SPECIAL PUBLIC NO. ICE.

Louis Goldin Has Embarked in the Manufacture of Clothing.

The undersigned has established a clothing manufactory at No. 377 Market street, Philadelphia, and is about to engage extensively in both the wholesale and retail clothing business. Owing to this change it has become necessary for me to re-organize my local affairs. With this end in view, I am making arrangements to begin at my store, Nos. 9 and 11 South Main street, on March 3rd, 1893, a strictly One Price system. My store is the leading clothing store in Shenandoah and we are confident that with One Price we can prosper fully as well as we do at present under the cut rate system. I will deposit a check for $200 with a responsible Shenandoah citizen as a forfeit for any charitable institution in case it may be shown that I have deviated from the One Price system after March 3rd, 1893. Every article in the store will be marked with plain figures and at a price so low that people will be ashamed to ask us to reduce it. Every garment in the store will be new when the One Price system goes into effect. They will be of our own manufacture and each piece will be guaranteed by us. Our present stock will be sent to a New York auction house.

A Party.

A party was held last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bock, on West Lloyd street, in honor of Miss Mahle Jones, of Philadelphia, who is a guest of her uncle, Mr. E. C. Brist, of West Oak street. The following were present: Misses Hattie Capper, Mary Beese, Lottie Lambert, Dora Willman, Cora Williams, Lizzie Beese, Mabel Jones, Emma Buck; Messrs. Seth Jones, Alfred and Thomas Millerchop, Geo. Jones, Harry Master, Isaac Griffith, Richard James and Wm. J. Vesle.

Did you see it? The "Lucky Curve" fountain pen. At Hiram's jewelry and music store.

News-writer's Tattersal.

News-writer's sale and exchange stable was the scene of great curiosity this morning, upon the arrival of a carload of horses, twenty in number. Among the lot are several speed horses, while the remainder are general working and driving horses. One which especially draws lovers of horseflesh to its stall is a cream colored horse, with a white mane and tail. It stands 16 hands high, is 5 years old and weighs 1,300 pounds. It has been pronounced by a number of the spectators as being the handsomest equine ever shipped to this region.

Store Closed.

G. B. King & Co., of Chicago, have purchased L. defowich's entire stock. Store will be closed until Saturday morning. Taking inventory stock.

The Trial of the Commissioners Still on at Pottsville.

CONTRACTS UNDER CONSIDERATION

The Defense Continues Its Testimony and the Attendance at the Trial is on the Decrease—The Case Likely to Go Over to Next Week.

Pottsville, Jan. 20.—Yesterday afternoon Mr. Marr said the Controller had made diligent search for Architect Hill's $1,625 bill of May 11, 1893, but it could not be found. The Controller said the last he knew of it he had given it to the Clerk.

Mr. Ulrich said himself, Mr. Connell, Mr. Reber and the Commissioners attended the trial for the past two days. We traveled on passes to Williamsport and that part of the fare was not charged to the county. Mr. Reber acted treasurer during the trial and paid our expenses. All the expenses, at least so far as I am concerned, were for car fare and hotel bills. I know we had to get Pennsylvania railroad passes to the Washington district. The first year I was at the Commissioners office in consultation very many days, to get things in order. We found everything in disorder and had to put it in some decent shape.

Stenographer Patterson was directed to read the bill of Architect Hill from his records. Deputy Controller Payne having read it earlier in the case. Witness Ulrich said he did not present the $2,000 contract for Hill to the Court until after the $1635 bill was paid. It was paid by installments, the last of which was given to Hill on May 11, 1890. The first bill was for five per cent. of $32,500.

On the Washington trip to see Senator Quay about defeating the new county bill, the witness's expenses were $74.40. He estimated his expenses by counting the money in his pockets upon his return and estimating the difference between that and what he had when he left home. They left February 22nd, 1893, and with their stay at Harrisburg on the return trip were absent a month. March 1st, they arrived in Harrisburg. February 25th, and he may have gone home in the meanwhile. The bill of March 6th for $42.53 was incurred into. Congressman Brumm was with him on the Washington trip. The bill incurred far from. He has no copy of the brief presented to Governor Hastings, and looks upon it because of his hurry. He charged for the brief June 18, 1893. His expenses that date were $2.85. He said he was counsel to the Commissioners, and not the solicitor, because, technically speaking, there is no such office.

When Architect Hill submitted his bill of May 11, Mr. Ulrich required him to furnish his "studies." He said the bill before the court was not the one he made out. He asked for the bill with his bill attached but it was not forthcoming. He did not file the financial statement in the Clerk of the Courts' office. Clerk Duffy's endorsement showed it was filed June 7, 1897.

Mr. Marr here objected to more than one lawyer examining Mr. Ulrich, and Mr. Schick remarked they were merely following the example of the defense's lawyers, which led John W. Ryan to say, "That's the trouble with your side; you always follow bad example." This sally produced laughter. Mr. Ulrich instructed that but one lawyer examine the witness at a time. Mr. Ulrich himself said it did not matter to him. The defense offered the advertisements for Almhouse improvements in evidence and Mr. Ryan read one of them.

SHORTALL ON THE STAND.

A. J. Shortall, who has been a lieutenant of Mr. Sheaffer, the prosecutor, in obtaining evidence, was called.

In answer to Mr. Marr he said he was Clerk of the Courts three years, County Commissioners six years, County Jail three years, and was appointed with the duties of those offices. The certificate for the Independent School District of North Mahanow township report of Commissioners was issued from his office when he was Clerk of the Courts. Judge Bechtel appointed the viewers, Mr. Whalen filed the petition, and Judge Bechtel directed to remark on the view and the viewers were not questioned by the 23rd court, but the right of the Commissioner to pay them was.

PAINTING CONTRACT.

Wm. A. Helms was called. He said: Have been a painter for 35 years; himself and John E. Woll, had the contract for painting the court house; Woll, now deceased, had about 25 years experience, 14 of which he worked in Chicago, Mr. Woll supplied the ropes, ladders, brushes, etc.; they charged but 25 per cent commission for their use, although the usual charge by painters is 50 per cent. We kept our time and handed the daily slip to Mr. Connell.

We found the cement pointing between the window and door frames had worked out and I told Mr. Woll that it would take a couple tons of patty to fix it up, and that it would be cheaper to cement it. By the Commissioners' direction I employed Chas. Hay and son and Mr. Stork to do the cementing. If the cement had not been put in it would have been impossible to heat the building. Mr. Woll had four jacks specially made at a cost of $5 apiece, which Mr. Faust said later he would not give 30 cents for because they cannot be used on any other building. We found some joints so rotten you could stick a lead pencil through them and some of the window sills are rotten as punk now; notably one in the Commissioners' office. The roof was also in bad repair. We cut brass angles on every large window to keep it from springing; bolts in every window for packing.

The witness then read a bill dated August 5th, 1890. Carpenters got $2.50 per day and painters $1.

Wm. A. Helms was recalled this morning. Witness said he had no paint shop of his own and got permission of the Commissioners to use the basement of the court house to keep his paint and other materials while performing the contract. He pointed letters upon the famous Tumbling Run balloon in the basement. During the previous autumn he had suggested to the Commissioners that the court house ought to be painted. He spoke to Mr. Helms, he said they should have it done right or not at all. Mr. Martin suggested that he have a partner and he talked again with both Reber and Martin. Paint at 51

MINERS' CONVENTION

Differences Between Ohio and Pennsylvania Employers Continue.

PROPOSED REDUCTION OF HOURS.

The Operators of All States Are Willing to Grant a Nine Hour Day—Probability That the State Committee Will Be Unable to Agree.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—The night sessions were held by the Interstate Miners' Association at the Metropolitan hotel, yesterday, and a formal announcement was made pending the close of the convention's report. From a public point of view, everything in and about the convention appeared calm, but in the secret of the scale committee chamber the old war between operators of the Ohio and Pennsylvania fields was being waged.

Early in the session of the committee to agree upon a uniform scale, the operators thoroughly got over. Representatives of the workers favored an eight hour day, but their principal contention was for a uniform day, in place of the varying hours now established in the different states. The operators were willing to meet them half way, and it is believed a uniform working day of nine hours will be recommended to the convention.

The knotty problem of state differentials was then taken up. This brought Ohio and Pennsylvania operators together with a crash. In order to agree upon a uniform scale, the committee took a recess until evening. The Ohio and Pennsylvania operators then went into session by themselves. The issue between these two states is of years standing. Ohio operators have hitherto succeeded in securing a rate of five to ten cents per ton below that of Pennsylvania, while it is claimed by the Pennsylvania people that Ohio operators obtain 25 to 30 cents more per ton for their output. The fight to remove the difference on one side and to retain on the other is therefore a bitter one.

It is probable that the scale committee will be unable to agree on all matters before them and will make their troubles known to the full convention, asking for further instruction.

ITALY'S BREAD RIOTS.

Renewed Disorders in Various Parts of the Kingdom.
Rome, Jan. 20.—There were renewed disorders yesterday in the poor quarter of Ancona capital of the province of that name. The rioters were inhibited by anarchists and socialists. A number of men and women attempted to barricade the streets, but the police cleared the thoroughfares and made several arrests. Troops are scouring the country, arresting suspicious bands of rangers. The agitation against the price of bread is spreading to other parts. Another riot broke out in the town hall at Sinigaglia, 15 miles north-east of Ancona, and demanded relief. The mayor gave a conciliatory reply, but the mob, which consisted chiefly of women, invaded the railway station and the warehouse of 21,000 bushels of wheat. They seized a quantity of grain. The troops finally restored order. There has been another slight disturbance at Macerata, about 20 miles south of Ancona.

Bad for Bronchitis

but extremely good for the sufferer from that harassing disease is Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. No medicine can compare with this great remedy in the prompt and permanent aid it gives in all bronchial affections. It stops the cough, soothes the irritated throat, and induces refreshing sleep.

"I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary remedies, but recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One bottle cured me."
J. C. WOODSON, F. M., Forest Hill, W. Va.

"A short time ago I was taken with a severe attack of bronchitis, and neither physician nor ordinary remedies gave me relief. In despair of finding anything to cure me, I bought a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle entirely cured me."
GEO. B. HUNTER, Altoona, Pa.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

now put up in half-size bottles at half price—50 cents.

Licensee Matters.
From Pottsville Chronicle.

Chas. A. Snyder, Esq., yesterday filed exceptions to the application of C. C. Burrehill, proprietor of the Mahanoy Hotel at Mahanoy City, James A. Rinck, Esq., of Philadelphia, and whom it is supposed represents Senator Coyle, on Monday last, through John F. Dolphin, withdrew exceptions he had filed to Burrehill's license.

Editor T. J. Joyce, of Mahanoy City, was in consultation with Mr. Snyder at the court house yesterday. Senator Coyle was also at the temple of justice, and it was rumored that a plan was being arranged between his friends and those of Joyce regarding exceptions to certain licenses. No exceptions have been withdrawn, and the report may have been a myth.
