIEING... The death of his estimable and loving wife, Editor John W. Parker, of the Mahanoy City Record, has the sincere sympathy of not only his brethren of the editorial profession, but of a large circle of personal and business friends.

It is, indeed, a serious blow to be sprung from one's life-companion, in the prime of life, by one's editorial brother, may seem harsh. In the fact that his bereavement was a consistent and devout Christian, one who in life administered to the wants of the poor, a kind and indulgent mother, and a loving and devoted wife.

An Important Issue. It is said to be a matter of a short time before his death, that the next great test that would force itself upon the American people would be immigration. That issue has become, and in a very serious form.

In the last session of Congress a German shipping company made a threat that it would defeat a certain member of Congress for re-election unless he did its bidding in the matter of immigration.

It is perhaps as well that the country should understand that the interests about flooding our ports with undesirable immigrants are not going to yield without a desperate fight. Congress passed a bill of exclusion, but President Cleveland vetoed upon the last chance of his administration and kept a salutary law of the statute books.

But the immigration question is one that will not down, and it must be met and settled. It should have been settled years ago, but neglect, special interests kept the Republican party from doing its full duty. The defeat of 1892 was a sharp reminder. Many articles noted the Democratic ticket in that year, not because they had been won over to the principles of Democracy, but out of a feeling of resentment against the Republican party for its failure to properly restrict immigration.

A tariff on foreign products without adequate safeguards for the workman against foreign labor, seemed to them a narrow and one-sided system of protection. The Contract Labor law had reduced, it is true, the evils of which they complained, but it had not abolished them. Had the party of protection met the issue as it should have been met, it would have been impossible to elect a President on a platform committed to a revenue tariff and without banks.

The fall of 1896 returned a protectionist President and a protectionist Congress. The fall of 1898 will choose a new House of Representatives, and in that campaign the Republican party ought to go before the country with the record of a wholesome law barring our ports against the objectionable class of immigrants who have in former times been permitted to swarm in upon us like the locusts of Egypt, and who have already done the country almost incalculable harm.

The Congress soon to assemble will have the power to enact such a measure; it will be backed by a President who will not nullify the work of Congress, as Cleveland did, and the much-needed law should be provided without further delay.

Just try a 10c box of Castoria, the Best Liver and Bowel Regulator ever made.

Special Winter Excursions to Old Point Comfort, Lakeside, Etc.

The Philadelphia & Reading Railway has placed on sale at all its principal offices, winter excursion tickets to Old Point Comfort, Lakeside, Atlantic City, Cape May and other prominent winter resorts in New Jersey and Virginia. These tickets are on sale at low rates with very liberal return rates. For full information as to routes, rates, etc., consult any Philadelphia & Reading agent, or address Edson J. Wanka, general passenger agent, Philadelphia.

WARNING—Persons who suffer from coughs and colds should heed the warning of danger and save themselves suffering and fatal results by using One Minute Cough Cure. It is an infallible remedy for colds, coughs and all throat and lung troubles. C. H. Hagenbuch.

DO IT YOURSELF.

You can tell just as well as a physician whether your kidneys are diseased or healthy. The way to do it is to take a bottle of plain Furore, and fill it with urine. If there is a sediment—a powdery substance—at the bottom after standing a day and night, there is something wrong with the kidneys.

Any one who has a desire to urinate often, and still another sign is pain in the back. If urine stains linen, there is no doubt that the kidneys are affected.

Any and all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and of the urinary passages and constipation of the bowels are cured by Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. There is no question about its being the best and most effective medicine in the world for such troubles. It quickly relieves and cures "morning sickness," and it is equally effective in curing "morning sickness," and it is equally effective in curing "morning sickness."

It is not the fact that the ex-Governor is in the field. He is clearly a possibility, and his campaign is in the hands of some of the ablest party leaders in the Democratic ranks.

SPEAKERS OF THE LATE-DIEING... The death of his estimable and loving wife, Editor John W. Parker, of the Mahanoy City Record, has the sincere sympathy of not only his brethren of the editorial profession, but of a large circle of personal and business friends.

It is, indeed, a serious blow to be sprung from one's life-companion, in the prime of life, by one's editorial brother, may seem harsh. In the fact that his bereavement was a consistent and devout Christian, one who in life administered to the wants of the poor, a kind and indulgent mother, and a loving and devoted wife.

An Important Issue. It is said to be a matter of a short time before his death, that the next great test that would force itself upon the American people would be immigration. That issue has become, and in a very serious form.

In the last session of Congress a German shipping company made a threat that it would defeat a certain member of Congress for re-election unless he did its bidding in the matter of immigration.

It is perhaps as well that the country should understand that the interests about flooding our ports with undesirable immigrants are not going to yield without a desperate fight. Congress passed a bill of exclusion, but President Cleveland vetoed upon the last chance of his administration and kept a salutary law of the statute books.

But the immigration question is one that will not down, and it must be met and settled. It should have been settled years ago, but neglect, special interests kept the Republican party from doing its full duty. The defeat of 1892 was a sharp reminder. Many articles noted the Democratic ticket in that year, not because they had been won over to the principles of Democracy, but out of a feeling of resentment against the Republican party for its failure to properly restrict immigration.

A tariff on foreign products without adequate safeguards for the workman against foreign labor, seemed to them a narrow and one-sided system of protection. The Contract Labor law had reduced, it is true, the evils of which they complained, but it had not abolished them. Had the party of protection met the issue as it should have been met, it would have been impossible to elect a President on a platform committed to a revenue tariff and without banks.

The fall of 1896 returned a protectionist President and a protectionist Congress. The fall of 1898 will choose a new House of Representatives, and in that campaign the Republican party ought to go before the country with the record of a wholesome law barring our ports against the objectionable class of immigrants who have in former times been permitted to swarm in upon us like the locusts of Egypt, and who have already done the country almost incalculable harm.

The Congress soon to assemble will have the power to enact such a measure; it will be backed by a President who will not nullify the work of Congress, as Cleveland did, and the much-needed law should be provided without further delay.

Just try a 10c box of Castoria, the Best Liver and Bowel Regulator ever made.

Special Winter Excursions to Old Point Comfort, Lakeside, Etc.

The Philadelphia & Reading Railway has placed on sale at all its principal offices, winter excursion tickets to Old Point Comfort, Lakeside, Atlantic City, Cape May and other prominent winter resorts in New Jersey and Virginia. These tickets are on sale at low rates with very liberal return rates. For full information as to routes, rates, etc., consult any Philadelphia & Reading agent, or address Edson J. Wanka, general passenger agent, Philadelphia.

WARNING—Persons who suffer from coughs and colds should heed the warning of danger and save themselves suffering and fatal results by using One Minute Cough Cure. It is an infallible remedy for colds, coughs and all throat and lung troubles. C. H. Hagenbuch.

REVENUE CUTTER BEAR OFF.

Starts on Her Arctic Trip to Retrieve Icebound Whalers.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 27.—The revenue cutter Bear weighed anchor this afternoon and started on her mission to the Arctic coast to retrieve the icebound whaling fleet. A short stop will be made at Port Townsend, after which the Bear will proceed without further delay, going as far into the northern waters as steam and wind will drive her.

Speaking yesterday of his trip Captain Tuttle said: "I may not be able to reach St. Lawrence Island, where it is intended to land the overland expedition, but there is another place where I think I can land. I will not say where it is, for the reason that I might fall."

It is not the fact that the ex-Governor is in the field. He is clearly a possibility, and his campaign is in the hands of some of the ablest party leaders in the Democratic ranks.

SPEAKERS OF THE LATE-DIEING... The death of his estimable and loving wife, Editor John W. Parker, of the Mahanoy City Record, has the sincere sympathy of not only his brethren of the editorial profession, but of a large circle of personal and business friends.

It is, indeed, a serious blow to be sprung from one's life-companion, in the prime of life, by one's editorial brother, may seem harsh. In the fact that his bereavement was a consistent and devout Christian, one who in life administered to the wants of the poor, a kind and indulgent mother, and a loving and devoted wife.

An Important Issue. It is said to be a matter of a short time before his death, that the next great test that would force itself upon the American people would be immigration. That issue has become, and in a very serious form.

In the last session of Congress a German shipping company made a threat that it would defeat a certain member of Congress for re-election unless he did its bidding in the matter of immigration.

It is perhaps as well that the country should understand that the interests about flooding our ports with undesirable immigrants are not going to yield without a desperate fight. Congress passed a bill of exclusion, but President Cleveland vetoed upon the last chance of his administration and kept a salutary law of the statute books.

But the immigration question is one that will not down, and it must be met and settled. It should have been settled years ago, but neglect, special interests kept the Republican party from doing its full duty. The defeat of 1892 was a sharp reminder. Many articles noted the Democratic ticket in that year, not because they had been won over to the principles of Democracy, but out of a feeling of resentment against the Republican party for its failure to properly restrict immigration.

A tariff on foreign products without adequate safeguards for the workman against foreign labor, seemed to them a narrow and one-sided system of protection. The Contract Labor law had reduced, it is true, the evils of which they complained, but it had not abolished them. Had the party of protection met the issue as it should have been met, it would have been impossible to elect a President on a platform committed to a revenue tariff and without banks.

The fall of 1896 returned a protectionist President and a protectionist Congress. The fall of 1898 will choose a new House of Representatives, and in that campaign the Republican party ought to go before the country with the record of a wholesome law barring our ports against the objectionable class of immigrants who have in former times been permitted to swarm in upon us like the locusts of Egypt, and who have already done the country almost incalculable harm.

The Congress soon to assemble will have the power to enact such a measure; it will be backed by a President who will not nullify the work of Congress, as Cleveland did, and the much-needed law should be provided without further delay.

Just try a 10c box of Castoria, the Best Liver and Bowel Regulator ever made.

Special Winter Excursions to Old Point Comfort, Lakeside, Etc.

The Philadelphia & Reading Railway has placed on sale at all its principal offices, winter excursion tickets to Old Point Comfort, Lakeside, Atlantic City, Cape May and other prominent winter resorts in New Jersey and Virginia. These tickets are on sale at low rates with very liberal return rates. For full information as to routes, rates, etc., consult any Philadelphia & Reading agent, or address Edson J. Wanka, general passenger agent, Philadelphia.

WARNING—Persons who suffer from coughs and colds should heed the warning of danger and save themselves suffering and fatal results by using One Minute Cough Cure. It is an infallible remedy for colds, coughs and all throat and lung troubles. C. H. Hagenbuch.

NEURALGIA OF THE HEART.

Vanquished by Dr. Miles' Remedies.

Manly, N. Y., Nov. 27.—A case of neuralgia of the heart, which had been treated by the best medical authorities, was cured by Dr. Miles' Remedies. The patient, a man of 40 years of age, had been suffering from the disease for several years. He had been treated by the best medical authorities, but without success. He had been treated by the best medical authorities, but without success.

It is not the fact that the ex-Governor is in the field. He is clearly a possibility, and his campaign is in the hands of some of the ablest party leaders in the Democratic ranks.

SPEAKERS OF THE LATE-DIEING... The death of his estimable and loving wife, Editor John W. Parker, of the Mahanoy City Record, has the sincere sympathy of not only his brethren of the editorial profession, but of a large circle of personal and business friends.

It is, indeed, a serious blow to be sprung from one's life-companion, in the prime of life, by one's editorial brother, may seem harsh. In the fact that his bereavement was a consistent and devout Christian, one who in life administered to the wants of the poor, a kind and indulgent mother, and a loving and devoted wife.

An Important Issue. It is said to be a matter of a short time before his death, that the next great test that would force itself upon the American people would be immigration. That issue has become, and in a very serious form.

In the last session of Congress a German shipping company made a threat that it would defeat a certain member of Congress for re-election unless he did its bidding in the matter of immigration.

It is perhaps as well that the country should understand that the interests about flooding our ports with undesirable immigrants are not going to yield without a desperate fight. Congress passed a bill of exclusion, but President Cleveland vetoed upon the last chance of his administration and kept a salutary law of the statute books.

But the immigration question is one that will not down, and it must be met and settled. It should have been settled years ago, but neglect, special interests kept the Republican party from doing its full duty. The defeat of 1892 was a sharp reminder. Many articles noted the Democratic ticket in that year, not because they had been won over to the principles of Democracy, but out of a feeling of resentment against the Republican party for its failure to properly restrict immigration.

A tariff on foreign products without adequate safeguards for the workman against foreign labor, seemed to them a narrow and one-sided system of protection. The Contract Labor law had reduced, it is true, the evils of which they complained, but it had not abolished them. Had the party of protection met the issue as it should have been met, it would have been impossible to elect a President on a platform committed to a revenue tariff and without banks.

The fall of 1896 returned a protectionist President and a protectionist Congress. The fall of 1898 will choose a new House of Representatives, and in that campaign the Republican party ought to go before the country with the record of a wholesome law barring our ports against the objectionable class of immigrants who have in former times been permitted to swarm in upon us like the locusts of Egypt, and who have already done the country almost incalculable harm.

The Congress soon to assemble will have the power to enact such a measure; it will be backed by a President who will not nullify the work of Congress, as Cleveland did, and the much-needed law should be provided without further delay.

Just try a 10c box of Castoria, the Best Liver and Bowel Regulator ever made.

Special Winter Excursions to Old Point Comfort, Lakeside, Etc.

The Philadelphia & Reading Railway has placed on sale at all its principal offices, winter excursion tickets to Old Point Comfort, Lakeside, Atlantic City, Cape May and other prominent winter resorts in New Jersey and Virginia. These tickets are on sale at low rates with very liberal return rates. For full information as to routes, rates, etc., consult any Philadelphia & Reading agent, or address Edson J. Wanka, general passenger agent, Philadelphia.

WARNING—Persons who suffer from coughs and colds should heed the warning of danger and save themselves suffering and fatal results by using One Minute Cough Cure. It is an infallible remedy for colds, coughs and all throat and lung troubles. C. H. Hagenbuch.

Dangerous Lard.

Lard at its best is unwholesome, indigestible. It makes food shortened with it soft and greasy. At its worst, it is unwholesome and filled with dangerous bacteria. It is condemned by every medical and culinary authority.

Every food scientist agrees that vegetable oil is nutritive, digestible, and free from disease germs.

Healthful COTTOLENE.

is composed mainly of refined vegetable oil. It is nutritious and palatable. Food shortened with or fried in it can be eaten by anyone without harmful results.

The greatest health benefit is in one ten pound pail. It is sold in one ten pound pail. It is sold in one ten pound pail. It is sold in one ten pound pail.

It is not the fact that the ex-Governor is in the field. He is clearly a possibility, and his campaign is in the hands of some of the ablest party leaders in the Democratic ranks.

SPEAKERS OF THE LATE-DIEING... The death of his estimable and loving wife, Editor John W. Parker, of the Mahanoy City Record, has the sincere sympathy of not only his brethren of the editorial profession, but of a large circle of personal and business friends.

It is, indeed, a serious blow to be sprung from one's life-companion, in the prime of life, by one's editorial brother, may seem harsh. In the fact that his bereavement was a consistent and devout Christian, one who in life administered to the wants of the poor, a kind and indulgent mother, and a loving and devoted wife.

An Important Issue. It is said to be a matter of a short time before his death, that the next great test that would force itself upon the American people would be immigration. That issue has become, and in a very serious form.

In the last session of Congress a German shipping company made a threat that it would defeat a certain member of Congress for re-election unless he did its bidding in the matter of immigration.

It is perhaps as well that the country should understand that the interests about flooding our ports with undesirable immigrants are not going to yield without a desperate fight. Congress passed a bill of exclusion, but President Cleveland vetoed upon the last chance of his administration and kept a salutary law of the statute books.

But the immigration question is one that will not down, and it must be met and settled. It should have been settled years ago, but neglect, special interests kept the Republican party from doing its full duty. The defeat of 1892 was a sharp reminder. Many articles noted the Democratic ticket in that year, not because they had been won over to the principles of Democracy, but out of a feeling of resentment against the Republican party for its failure to properly restrict immigration.

A tariff on foreign products without adequate safeguards for the workman against foreign labor, seemed to them a narrow and one-sided system of protection. The Contract Labor law had reduced, it is true, the evils of which they complained, but it had not abolished them. Had the party of protection met the issue as it should have been met, it would have been impossible to elect a President on a platform committed to a revenue tariff and without banks.

The fall of 1896 returned a protectionist President and a protectionist Congress. The fall of 1898 will choose a new House of Representatives, and in that campaign the Republican party ought to go before the country with the record of a wholesome law barring our ports against the objectionable class of immigrants who have in former times been permitted to swarm in upon us like the locusts of Egypt, and who have already done the country almost incalculable harm.

The Congress soon to assemble will have the power to enact such a measure; it will be backed by a President who will not nullify the work of Congress, as Cleveland did, and the much-needed law should be provided without further delay.

Just try a 10c box of Castoria, the Best Liver and Bowel Regulator ever made.

Special Winter Excursions to Old Point Comfort, Lakeside, Etc.

The Philadelphia & Reading Railway has placed on sale at all its principal offices, winter excursion tickets to Old Point Comfort, Lakeside, Atlantic City, Cape May and other prominent winter resorts in New Jersey and Virginia. These tickets are on sale at low rates with very liberal return rates. For full information as to routes, rates, etc., consult any Philadelphia & Reading agent, or address Edson J. Wanka, general passenger agent, Philadelphia.

WARNING—Persons who suffer from coughs and colds should heed the warning of danger and save themselves suffering and fatal results by using One Minute Cough Cure. It is an infallible remedy for colds, coughs and all throat and lung troubles. C. H. Hagenbuch.

GERMAN DEMANDS ON CHINA.

Foreign Diplomats Declare Them Impossible of Acceptance.

London, Nov. 27.—Special dispatches received here from Shanghai say that Baron von Hockley, the German minister to China, has presented to the Chinese government the demands of Germany for reparation for the recent outbreak of German missionaries and the destruction of German mission property. These demands include the discovery and execution of the murderers of the missionaries, the punishment of the implicated officials, the destruction of the mission buildings, the payment of an indemnity of 500,000 marks to the relatives of the victims, and also the payment of a heavy indemnity to cover the expenses of the German navy expedition and the maintenance of the German force at Kiaochow bay.

The Chinese government replied that Kiaochow bay cannot be vacated. The demands can be discussed, but the Chinese government will not consent to the demands. The Chinese government will not consent to the demands.

It is not the fact that the ex-Governor is in the field. He is clearly a possibility, and his campaign is in the hands of some of the ablest party leaders in the Democratic ranks.

SPEAKERS OF THE LATE-DIEING... The death of his estimable and loving wife, Editor John W. Parker, of the Mahanoy City Record, has the sincere sympathy of not only his brethren of the editorial profession, but of a large circle of personal and business friends.

It is, indeed, a serious blow to be sprung from one's life-companion, in the prime of life, by one's editorial brother, may seem harsh. In the fact that his bereavement was a consistent and devout Christian, one who in life administered to the wants of the poor, a kind and indulgent mother, and a loving and devoted wife.

An Important Issue. It is said to be a matter of a short time before his death, that the next great test that would force itself upon the American people would be immigration. That issue has become, and in a very serious form.

In the last session of Congress a German shipping company made a threat that it would defeat a certain member of Congress for re-election unless he did its bidding in the matter of immigration.

It is perhaps as well that the country should understand that the interests about flooding our ports with undesirable immigrants are not going to yield without a desperate fight. Congress passed a bill of exclusion, but President Cleveland vetoed upon the last chance of his administration and kept a salutary law of the statute books.

But the immigration question is one that will not down, and it must be met and settled. It should have been settled years ago, but neglect, special interests kept the Republican party from doing its full duty. The