WANTS HIS REWARD.

An Obituary Arraigns Against a Debt Claim.

Pottsville, Dec. 14.—In the case of Henschel & Co., of New York, against Adam Butowsky, the West Coat street tailor, arbitrators were yesterday selected for an arbitration to be held in the office of M. M. Burke...

At that time Green was engaged with, receiving and concealing a large consignment of cloth just received from the firm named. It appears that Butowsky, who some time before had been employed by Green and had a difficulty with him, knew where the cloth was concealed.

"I promise to pay Adam Butowsky the sum of $100 for information that will lead to the recovery of the merchandise sold or to be sold to Frank Green of this place. This money to be paid only if the goods mentioned in the invoice are recovered."

THE CONTROLLER'S CASE.

Arguments Made Yesterday on the Motion to Quash.

Judges Bechtel and Koch sat in court No. 1 yesterday to hear argument in the case against County Controller Severn and the County Commissioners. The argument in the Controller's case was begun at 11 o'clock in the forenoon and was not concluded at 5:30 in the afternoon, when court adjourned until this morning.

Mr. Whitehouse called District Attorney Bechtel and asked if he drew up the indictment found against Controller Severn. On this the Court ruled: It is not important who wrote the indictment. The District Attorney signed or endorsing it, made it his act.

Mr. Whitehouse at this point read the reasons filed to quash the indictment. These charge a multiplicity of counts, hold that some of the allegations are not offences, &c. Coming to the count where the stealing and embezzling of $10,000 is alleged, Mr. Whitehouse said that because the Controller didn't steal the money the other side want to convict him in four or five ways in connection with the matter.
