Trial at Wilkesbarre.

THE STORY OF A LADY TEACHER

Says She Rebuked the Deputies After the Fatal Volley-Evidence of Premeditation Ruled Out.

Wilkesburre, Pa., Feb. 5.-The witand his deputies are brought into cour only as they are required to testify, the others being kept in an upstairs room wounds, missing legs and arms, etc. Charles Guscott, the school teacher finished his testimony yesterday, and pointed out several of the deputies as and after the massacre. Some of the white and colored blankets, and a deputies endeavored to avoid recogn tion, but were required to come for Dr. H. M. Kellar, who attended many of the wounded sirkers and viewed the 25 PC remains of the doud, testified that price. many of the strikers were shot in the back, thus bearing out the allegations of the commonwealth that the deputies fired when the men were running away. Forty-six wounds on 39 men were inflicted by a Winchester bullet, and only a small number were caused by buckshot. The classification was as follows: Shot directly in front, 5; indirectly in front, 9; directly in the side, 15; indirectly in the side, 6; directly in the rear, 3; indirectly in the rear, Of the 39 patients seven died in the hospital, two are still there and slewly recovering, and 30 have been dis-throat. Spectacles and eye-glasses adjusted, charged, all of them cured except one, artificial eyes inserted and operations upon who is now in a Philadelphia hospital. Of two who were wounded the bullet had entered just above the heel and lodged near the kneecap. Only a man running at full speed could be shot in that manner Rev. S. E. Stafflett, pastor of the Emanuel Reformed church, of Hazleton, told about going on the electric car from Milnesville to Lattimer, and passing the marching strikers en route They were marching four or five abreast, were quiet and orderly, and the only demonstration they made was to cheer the car as it bassed. The witness said he saw them carrying no weapons. Returning on the same car from Lattinier, he again passed the strikers just as they were approaching the sheriff. As the car neared the end of the column he saw the strikers there running, heard a cheer, and immediately afterward the shooting.

Miss Grace Coyle, the young girl who is Principal Guscott's assistant at the Lattimer school, proved to be the most important witness of the day. She was very brief in all her answers, and exceedingly nervous at first. She said she was standing on the porch of the schoolhouse and saw the deputies line up along the roadside. sheriff stopped them, and some of the see any of them attack him. Some of them cried, "Go ahead," and a few strikers pushed past the sheriff. At that a shot was fired; then another, and in an instant a crashing

"I saw men fall," said Miss Coyle "Some of them ran toward the school-house, and when they had got half way they fell. I do not know whether they were shot just before they fell of if they were wounded by the volley and ran so far before their strength falled. The shooting continued for about two minutes, and after the first volley it was scattered.

"I helped many of the wounded strikers who fell near the schoolhouse. I bandaged the wounds of some of those who were shot through the arm or leg and we carried two men into the school house, gave them water to drink and tried to make them comfortable. There was blood all over the schoolhouse "I helped about 12 or 15 of the wounded, and did not see any weapons on any of them. While I was helping them a deputy named Hess laughed at me as he walked about smoking a cigar. I said, 'You ought to go to Cuba.' Deputy Clark laughed, and I said to him. "Do you think you've done a giorious deed today?" I called two more of them

Miss Coyle made a good witness for the commonwealth in her recini of all this, but in the cross examination she also made a good witness for the de-fense. The defense will try to prove that the people of Lattimer were very much afraid of the strikers, and became much slarmed when they heard they were coming. Miss Coyle said on this point just what the defense desired to get at. She said: "Shortly before t o'clock Miss Cora Heinbach came to the school and said. The strikers are coming, and I want my little sister to go home with me.' I excused the little girl, and then thought it best to dismiss the class, so they could get home before the strikers came."

Dr. John J. Corrigan, of Hasieton testified to the fact that he dressed the wounds of some of the strikers as they were being taken to Hazleton in a tro-ley car. Several deputies were in the car, but said nothing to him about the affair. Then the commonwealth called Stephen T. Adams, a traveling man, by whom it hoped to prove that some of the deputies while journeying to the scene of the shooting made threats that they would kill some of the strikers. The witness said he could not identify any of the deputies on the car. As he was proceeding to tell his story the defense objected on the ground that he could not identify any of the deputies and it was not proper evidence for him to state what was said. There was a long argument, and the court finally sustained the objection not be heard. Court then adjourned until today. The trial is expected to take four weeks at least, as there are about 150 withomes to be heard by the commonwealth and nearly 200 for the defense.
