SUNDAY CONCLAVE.

President McKinley Fails to Attend Church Services.

MAINE INVESTIGATORS' REPORT!

It May Reach the President at Any Hour Now, and Will Soon be Given to the Public After He Has Given It Due Consideration.

Washington, March 21.—President McKinley did not attend church yesterday, as is his custom, but instead spent two hours and more in conference with several members of the cabinet. Assistant Secretary Day called about 10:30 o'clock and remained until nearly 1. Secretary Long and Secretary Bliss were the other members present.

The presence of Mr. Flint at the conference naturally gives the inference that the president and his advisers were discussing the question of acquiring additional ships. Mr. Flint, whose commercial interests are largely with South American countries, is believed, in a measure at least, to represent Chile and the Argentine Republic in any negotiations which are under way for the disposition of their war vessels.

The attention of Mr. Flint was called to the published report that the United States would purchase the Brazilian torpedo gunboat Tupy, but this, he said would not be done, so far as he was aware, as there were no negotiations under way to that effect.

The members of the cabinet on leaving the White House said that there was no special significance in the meeting. The report of the Maine court of inquiry, they said, had not been received, nor was it definitely known when it would reach here.

Aside from the meeting of several members of the cabinet at the White House there were no incidents of importance during the day. Judge Day, Assistant Secretary Ade, Chief Clerk Michael and other officials were at the department, but this has been quite common during the recent month.

The most interesting topic of the day was based on the dispatches from Havana, indicating a prospective conference between General Pando and Generals Garcia, Gomez and others of the insurgent army for the purpose of admitting to the latter a formal offer of autonomy. The basis of autonomy as outlined in the dispatches apparently found no credence with the officials of the Spanish legation.

AN INTERNAL EXPLOSION.

So Says Captain Wiley, of the Merritt Wrecking Company.

Newport News, Va., March 21.—The Merritt Wrecking tug Underwriter arrived in this port Saturday at midnight from Havana, where she went with the derrick Chief, which is assisting in the work on the Maine. Captain Wiley will again start to Havana, probably tonight, with the barge Lone Star, which is very much needed by the wreckers. Captain Wiley believes that the Maine was destroyed through the agency of an internal explosion. In an interview Captain Wiley said:

"You ask me what I know about the cause of the disaster. I reply that I know nothing, and when you get down to actual facts I do not believe there is anybody who knows just how the unfortunate affair happened. Without having had opportunity to examine the wreck below water, I would say that the Maine was blown up by an internal explosion. There is one deck above water, which is completely turned over by the explosion. The deck is bottom side up, with the deck frame on top. That looks to me as if the destructive force came from within. If a mine did the work and played so much havoc with the upper deck, where must the bottom be? Can she have any? Yet they say they have found some of the bottom intact. My opinion is that if the affair had occurred in an English harbor there would not be one man in a hundred who would say external cause after looking at the wreck as it is today. I heard that the Spanish divers found a piece of the bottom intact. I do not believe a mine in the harbor would have broken the turret, while an internal explosion would."

Witnesses Ray the Shooting Was Done With Expressed Premeditation and the Victim Received No Warning. The Murderer Followed an Earlier Quarrel—Sadusky's Record Bad.

The town was almost turned upside down Saturday night by one of the most cold blooded murders ever perpetrated in the borough. The case was one of deliberate plotting a revolver against the head of a man and sending him into eternity with the same indifference as the butcher dispatches cattle.

The victim was Charles Ringbeiser, a young man who lived with his widowed mother on South Bowers street. Ringbeiser had the reputation of being industrious and respectable. He was 20 years of age.

The murderer was Charles, alias "Red," Sadusky, a youth who was 20 years old last January, and having a black record. His parents are respectable and industrious people. His father resorted to extremes to reform him, without avail.

KILLED IN COLD BLOOD

Young Charles Sadusky Deliberately Murders a Companion.

HE ESCAPED AND IS AT LARGE!

Witnesses Ray the Shooting Was Done With Expressed Premeditation and the Victim Received No Warning. The Murderer Followed an Earlier Quarrel—Sadusky's Record Bad.

The town was almost turned upside down Saturday night by one of the most cold blooded murders ever perpetrated in the borough. The case was one of deliberate plotting a revolver against the head of a man and sending him into eternity with the same indifference as the butcher dispatches cattle.

The murderer was Charles, alias "Red," Sadusky, a youth who was 20 years old last January, and having a black record. His parents are respectable and industrious people. His father resorted to extremes to reform him, without avail.

The facts gleaned show that the murder was as deliberate as can be imagined. Sadusky walked up to his victim and deliberately shot him in the head. The victim dropped motionless and died about twenty minutes later at his home.

The shooting took place in the swamp at the foot of Bowers street. Immediately after the shot Ringbeiser, the victim, sank to the ground and rolled over upon his side. He remained motionless until people attracted to the scene carried him to his home, where he expired 20 minutes after the shooting.

Although the murderer made good his escape the authorities did not give up hope of early capture. Constable Matt. Gilson was one of the first officers to act. He hurried to the telephone office and messages were sent to all parts of the region, describing the fugitive and asking for his arrest and detention.

William Ringbeiser, a brother of the victim, walked into the kitchen of the homestead where the body lay and looked upon the cold, still countenance. He was in a condition of suppressed grief and when he entered and said nothing, but a moment after gazing over the remains, and apparently satisfying himself that death was a positive fact, the viewing brother suddenly shouted, "I'll kill him! He killed my brother and I must kill him!"

The united efforts of several strong men failed to prevent the grief-stricken brother, who is a tall, muscular man, from leaving the house, and he made his way out determined on deadly vengeance. He followed the corpse taken by the fugitive, but returned about an hour later, lamenting his failure. He eagerly inquired for clues and spent most of the night hunting in every direction rumor directed him.

The evidence at hand shows conclusively that the murder was not only deliberate, but premeditated and the perpetrator does not seem to have a shadow upon which to plead for earthly mercy. There are a number of witnesses to the crime. The most important appear to be Martin Dowling, of East Oak street, and Edward Gilder, of South Bowers street. Both are young, the latter being 17 years old. They were companions of both the principals in the terrible affair.

Dowling was with Ringbeiser when the latter was shot. His evidence is, briefly, that Sadusky deliberately walked up to the victim and shot him, without provocation, or warning.

Edward Gilder tells a direct story and shows conclusively that Sadusky held a grievance against the victim, and not only shot him deliberately, but committed the crime with a revolver stolen from the culprit's own father but a short time before the shooting occurred.

Edward Gilder is a native of this town, born of Polish parentage. He is 17 years old on the 18th of this month. He is a good looking young man of the come-day-go-day order, but keeps himself neatly attired. He admits that he frequents saloons, and takes beer in the bushes, but is emphatic in his declarations that he tries to avoid trouble. He admits that he knew Sadusky intended to make trouble, and with the same frankness (Continued on Fourth Page.)
