Prague, Dec. 3.—There were serious officians between the police and large mobs last night in the Smichow and darkow suburbs of the city. Two perons were wounded. The police made 90 arrests. Some of the persons ar-rested will be court martialed for hav-ing received with jeers and groans the rociamation declaring the city under narrial law. The ambulance association has issued pressing the riots.

It is not exactly martial law that has been proclaimed, but rather the institution of summary civil procedure, called standrecht, whereby a special tribunal of seven judges is empowered tribunal of seven judges is empowered to impost capital and other severe sentences for offenses ordinarily punished mildly. There is no appeal against a death sentence by the tribunal, which must be put into execution within two hours by the military if the hangman is not available.

It is evident that the standrecht was not proclaimed a moment too soon.
Well dressed men rode on bloydes through the city and the suburbs making lists of the German places. for attack, and the work of the rioters being done in acordance with these lists, and also at many places simul-

The pilinging was so systematic that in one street alone 15 Jewish shops were ramacked. An ambulance corps was attacked sayagely because the doctors were recognized as Germans. The intimate knowledge the mob has displayed of the contract displayed of the exact position of all the wealthlest German houses and of valuable German property shows that the riots were organized in advance. The young Czechs have paraded the streets wearing jewelry plundered from jewelers' shops, and comparatively few German houses have escaped attack.

Catarrh often appears as only a cold at first, and is hardly noticed. But gradually the cold returns, and it is more difficultitocure, and stays longer than formerly. These symptoms cannot be mistaken; they mark the first appearance of a disease that will develop in severity and stubbornness, and which it is impossible to cure with the local treatment of sprays, washes, and similar applications. Being a disease of the blood, only a blood remedy can have the alightest effect upon it. S.S.S.
