NEWS FROM POTTSVILLE.

Lawyers on the Witness Stand in Commissioner Meyers' Case.

Special to EVENING HERALD.
Pottsville, March 10.—The fifth day of Commissioner Charles Meyers' trial was marked by a very slim attendance. John V. McFurt, Esq., son of Contractor Daniel McFurt and the latter's confidential clerk and legal adviser, was put through a severe examination as to the extras, the charges for which he admitted on the stand. Nothing of importance was brought out.

Architect Hill's testimony developed the fact that in spite of the absence of his approval of many items of the contracts their payment was ordered by the Commissioner, including the defendant. He had condemned the boiler house state roofing, involving $32,76 and this item was paid. Some of the bills were paid for twice owing to some judgment or mistake in the bill of extras, which he had not approved. The Judge asked the witness a pointed question in reference to these lights. The extras on the lights amounted to $315. He claimed there were not more than six or six and one-half lights, and not 919, the number claimed by the prosecution. Expert Meyers, of Philadelphia, disallowed $2,000 on the different items of McFurt's check, but the Commissioner deducted therefrom the actual cost of the defective work, reducing the amount to $1,532.10. They then allowed $615.75 on extras. Among these items were a narrow staircase in the hospital worth six cents each, when the specifications called for $1.50 each. The hinges put in cost $1.25, instead of $2.00. The patent lock omitted was worth four cents. Thomas W. Haselmann, Manager of the Edison Electric Light Company, said a fair price for the extra lights charged for at the rate of $1.50 for the Klionsone contractor would be from $2 to $2.50 for concealed work and about $1.50 for open work.

William Wilhelm, Esq., testified that John P. Martin, then candidate for prison warden, and now County Commissioner, had in January, 1892, been appointed by County Commissioners Bowen and Reed. The court refused to permit the witness to testify that he had been appointed by the County Commissioners. He testified that he had been employed by Martin for some time, and that he had been employed by County Commissioners Bowen and Reed. He testified that he had been employed by County Commissioners Bowen and Reed. He testified that he had been employed by County Commissioners Bowen and Reed. He testified that he had been employed by County Commissioners Bowen and Reed.

George J. Wadlinger, Esquire, had been added to the list of counsel. Commissioners Bowen and Reed had employed the witness, Mr. Wilhelm, admitted that he had borrowed and received from Martin $50 or $60 on account of the interest on the mortgage of the house owned by Martin. As soon as he had been reimbursed by County Commissioners Bowen and Reed in January, 1892, he returned the money to Martin. He testified that he had borrowed $100 from the county on his personal bill in January and last year also drew $125 for services John W. Ryan had rendered. It had taken him some time to induce Commissioners Bowen and Martin to pay the bill. He didn't bother with Meyers because he thought it was none of his business. Meyers, however, had signed the order. Mr. Schalek was somewhat stirred by this answer and asked several pointed questions. The resolution from the minutes dated March 29, 1892, was offered. It stated that the Commissioner had decided to continue the employment of Messrs. Ryan and Wilhelm as counsel in the Martin confirmation proceedings, but no record of the original employment could be found, or produced. Mr. Wilhelm said he didn't think there was any such minute in existence and that for that reason the resolution of March 29, 1892, was intended to be retroactive. Mr. Wilhelm said Martin wanted to withdraw from the fight for Warden and they had quite a time to stir up his back-bone. He, Wilhelm, had threatened the Commissioners with suit if they didn't pay his bill. Mr. Whalen: And you got the money out of the county to stir up his back-bone.

Hon. John W. Ryan was sworn and said in answer to Mr. Schalek, that he had been employed by John P. Martin in the confirmation proceedings and that Martin paid him $125 early in 1892 in full for his fees. He said the order on the bill paid by the county in January, 1892, assigning $125 to Mr. Wilhelm was in his handwriting. Mr. Wilhelm had told him the County Commissioners had decided to repay Mr. Martin the $125 Mr. Martin had paid him and he and they Wilhelm and Ryan had drawn the money and paid it to whomever it belonged. That was all he knew about it. It was none of his business if Mr. Wilhelm got the money and handed it over to the person it belonged to. He heard nothing further of the subject until he read about it in the newspapers.

Cross-examination by Mr. Wadlinger brought out the fact the proceedings went so far that Mr. Ryan had notified Judge Pershing that he would apply to the Supreme Court for a mandamus to compel this court to do their duty and confirm the nomination of Mr. Martin for Warden. A week later, and before an appeal was taken, Martin's appointment was confirmed.

James F. Mitone, Esq., testified that he was County Solicitor in 1892 and that he did not know of the employment by the County Commissioners of any other lawyer than himself in the Martin confirmation case. He was not cross-examined.

Samuel Cressola, Pottsville electrician, swore that $2 would be a good price for the extra lights that cost $4.90 each at the alms-house.

Evans Johnson, another Pottsville electrician, also said $2 was a reasonable figure.

Deputy Prothonotary Will Leib testified that there was no record of any quo warranto proceedings during 1892 for which lawyers' fees were paid to the amount of $300 in 1897. The defendant, Commissioner Meyers, according to the testimony already in, signed the treasurer's order for the payment of this bill. Mr. Schalek also had Mr. Leib show from the records that the bill in equity of the Taxpayers' Association against the Commissioners was filed on June 1, 1897, at least one day before the Commissioners took action on the alms-house extras and decided to investigate them.

Joseph N. Meyer, plumber of Schuylkill Haven, swore that the price paid for fire plugs was excessive. He was severely cross-examined by Mr. Wadlinger.

Chief Clerk Reher was on the stand this morning testifying about the different financial affairs.

MRS. REHLEY SENTENCED.
Ellen Rehley, of Cressona, recently convicted of voluntary manslaughter in causing the death of her husband, John, by striking him on the head with a brick, was sentenced by Judge Savidge this morning to pay $1 fine, costs and 1 year's imprisonment.

FIGHT OVER A DOG.
Judge Koch had a case before him last evening which resembled somewhat the celebrated dispute between the two mothers, when the wise King spoken of in the Bible settled by proposing to cut the infant in twain. Mrs. Emma Blew, a young woman residing in Mahanoy City, was charged with the larceny of a $5 dog, on oath of Alu Tallow.

"Fido" figured prominently in the proceedings and the contending parties tried to show to the court and jury, which of the two it preferred. In order to establish a good case a young man in the audience testifying called the dog to prove its affection. "Fido" answered promptly and obeyed every command. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty, and costs on the county.

THE TAYLORSVILLE BURGLARY.
A suit that received much attention was that of C. M. Billman, of Taylorsville, charging T. M. Harmon, a big, slouching blacksmith living a quarter of a mile away from Billman's, with being one of five men who entered the prosecutor's house, knocked him down, bound and gagged him. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty. Sentence was suspended to allow the defendant to produce evidence to show there was a conspiracy against the defendant to drive him out of the neighborhood.

THE ARSON CASES.
Capt. W. E. Jones, prosecutor in the Mahanoy City arson cases, said the trial would be called later this afternoon. This is the case in which young men are charged with setting fire to the Hosier Mill and the Record office in that town.

CRIMINAL COURT.
Judge Savidge, of Sunbury, is assisting Judge Koch in disposing of petty criminal cases this week. The following cases were passed upon:

Mike Gafa, defrauding boarding house-keeper, oath of Mary Sperio, not guilty, each had the costs.

T. M. Harmon, burglary, oath of C. M. Billman, also assault and battery.

Elizabeth Barrer, of Lost Creek, was found not guilty of a robbery, preferred by Anthony McLaughlin. The court, however, directed him to pay the costs.

MINOR NOTES.
Minersville has not yet fully recovered from its first Blue Day, Sunday which the Chief Magistrate enforced Sunday.

A capias was asked for Eugene Magee, a defaulter who failed to appear.

Letters of administration were granted to Michael Beadle on the estate of Elizabeth J. Cooper, late of St. Clair, deceased.

Court officials get a good deal of quiet amusement out of the efforts of jurymen and others, who have never been at the court house before, to find their way out of the second floor on which the court rooms are located. One jurymen at the November term of court spent an hour and fifteen minutes wandering about before he took any person to his confidence and admitted that he was lost.

J. H. Filbert asked an examiner in the divorce case of Waudlaas vs. Waudlaas.

S. B. Edwards had Thursday fixed for the hearing by Commissioners to determine the sanity of Frank Klitchnick, an inmate of the county home, over whose committee he desired to take charge of $300 Klitchnick had in bank. Gordon Reed, Steward, is the petitioner, and the county has an $80 bond bill against Klitchnick, who is said to have no relatives in this country.

Justice Conrad decided the ordinance of the Borough Council in effecting a 25% increase on treating merchants constitutional and W. J. Whitehouse will appeal the case to the court of Common Pleas. Mr. Whitehouse also contended that only the court named and not the Justice had jurisdiction in the matter.

HOW TO REMAIN YOUNG.

Feed the Hard-Working Organs of Your Body With Just What They Require.

Here are some important truths expressed by a well-known professor of a New York Medical College.

"All Nature ever needs, or ever asks-for, is a little help. She becomes over-worked—is it any wonder she needs help?"

"The heart beats night and day and never stops. The lungs are always working away like a pair of bellows. The stomach is constantly occupied by the play of digestive liver. You cannot give them a vacation, but you can help them immensely. These great organs—the kidneys and liver—are willing to work, but they need food and you can give it to them."

"You can easily feed these organs, and you will be surprised how much better you will feel if you do. There is a discovery which is an actual food for the kidneys. It is known to scientists and the world as Warner's Safe Cure. By all means try it. A little of this remarkable medicine taken three times a day will produce a most happy effect. Instead of being tired, fagged out, despondent and with little ambition, you will grow bright and happy. Women, especially, need a good friend of this kind, and I know of scores of ladies who would not think of being without this grand remedy to help them when they specially need it."

victed of voluntary manslaughter in causing the death of her husband, John, by striking him on the head with a brick, and the latter a drunken quarrel, was sentenced by Judge Savidge this morning to pay $1 fine, costs and 1 year's imprisonment.

$500 FINE AND JAIL.
William Willingham, was found guilty of selling liquor on Sunday and to minors, and also for selling liquor without a license, on oath of Maggie Barrowsparrow. He was fined $500, and sentenced to serve three months for selling without a license. Sentence as to the other charges was suspended. The parties reside in West Mahanoy township. These were cross-suits.

THE MAINE REPORT.
Representative Dimbley, of Maine, introduced in the house yesterday a joint resolution providing for the temporary admission free of duty of naval supplies procured abroad. The bill will be reported immediately by the ways and means committee, to which it was referred. It was introduced at the request of the administration.

The special board on auxiliary cruisers is kept busy. The list of vessels available, including steamships, yachts, tugs and other craft, which is now in the hands of the navy department, includes nearly 1,000. The great majority of the vessels are at New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore, where they will be inspected and the list attached down to those worth considering. As far as the facts in regard to the vessels are filed consideration will be given to the work of arranging them in the best and most speedy manner for effective use. The members of the board remaining in the city are giving especial attention to steam yachts and sea-going tug boats. Only those with hulls of iron or steel will be considered, as wooden hulls are not deemed desirable. The board decided not to detain the St. Louis, and she sailed for Europe this morning.
