DE LOMES SUCCESSOR.

Senor Louis Polo Bernabe Selected For the Position.

THE SON OF A FORMER MINISTER.

Our Government Will Make No Demand on Spain For Apologies or Retractions of the Disagreeable Things Said by the Late Spanish Minister.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Official news from Madrid, received late last night, says: "The cabinet met at 5 o'clock this evening and discussed the present state of the war in Cuba and the De Lome matter at great length. It was decided to publish a decree accepting the resignation of Senor Dupuy De Lome as minister at Washington and appointing Senor Louis Polo Bernabe as his successor. Senor Gullon, the minister of foreign affairs, informed the cabinet that United States Minister Woodford had just handed him a note referring to Senor De Lome's letter and to the meaning of several paragraphs in it."

Senor Louis Polo Bernabe, whose ap-pointment as the successor of Senor De Lome was foreshadowed last Saturday in these dispatches, is a son of Vice Admiral Polo, who formerly represented Spain in this country. Senor Bernabe is now engaged in a special department of the foreign ministry at Madrid dealing with commercial matters and consulates. Actuated by a sense of honor and a strict idea of justice, the state depart-ment has taken steps to place in the hands of Senor Canalejas, to whom the letter was addressed, the epistle writ-ten by Senor Dupuy De Lome which led to the resignation of the minister. The transaction is explained in the following brief statement given out last night by the state department:

"Recognizing that the legal owner-ship of the De Lome letter is in Mr. Canalejas, and his agent and attorney, Mr. Carilsle, having presented proper authority to receive the same, the letter was delivered to him today."

As explained in this statement, Mr. Carlisle was fully authorized to apply for and receive the letter, having the cabled authorization from Senor Canale-jas. In the view of the state department the letter was a stolen document, and in that, like any other piece of property, it should upon application be delivered to the rightful owner. There was no other course left open, for in the United States, as in all other countries having a code of laws, a letter becomes the sole property of the person to whom it is addressed immediately it starts on its way from the sender.

This letter has besides already com-pletely served all of the uses for which it might have been applied by our government, and there are in existence fac simile copies of the paper that are so surely authenticated as to leave no legal doubt of their accuracy.

There now remains only the closing chapter of the incident to be written, for the end is already in sight. Notwithstanding all that has been said in the press about demands on Spain for apologies or retractions of the disagreeable things said by Senor De Lome in his letter, it can be positively stated that at no time since the publication of the letter has the state department taken any such course. Instead it has relied entirely upon the sense of propriety of the Spanish government to do all that was proper and needful to wipe out the unpleasant impression produced by these statements, and it can now be said that this course has been fully justified, and that the Span-ish cabinet, not being aware of the full text of the letter, is expected within a day or two to make such disclaimer of the letter as is required by the circumstances.

Bine Cut Train Robbery, Topeka, Kan., Feb. 15.—The mysterious Blue Cut train robbery in 1895 near Kansas City, and the attempted rob-bery of the bank of Elmdale, may both solved by the death of Carter Roe, who died in Bedwell's asylum, east of Topeka. Carter, who for nearly three years was an inmate of Bedwell's, died on Jan. 23. A week before his death he became apparently rational. One day he called Mr. Bedwell, the superintendent, and confessed to having participated in the Elmdale (Kan.) bank rob-bery April 29, 1895, and a little later in a train robbery which ex-Sheriff Wil-kerson believes was the Biue Cut robbery, near Kansas City. He told Su-perintendent Bedwell where $1,300, his share of the train robbery, was buried in a box near Garfield park, North Topeka. He also made a confidant of Ralph Eirick, who attended him at the asylum, and expressed a wish that he get the money for kindness shown him. Since then Mr. Bedwell and others have

M. Laborie, counsel for M. Zola. thereupon protested, and twitted M. Bertillon with being unwilling to testify in court, while giving interviews to

M. Eertillon said the interviews were false. Being pressed by M. Laberie to explain how, unless he had seen the secret documents, he was able to prove at the court martial that Dreyfus wrote the bordereau, M. Bertillon answered that he could not explain without documents which were no longer in his pos-session. This statement caused a sensation in court, and M. Laborie de-manded that the advocate general compel the witness to reply. To this request the advocate general made no

Finally M. Bertillon, who persisted in not answering questions, left the wit-ness stand amidst considerable uproar, M. Laborie remarking: "And this is the man upon whose evidence Dreyfus was convicted." M. Bertillon gave his absured evidence, while displaying a fan-tastic diagram, amid continuous shricks of laughter.

M. Yves Guyot, the former minister of public works, testified that the Esterhazy court martial was a "parody on justice." The further statement of M. Guyot that the inner circles of foreign governments were fully cognizant of all that occurred at the Esterhary court martial caused a sensation. Later M. Guyot expressed the opinion that the government commissioner who prosecuted Major Esterhazy was far more like counsel for the defense than the prosecutor. M. Teyesconnieres, another handwriting expert, testified to identifying the handwriting of the bordereau as that of Dreyfus. He added that the fac simile had been blurred, so as to make it reremble Esterhazy's. Later the witness created a censation by tea-tifying that friends of Dreyius had approached him, and had hinted that it might be worth 100,000 to 200,000 francs if he moderated his views favorably to Dreyfus. M. Teyessonnieres, who testified in a diffuse and random fashion, introduced the name of Crepieux Janin, the handwriting expert, when he insin-uated that the friends of Dreyfus were ready to bribe the experts, but under severe cross examination he admitted that the only foundation for the insinuation was his personal impression, and that no bribe had ever actually been offered to him. M. Trarieux, former minister of justice, threw such suspicion upon all the evidence given by M. Teyessonnieres that the latter left Dupuy Hubbard deposed that the cousin, M. Bertillon, had always affirmed to him that Dreyfus was the culprit; that he had not seen the handwriting of Comte Esterhazy, who was a man of straw put forward by the Jews, and that a revision of the Dreyfus tion.

The testimony of M. Trarieux and the cross examination of M.
