A CROUP CURE

is what many a mother is looking for; something absolutely safe and reliable, that will disarm her terror of that dread rattling, strangling cough, so fearful to the mother, so fatal to the child. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a croup cure that can be relied on. Thousands say so.

Mrs. W. J. Jackson ("Stanford Eveleth") writes from Truro, N.S.:—"That terror of mothers, the startling, croupy cough, never alarmed me so long as I had a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house."
"We have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in our family for years. Once when our boy had a severe attack of croup, we thought that he would die. But we broke up the attack by using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."

SAVED FROM A LIVING TOMB.

Thirty-five Miners Imprisoned Four Days Without Food.
City of Mexico, Jan. 2.—Various reports have been in circulation regarding the mine disaster at the mine of San Jose De Garcia, at Guanajuato. At first it was reported 25 miners had been drowned in the lower workings of the mine. Authentic, but brief, reports have just been received which show that the number as stated were at work in the lower levels when they noticed that the water was beginning to come in slowly, and they became alarmed. When the water began rushing toward them in greater volume their alarm was turned into consternation, and the men made a rush for the ladders. They stayed within reaching distance of a higher level, but could get no higher. When the time came for the shift to go to the surface and they did not appear the rumor spread that all the men had been drowned. A relief force volunteered to go to the rescue, but it was deemed impossible to give aid, and nothing was done more than to ascertain that all were undoubtedly a flood in the lower workings.
Four days passed, and naturally all hope was abandoned and the families of the miners gave way in despair, and the news was given out that all the men had perished in the mine. Finally a relief party, still working, but without any hope, reached the place where the miners had sought refuge and rescued them. The poor fellows were in a bad state of exhaustion, having had no food during all the time they were imprisoned on the level, and some of them were so weak that they could hardly move. All were rescued, however, and brought to the surface amid tumultuous rejoicings.

MONETARY COMMISSION'S BILL

Will be introduced in Congress by Representative Overstreet.
Washington, Jan. 2.—The report of the monetary commission appointed under authority of the convention of business men held in Indianapolis last January has just been made public. It retains practically unchanged the existing metallic money. The existing gold standard on which business has been done since 1870, is of course maintained, on the ground that industrial interests demand certainty as to what the standard shall be. It is urged that the United States should remove all uncertainty as to the meaning of "coin" in its obligations, thereby saving the taxpayer by the ability to borrow at a lower rate of interest. No attempt is made to remove the existing silver dollars, nor to change their legal tender quality; on the contrary, a piece is provided for them in the circulation by forbidding the issue of any paper money other than silver certificates in denominations below $10. The silver currency, which will be kept in the hands of the people, must be kept in a parity with gold, as is now provided by law, and this should be done by requiring the treasury to give gold for a silver dollar on demand.
The commission contemplates that the ten different kinds of money now in use create an anomalous and confusing situation. Moreover, the whole fabric rests on too slender a reserve of gold. It is urged that the demand obligations of the government should not be used as money, because they may be, and have been, presented for gold to the injury of the nation's credit. This causes grave doubts as to the standard on which the business operations of the country rest.
The commission strongly urges the government to withdraw its demand obligations now used as money, decline to receive gold for exporters, and put the burden and expense of maintaining a redeemable paper circulation upon the banks.
A bill embodying the recommendations of the commission will be introduced in congress by Representative Overstreet, of Indiana.

Shaw's Bomb Was Harmless.

Camden, N. J., Jan. 3.—Prosecutor Jenkins yesterday had an expert examine a supposed dynamite bomb reported on Saturday by Eli Shaw, the accused murderer of his mother and grandmother. The contents of the package were pronounced to be a common dry battery stuffed with manganese dioxide and sal ammoniac, a harmless combination. Mr. Jenkins states his belief that the package was sent to arouse public sympathy for Shaw, who was placed on trial today. He adds that he has no doubt Shaw expected his receipt, and pretended to be much frightened.

EMPEROR MENELIK WARLIKE.

Leading Abyssinians to the Support of French Enterprises.
London, Jan. 2.—The Cairo correspondent of The Daily Mail said, as part explanation of the British advance upon the Nile, that it is believed French expeditions have arrived quiet close to Khartoum occupying his position.
The Home correspondent of The Daily Mail says: "I learn from private sources that the Italian foreign office has received information that Emperor Menelik has summoned the Abyssinians to arms in support of French enterprises in Equatorial Africa, and especially the plans of the Russian Count Leontieff, governor of the equatorial provinces of Abyssinia."
"Menelik himself is setting out at the head of an army, and it is believed the movement marks an expedition against the Anglophile Ras Mangascha, whose province, Tigre, the negus wishes to annex. I also hear that Menelik, entertaining upon the reminiscence of the Italian government, purposes an advance toward the coast."

SHE DID NOT KNOW IT.

BUT, ALAS, MANY OF THOSE ABOUT HER DID.

A Graphic Story Which Shows How Seldom Women Realize Their True Condition.

In a large silk mill where the looms were thrumming, and all was noise and bustle a woman, skilled in manufacturing and dyeing delicate silks was toiling. She looked tired and dejected.
Her cheeks were sunken and there were dark lines beneath her eyes. You could easily detect the peculiar sallow look which comes upon the faces of all women at certain periods. Occasionally her face, which was usually bright and attractive, would be clouded by pain just as the sunlight is sometimes shut off by passing clouds. It was easy to see she was not happy.
And yet she worked, struggling along when she should have been at home, and possibly in bed. Poor little woman! How brave she was in her suffering, and how faithful. And yet, during all that time, she was unconsciously bringing disaster to her employer. Every moment of that day, while she was so bravely struggling the exhalations from her body were ruining the delicate colors of the silk upon which she was working.
Alas, she did not know it! But when the choice silks came upon the market and it was found that the colorings were ruined, an investigation was made and the poor little woman was discharged.
For what?
Simply because the sickness, which comes to every woman at certain times, had, unknown, imperceptibly, colored the summer silks over which she was toiling.
This is a sad story, but it is absolutely true. It happened in Newark, N. J., and furnishes a very valuable lesson. It shows that women, however careful they may be, are often, unknown to themselves, exerting an influence, not only upon the persons, but also upon the things about them, which is by no means agreeable. It is unfortunate that such should be the case, but it is none the less true.
And yet, fortunately, it is a fact, proven beyond the shadow of a doubt, that women of the present day can, by availing themselves of the latest and best discoveries of science, almost wholly overcome the ill-effects of the periodic sickness. It is true there has never been but one discovery for accomplishing this desired end, but that one has proven to be so pure, so scientific, and so efficient, that it is being used almost universally. Here is what Mrs. Randolph Howell, of Washington, says upon this most important subject:
"I have often in the past found it impossible to attend receptions and other social functions, owing to a temporary state of illness, but of late years I have been enabled to entirely banish all painful effects to myself and possible unpleasantness to others by the use of a discovery which I believe, to be a boon to womankind—Warner's Safe Cure. I have been so wonderfully helped by the painless powers of this remedy—which has seemed like a friend in need—that I have urged its use upon nearly all of my lady acquaintances."
Women should not suffer, need not suffer, need not be unpleasant to those about them, if they will only use proper care and the best inventions of science for their help. There is every reason why they should be both healthy and happy; there is no reason why they should be even temporarily indisposed. Modern science and invention have rendered all this needless. Thousands of women have learned this, and can cheerfully testify to the happy condition they have been in since they learned what to do.

Mrs. Willard's Stricken.

Janesville, Wis., Jan. 2.—Frances E. Willard, president of the National W. C. T. U., fainted last night at the close of her lecture on "A White Life for Two," which she delivered in the Congregational church. A physician was summoned, but it was some time before she recovered sufficiently to be removed to the home of a relative. Miss Willard has been ill for several days, but had kept up for this address to the people of Janesville, among whom her girlhood was spent.

Suspected of Matricide.

Philadelphia, Jan. 2.—Mrs. Mary Lamb, of 2214 Cuthbert street, also last night in the Matricide-Chair at hospital from a fractured skull, and her body was buried in the city morgue. Her husband is under arrest on suspicion of having caused her death. The son's name is Malachi Scannell. Saturday night Mrs. Lamb was found lying at the foot of the stairs in her home. She was unconscious, and her body was covered with bruises. The police, it is said, learned that the woman and her son had been quarreling considerably on New Year's eve. Scannell was then arrested.

Mrs. Stark, Pleasant Ridge, O., says,

"After two drops gave up my life to die, I saved him from death by using One Minute Cough Cure." It is the quickest and most certain remedy for coughs, colds, all throat and lung troubles. C. H. Hagenbuch.
