The re-newed cutting of prices of coal to force sales at tell-water and other competitive points con occured loss of profit to shippers. The strong of anthracite to the Western lake thich will practically end for the season this teek. The New England markets are fairly rell applied with coal, but some dealers have been buying so sparingly for months past that they are now clamorous for coal, and, owing to the scarcity of small vessels. find they cannot get prompt deliveries. Vessel freights to the Eastern ports have iffened in consequence. The cold snap which set in on Saturday and which is ex-sected to last for several days, extends along the whole northern Atlantic coast, and shou d imulate the constmption of coal materially.
