SERIOUSLY INJURED.
A Miner's Neck Almost Broken in a Gang-way.
David T. Krueger, of East Coal street, had an extraordinary escape from death in a gangway of the West Shenandoah mines Saturday afternoon. He had stopped work temporarily to wind the rib-wire a large piece of rock behind and above his head. Krueger was forced down under the great weight in such a manner that his head was doubled under his body and his neck almost broken. The victim's situation was a critical one but he was speedily relieved. The unfortunate man experienced difficulty in breathing and when given a spoonful of medicine at his home he was unable to swallow it. In endeavoring to do so he almost strangled. A further examination showed that the gullet had been forced to one side to such an extent that it prevented swallowing, or expectoration. An appliance to keep the gullet in place was attached to the man's throat and his condition has improved considerably. Krueger is about 55 years old and resides with his brother, C. & I. Policeman Peter C. Krueger.

DELIBERATE SHOT.
A Probable Fatal Shooting Affray at Mahanoy City.
Special to Evening Herald.
Mahanoy City, Nov. 29.—Another shooting affray has been added to the annals of this borough and it is probable that the affair will result fatally to the victim. It occurred at about 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening, in the home of Anthony Antonitis, at 219 West Centre street. All the men who figured in the affair were boarders in the house and were in one of the bedrooms at the time. The victim was Barney Krachukis. He was shot by Anthony Antonitis.

Krachukis and one Joseph Cristanis were seated in a room on the second story of the Siskalish house, conversing on general topics, when Anthony Antonitis entered the room. A new revolver Krachukis had purchased was lying on a trunk and Antonitis picked up the weapon to examine it. Cristanis, it is alleged, said to Antonitis, "Shoot that man," and the latter, pointing the weapon at Krachukis, fired. The bullet entered Krachukis' left breast, pierced the lung, and lodged under the shoulder blade. Krachukis, notwithstanding the serious nature of his wound, was able to run to Haganshuk's drug store, about five squares distant, and go back to the home where he resided after having the wound examined. He received medical attendance at the house, and the injury was pronounced a probably fatal one. He was removed to the miners' hospital this morning. Antonitis disappeared immediately after the shooting and has not been traced. Cristanis was arrested on a charge of instigating the shooting and committed to the Pottsville jail.

LAMP EXPLODED.
Early Morning Fire Alarm in the First Ward.
At a quarter of one o'clock this morning a fire alarm was sounded from box 16 in the First Ward and the fire department made a prompt response, but its services were not required. The cause of the alarm was the explosion of a lamp in the home of Mrs. Andrew Jonadis, at 219 East Centre street.

The fire following the explosion was extinguished by occupants of the house before much damage was done. A neighbor caused the alarm to be sounded.

ARE FLEEING FROM YUKON
Men Leaving Dawson City to Escape Threatened Starvation.
AN AWFUL CALAMITY IMPENDING.
One of Those Who Has Returned to Civilization Declares There is Not Food Enough to Save Those Left Behind—Flour Sold at $200 a Sack.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 29.—Twenty-five men arrived here yesterday on the City of Seattle direct from Dawson City. They were divided into two parties, the last one of which left Dawson Oct. 18. They came out over the Dawson trail, and for many thousands of miles they had $50,000 in drafts and $200,000 in gold dust.

All tell stories of a food shortage in Dawson that is almost a famine. The last person to leave Dawson was Jack Dalton, who then left the situation. He and Alice had reached there, landed light. It is said that the Bella's cargo consisted of whiskey and billiard balls. She brought no provisions. The Canadian government mounted police chartered the Bella, and gave all who wished food by passing to the Yukon. The Bella is reported to have left about Oct. 12 with 200 men.

According to the statements made by members of the Dalton party there is little to be troubled of the most serious kind this winter in Dawson. This is the first of the men in the party ahead of him whom he met at Dyes that all the people talk about at Dawson is the food famine. Men were gathering in groups and cursing with might and main the new comers that were constantly arriving in the Klondike loaded with scarcely any provisions. The mounted police were offering transportation to the scrub pines further down the Yukon, to Fort Yukon, but to the countless hundreds who had labored hard all through the summer, accumulating great wealth, the prospect was uninviting, to say the least.

The men figured that it would take all their earnings in gold to pay their living expenses at Fort Yukon during the winter, and that in the spring they would not even have enough left to pay passage money back to Dawson, to say nothing of purchasing enough food to subsist until they could get started again. To these poor fellows the offer of the mounted police was no better than the prospect at Dawson of being compelled to live on bare rations until the supply of boats could reach the dignities in the spring.

John W. Brunner, the United States mail carrier, who left Dawson Sept. 27, said:

"There is only one salvation for the miners who are now at Dawson City, and that is for them to undertake the awful winter trip from Dawson to Fort Yukon, a distance of 400 miles. There is no food at Fort Yukon, there is none at Dawson, and just as sure as the stars shine terrible suffering will be the fate of the miners who remain here if they leave before spring. When I left Dawson the men who were there had on an average four months' food supply. Some did not have a month's supply, and some had four or five. The restaurant closed the night I left. It was being selling nothing but beerstark, for which the hungry paid 22."

"When the people realized that the boats would be unable to get up the river they knew that starvation threatened them, and the great stampede began. The first to leave went to Fort Yukon. I guess there were about ten in the party that left the first day. One boat that came up from Fort Yukon with several newspaper men aboard, among them Correspondent Sam Wall and Mr. McGillivray, brought the news that the Hamilton had unloaded all of her cargo and tried to get over the bar light and failed in her efforts, though she drew but two feet of water. This news increased the excitement and made the rush toward food centers all the greater.

John Nelson, of Nelson, Okla., and myself left Circle City and started to pole up the river to Dawson City, a distance of 300 miles. At the same time we started from Circle City the miners had about taken their departure. It took us 11 days and three hours to make the journey, arriving at Dawson Sept. 25. Captain Hanson, with two Indians who had left Fort Yukon, beat us into Dawson by about an hour and a half. Hanson gathered the Dawson City miners together and made a short speech in which he advised all who did not wish to starve to last the winter to go to civilization.

"That night was the greatest one in the history of Dawson City. The miners, as soon as they heard the news, made hasty preparations to get out, and nightfall saw the gold seekers start for many thousands of dollars, leaving by thousands for down the river or up the river points. The little steamer Klukuk was beset by would-be passengers, who offered as high as $250 that they might be aboard while she made her journey of 175 miles to Pelly. Klukuk left Dawson on the afternoon of Sept. 27, with 12 or 15 passengers.

"H. A. Ferguson said: "The situation at Dawson was relieved by the exodus to Fort Yukon. I doubt if there will be actual starvation there, but there will be a shortage. The old timers have provisions enough to carry them through. The stores are practically cleaned out. All they would sell

DIRECTORS CONVICTED
Verdict in the West Mahanoy School District Case.
OPENED IN COURT THIS MORNING!
After Deliberating For Over Fifteen Hours the Jury Found the Directors Guilty on the Twenty-Ninth Count in the Indictment—Motion For a New Trial.

Special to Evening Herald.
Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 29.—The verdict in the case of the Commonwealth against P. J. Ferguson, Thomas E. Finerman, Martin J. Molain, Patrick M. Nourse and John Deolan, five of the School Directors of West Mahanoy Township who were charged with misdemeanor on oath of Thomas Doe, is that they are guilty on the 29th count in the indictment. Although the defendants are convicted on but one of the nine-nine counts in the indictment the verdict carries with it all the costs in the case.

The count on which the verdict was rendered is that in which the Directors were charged with issuing orders of five dollars each to pay themselves for attending the annual meeting of the School Directors' Association of Schuylkill county at Pottsville.

The jury deliberated over the case for fifteen hours and a half. The jurors retired at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. At 8:45 p. m. they ordered supper, and at 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning they handed in a sealed verdict. All the jurors then went to their respective homes and at ten o'clock this morning re-appeared in court to attend the opening of the verdict by Judge Reichel.

The verdict was "Guilty in manner and form as indicted on the 29th count."
All the accused school directors were in attendance when the announcement was made, attended by their counsel, George J. Wallinger, W. A. Marr and M. M. Harko, Esq. of Mr. Wallinger at once asked for a stay of judgment and time within which to make a motion for a new trial, which was granted. The motion will be argued within a few days. Should it be denied an appeal will be taken to the superior court. Meanwhile sentence will be deferred.

The penalty fixed by law for the misdemeanor of which the School Directors have been convicted is $500 fine, or imprisonment, or both, at the discretion of the court.

It was stated this afternoon that the trial has been an expensive one and the costs to be taxed against the defendants will amount to between $500 and $1,200.

Although the jury deliberated many hours there was little dispute as to what the verdict should be, it is said. All the numerous documents in the case were scrutinized and carefully compared with the parts of the testimony bearing upon them, and a ballot taken on each of the thirty-nine counts in the indictment which Judge Reichel did not take out of the jury's hands. On the count upon which the verdict was rendered the jury agreed on the first ballot taken.

Church Dedication.
Right Rev. E. F. Broadhurst, auxiliary Bishop of the Philadelphia Diocese, officiated at the dedication of the new German Catholic church at Newton, assisted by a number of priests, on Saturday afternoon. He confirmed the children of that parish.

Yesterday morning Bishop Prudergast officiated at the rededication of the church of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, at Mineville, which edifice has been greatly remodelled by the German Catholic congregation of that place. At the solemn High Mass in the morning the Bishop occupied a throne at the head of the altar. The offertory was the Father's Prayer, with Rev. F. Fogarty, of St. Vincent de Paul's, as deacon; Father Dolan, of Schuylkill, sub-deacon and Rev. A. J. Heubner, of St. Charles Seminary, master of ceremonies. The sermon was preached by Rev. George Michel, of St. Paul's, Reading. The Bishop also made an address, which was full of feeling and good will and contained much sound advice. In the dedicatory ceremonies Bishop Prudergast was assisted by Rev. Father Lougous and the pastor, Rev. Peter Massey.

Church Anniversary.
The First Reformed church of Pottsville yesterday celebrated the 63d anniversary of its existence. Impressive services were held throughout the day. This is one of the oldest congregations in Schuylkill county, and is presided over at present by Rev. W. H. Horst, who gave an interesting history of the church at the evening service. Rev. J. C. Fisher, of Lebanon, preached the morning sermon in German, and in the evening spoke in English. The musical portion of the exercises were beautiful.
