Will Congressman Brann kindly locate that immigration bill that he promised many of his constituents would receive attention at his hands? But, then, the Minersville statesman wants to return to Washington at the expiration of his present term.

The national legislative body, the Congress of the United States, at all times rests under great responsibility. It alone has the power in such a crisis as the present to maintain peace or to declare war. It is supposed to represent the people, but unfortunately this is not always the case. Many things are said and done which are foreign to public sentiment, and any rash or unwise action with regard to the Cuban question will be without the sanction of the nation. The whole country has stood behind the national administration in its efforts to maintain the national honor and dignity, and do nothing and permit nothing to be done which would in any wise result disadvantageously or discreditably. The President's purpose has been to throw the influence of our government in every way possible in favor of peace in Cuba and the independence of its long struggling people. Trust the President.

Proper use of Wealth. William E. Cochran, a wealthy citizen and an extensive employer of labor, living at Yorkers, N. Y., has recently built a capacious and splendidly appointed club house for workmen of that town. The building cost $150,000, and $100,000 more was given to purchase books, which will form the nucleus of a library for the use of the members. The appointments of the institution are complete. In addition to the library there are an attractive reading room, a lunch room, a smoking room, a gymnasium, bathrooms, bowling alleys, billiard rooms, bicycling tracks, and an auditorium which will seat five hundred persons. The privileges of the club are extended to every workman of good reputation and character in the community. If all rich men were equally mindful of the comfort and pleasure of their employes and for workmen generally the conflict between labor and capital would soon cease. An institution of the character above described is not only an earnest of the kind feeling which this rich man has for men who work for their living, and is not only a place of delightful recreation for those who are eligible to membership, but it is an institution that must necessarily exert a wholesome moral influence over the entire community.

It will be observed that only men of good character are eligible to membership, and this of itself ought to be a stimulus to every man to behave himself like a gentleman, not only that he may enjoy the privileges of the club, but that he may avoid the stigma that necessarily attaches itself to those whose moral habits are such as to debar them from membership. Wealth has its responsibilities as well as its privileges. A man may not with impunity do whatsoever he will with his own. He is responsible to a Higher Power for the manner in which he discharges his great trust, and he must employ his money in such a way as shall best promote morality and subserve the interests of the community in which he lives. If all rich men would take that view, their riches would be a blessing to themselves as well as their fellow-men, and the prejudice against the rich would soon fade away.

When a rich man uses his wealth to gratify his own appetites and pleasures, and wields the power which is his, he is not only a selfish and avaricious man, but he is also a danger to the community. He is a danger to the community because he is a danger to the moral character of the community. He is a danger to the community because he is a danger to the moral character of the community.

SPAIN'S CABINET CONFERENCE. Awaited on All Sides With the Greatest Anxiety and Hope. Madrid, March 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—The actual position of affairs is regarded as critical by both the United States legation and the Spanish government.

The United States minister, General Stewart L. Woodford, is working energetically and will continue to work energetically for peace until the first gun is fired. It is known the Spanish government admits the desirability, or necessity, of coming to the aid of the United States, and it is only in the disinclination of the ministers to put this willingness into concrete form that the danger lies. If a conference were to be held with British, German or French diplomats the matter would be settled without question.

To Purchase the Yacht Josephine. Philadelphia, March 31.—Negotiations are pending between the government and P. A. B. Widener, of this city, for the purchase of the latter's ocean going steam yacht Josephine. The final disposition of the vessel was made yesterday, and an offer of $1,250,000 is said to have been made, while the price fixed by Mr. Widener is $24,000. It is stated on good authority that the matter will be definitely settled today and the government will probably get the yacht is now at Wilmington, Del.

McKinley and Hanna Burned in Effigy. Richmond, Va., March 31.—President McKinley and Senator Mark Hanna were burned and burned in effigy last night by a crowd of men who assembled on the outskirts of the city. William Hattess, a well known Democratic politician, in a speech denouncing the Cuban policy of the administration. The speech was cheered, and at the conclusion Hattess drew a revolver and fired at the effigies. Hattess' shot was the signal for a general fusillade from the crowd.

A Bath For Captain Sigbee. Washington, March 31.—Captain C. D. Sigbee, who commanded the battleship Maine at the time of the explosion, has been assigned to duty as all to Secretary Long. Captain Sigbee will, in that position, assume the duties formerly performed by Captain Barker, who, with Colonel Wagner, of the army, compose the joint board on defense plans.

Oppose McKinley's Policy. Tampa, Fla., March 31.—As a mark of disapproval of President McKinley's policy the Port Tampa Naval Reserve met last night and the members tendered their resignations. They finally decided to wait a few days for developments. If there is no change in the situation the company will disband.

Fatal Collision of Freight Trains. Chattanooga, Tenn., March 31.—Two freight trains on the Western and Atlantic railroad collided yesterday near Adairville, Ga. Engineer E. S. Elliott was instantly killed and Engineer J. McDade fatally injured. The two locomotives were demolished and a score of cars smashed in kindling wood. Several brakemen were injured.

Bloping Princess Located. Buda Pesth, March 31.—Princess Louisa of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, eldest daughter of King Leopold, of Belgium, and wife of Prince Philip of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, and her lover, Lieutenant Matichew-Kogelvitsh (with whom Prince Philip recently fought a duel), are at the castle of the lieutenant, which is situated near Goulovozev, Croatia.

M. L. Yocum, Cameron, Pa., says "I was a sufferer for ten years, trying most all kinds of pills, remedies, but without success. The DeWitt's Little Early Bitters was the only thing that effected permanent cure." As a permanent cure for piles DeWitt's Little Early Bitters is unequalled. C. H. Hagenbuch.

A BLOODY PROBLEM.

Did Boston or New York Shed the First Revolutionary Gore? A brass tablet on the side of the building at 28 State street, Boston, just in the rear of the old statehouse bears this inscription: WAS SHED THE FIRST BLOOD OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION, MARCH 23, 1770.

Erected by the Bostonian Society, 1888.

A brass tablet on the south lobby of the New York general postoffice bears this inscription: On the Common of the City of New York, near where this building now stands, there stood from 1766 to 1770 a liberty pole to commemorate the repeal of the stamp act. It was repeatedly destroyed by the violence of the mobs, and as repeatedly raised by the Sons of Liberty, who organized a constant watch and guard. In its destruction the first blood of the American Revolution was shed—Jan. 18, 1770.

The People in Havana. The People Deluded With the Idea of an Armistice. Havana, March 31.—Sunday and Monday were days of decided anxiety in the political and business circles of Havana, but Tuesday and yesterday were a more quiet feeling.

Those, however, who know General Maximo Gomez, General Calixto Garcia, Senor Bartolome Maso and the other insurgent leaders best say all reckon without their host who believe these men will agree to an armistice, even if asked to do so by the United States, unless it is plainly understood that the truce is to be followed by a recognition of General Gomez, after holding out all through the dry season, will decline to agree to a truce during the rainy months, in which the insurgents would have the advantage.

On all sides it is regarded as almost certain that if war does come it will be a long and protracted one. A Spaniard of high influence, while talking recently with Consul General Lee, said: "The Sagasta ministry will not be compelled to fight to insure self protection. Sagasta could quiet Spain by providing Havana with a blockade, or a desert. It is no longer worth any outlay of blood or treasure. It is only fit for negroes and mixed bloods. Let it go."

But very few take such a view of the situation, although ignorant Spaniards are misled by such a declaration. Meanwhile it seems as if the Spanish military and naval powers that be are either convinced that there is no danger of active hostilities or are utterly careless of the grave consequences that the future may hold.

There are no visible preparations to provision Havana in case a blockade, nor is there any notable increase in the coal supply for naval uses. In the opinion of Americans here, one of the gravest dangers lies in the fact that the ignorant classes of the city are not in any way advised as to the chances of war, and the Democratic party in Havana, impregnated with the fleet of Spain all conquering. If rudely awakened to other views they might become dangerous and foster internal disorders.

Consul General Lee continues as cheerful as usual, despite the fact that he was warned of five distinct plots against his life. Of course he does not give credence to such stories, and he is carefully guarded by the government, but continued warnings of this kind are not a pleasant mental diet. The last story was that he was to be poisoned by a hired employe of his hotel. This General Lee repelled by asking the newspaper correspondents who sit near him at meal time in case he is suddenly taken ill first to shoot his waiter and then to run for a stomach pump.

Our Growing Pension Roll. Washington, March 31.—In sending to congress a deficiency estimate of $8,979,872 for pensions for this year Secretary Bliss states that the total number of pensioners on the roll June 30, 1897, was 376,014, while on the 25th of February, 1918, there were 289,673 on the roll, a net increase of 138,699. PICK ME UPS.

Bonnie's For Those Who Have Imbibed Not Wisely, but Too Well. Take any man who is in the habit of "pure sociability" at intervals from noon until midnight, and for stomach comfort before he breaks his fast in the morning, and let him, after he has arisen and dressed, repair to a drug store instead of to a barroom. He has no appetite. He does not feel as though he were "all there." Instead of a cocktail let him ask the druggist to prepare a mixture of these ingredients and quantities, which, when mixed together, shall constitute a single dose: Chloroform, 5 drops; tincture ginger, half teaspoonful; compound tincture cardamon, 2 teaspoonfuls; water, a wineglassful. Swallow that slowly—in five minutes to do it. You will be surprised to find that in about 15 minutes the "all gone" feeling will have disappeared. A gentle, pleasant warmth is felt in place of the gnawing sensation, and in a very little while there are decided symptoms of being hungry. A repetition of the dose inside of an hour, in case the attack of the night before was very severe, will do no harm. A cup of black coffee 20 minutes after the first dose is an excellent thing to follow with, provided the patient is not of a particularly nervous temperament.

You will find some men whose nerves become unstrung upon very slight alcoholic prodding, and such men are prone to try the stimulant small-bottle curative. The best thing for a case of that kind is the drug store again. Here is the dose: Elmirix colly, a dram; elmirix ocase, a dram; elmirix hops, a dram; bromide of sodium, 20 grains.

The narrator will guarantee that you will never resort to whiskey again after you have tried Bonnie's. If it does not cure your particular case. As soon as you feel able to eat, make your breakfast of oatmeal principally for two or three days. On the day after taking the first dose invest in two Havana oranges and substitute the juice for the pick me up tonic. If the stomach rejects the oranges as too sweet, throw them away and try the tonic again, but eventually return to the fruit—Philadelphia Times.

NOT ALWAYS UNDERSTOOD. A fact often overlooked, or not always understood, is that women suffer as much from distressing kidney and bladder troubles as the men. The womb is situated back of and very close to the bladder, and for that reason any distress, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort.

The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided by setting urine aside for twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need doctoring. If you have pain or dullaching in the back, pass water too frequently, or scanty supply, with smarting or burning,—these are also convincing proofs of kidney trouble. If you have doctored without benefit, try Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-root, the great kidney remedy. The mild and extraordinary effect will surprise you. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures. If you take a medicine you should take the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail upon receipt of three 2-cent stamps to cover postage. Mention HERALD and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.
