AN INQUEST.

The Crew of a Railroad Train Exoner ated From Blame.

Deputy Coroner Manley and a Jury last night held an inquest in the case of Charles Kucaman, the nine-year-eld boy who was killed near the P. & R. station on Wednesday afternoon. The verdict was "that death was caused by the deceased being struck by a brake beam of passenger train No. 8, drawn by engine No. 191, of the P. & R. railway, near the Shemandosh depot, on the 19th of December, 1897, and was the result of an accident. We exonerate the grew of said train cident. We exonerate the crew of said train from all blame."
