teries at the entrance to the fort an-nounced the arrival of the enemy's squadron, forcing a passage in the obscurity of the night. At daybreak the enemy took up positions, opening with a strong fire against Fort Cavite and the arsenal.

El Heraldo de Madrid says that Admiral Montojo changed his flagship to the gunboat Isla de Cuba during theengagement, or between two encounters, in order to better direct the maneuvers. In this way he escaped the fate of the commander of the Reina Maria Christina.

The second engagement, according to El Heraldo, was apparently begun by the Americans, after landing their wounded on the west side of the bay. In the latter engagement the Spanish warships Mindanao and Ulloa suffered heavily.

During the second engagement the Cavite forts maintained a steadler and stronger fire upon the American squadron than in the first engagement. Admiral Bermejo, the minister of marine, has expressed himself as highly pleased with the heroism of the Spanish marines, and has telegraphed congratulations to Admiral Montejo and the valorous crews of the Spanish squadron under fire of superior ships. Notwithstandig the severe damage the Spanish ships sustained, naval of-ficers here consider that further operations by the American squadron will be conducted with great difficulty, owing to their having no base where they could repair and re-coal or obtain at Camp Hastings brought to the sol-diers a refreshing relief from the hard daily routine of drill, and in its stead the camp was thrown open to the relatives and friends of the officers and men. Special and regular trains brought over 5,000 persons to the grounds. The visitors were largely the parents, wives and sweethearts and relatives of the guardsmen, but the usual light heartedness incident to an encampment was noticeable by its absence. In its place there was a sup-pression of spirits which told plainly that the men were there for war duty, and that this might be the last time the soldier boy would see his dear one. When the tattoo was sounded at 9:30 last evening and the time for leave taking came there were many touching and pathetic farewells. New York, May 2 .- The United States cruiser Topeka, formerly the Diogenes, commanded by Lieutenant J. J. Knapp, which salled from Falmouth, Eng. The Topeka entered the narrows at 9 a. m., where she slowed down for the health officer's inspection, then proceeding to the man-of-war anchorage off Tompkinsville. The cruiser carries a crew of 45 men. Lieutenant Knapp said he had not sighted any war vessels during the voyage.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does it, is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give to those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 25 and 6oc. We certainly would advise a trial. THE WAR REVENUE BILL.

Senators May Debate the Measure For Two Weeks. Washington, May 2.--Interest in the senate this week is in the war revonue bill. It will be referred at once to the committee on finance, and probably will be reported back Wednesday or MAKE PERFECT MEN ! DO NOT DESPAIR! Thursday, A meeting of the finance committee has been called for this afternoon, with the view on the part of the Republican members of having the consideration of the bill in committee PERFECTO TABLETS. begun informally. They have even intimated that they may ask that a vote be taken at this meeting, with the view of reporting the bill as soon as it is referred.

The Democratic members of the committee will oppose this program, as they desire an opportunity to have various amendments considered. It is now believed that they will offer a provision for a tax on all producing industries, another for an inheritance tax, and a third for non-interest bearing treasury notes. It is also probabl that an amendment will be suggested for the issuance of $100,000,000 in greenbacks, to take the place of those outstanding, which are supposed to have been destroyed. They will mock to have the bond provision of the bill eliminated entirely, on the plea that the time has not yet arrived for a bond

One the changes suggested is a reduction of the amount of the bonds. It is now predicted that two weeks will be required for debate.

There is no business of great importance to come before the house dur-ing the week, unless the appropriations mmittee brings in an emergency war appropriation measure.
