ENCAMPED IN MUD.

Pennsylvania Militiamen, Mid Snow, Hail and Rain, Show They Are Not Fall Weather Soldiers.

Mount Gretna, Pa., April 29.—The Pennsylvania militia yesterday resented the first test of the gait and endurance of the present campaign when the entire division assembled at Mount Gretna as a result of the president's request upon Governor Hastings for volunteers. Snow, hail and rain were the striking features of the soldiers' advent, and last night the men slept under wet canvas and in ground ankle deep in mud. There was not a murmur from the ranks. Each man bore himself as steadily and obeyed orders as promptly as if the most pleasant weather were prevailing. The men also maneuvered around in the mud as best they could, all showing a grim determination to prove to the state that its militia are not fair weather soldiers. Last night, however, many of the men slept in the auditorium of the village meeting grounds, and others in freight and passenger cars.

The regiments began arriving as early as six o'clock in the morning, when the Ninth under Colonel C. Bow Dougherty, reached the camp with every man in the ranks. The regiment left Williamsport at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday night. General Gordin and the Third brigade staff arrived shortly before noon and at once took possession of brigade headquarters. General Wiley and the staff officers of the Second and Third brigades came into camp while the headquarters was at its best. It had almost ceased raining when the first of the Philadelphia troops arrived, and it was well on in the afternoon before the last of them reached camp. Owing to the late arrival of many of the regiments it was decided to postpone the formal opening of camp until sunrise today, when a salute of 21 guns was fired.

As quickly as the various commands reached the grounds their respective camps began to assume form, and in a few hours rows of white tents dotted the surface of the ground. This work had no sooner been completed before many of the soldiers as could possibly get away went into Lebanon and purchased extra supplies. There was such a demand for rubber boots that before dark it was hard to obtain any for love or money.

Secretary of War Alger has advised Governor Hastings that the Pennsylvania National Guard as now constituted will be mustered into the United States service. The only change will be an increase in the membership of the infantry and cavalry companies to the maximum of 80 officers and men and the three batteries of artillery to 116 officers and men each. The guard will enter the volunteer service with its present line and staff officers. Membership in the guard does not make it imperative on either officers or men to enlist in the United States service.

Prevent Pneumonia

Prevention is always better than cure, even when cure is possible. But so many times pneumonia is not cured that prevention becomes the natural act of that instinct of self-protection which is "the first law of nature." Pneumonia can be prevented and is often cured by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"Some years ago I had a severe cold and was threatened with pneumonia. I could neither eat nor sleep, and was in a wretched condition. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and took according to the directions, and at the end of fifteen days as well as sound as before the attack. I have recommended it in many cases of pneumonia since, and have never known it to fail in affording a cure."

JOHN HENRY, St. Joseph, Ia.
"I was attacked with a cold that settled on my lungs, and defied the skill of my physicians so that they considered me incurable. At last I began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and was entirely cured after having taken two bottles."

FRANCISCO A. SEVERIANO, Taunton, Mass.

The streets and pavements at the intersection of Jardin and Centre streets were crowded with people shortly before nine o'clock last night when the Razor Club strung up an effigy of Weyler in front of Folz's barber shop and applied a torch to it.
