Get More and You Get Less

Why is it every sarsaparilla which tries to sell itself, ranges itself against Ayer's as the standard? Why is it that all have to offer extra inducements—bigger bottles, fancy wrappers, cheaper price—anything, everything, but the one inducement of quality?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla has never been equaled by any cheap imitation of it, and quality tells, just as blood tells.

It is the standard.

"I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla for more than twenty-five years, and have never heard anything but words of praise from my customers; not a single complaint has ever reached me. A preparation must possess great merit to maintain such a reputation. I believe your sarsaparilla to be the best blood purifier that has ever been introduced to the general public. I can hear other manufacturers say that this is 'as good as Ayer's,' but no one ever yet heard it said that Ayer's was 'as good' as any other kind. They always set Ayer's up as the standard of excellence."—R. F. BOYCE, Duluth, Minn.

OLD GLORY RAISED.

Flags Hoisted Above the Wm. Penn Breaker Last Evening.

The residents of Wm. Penn were full of enthusiasm last night and, despite the disagreeable weather, they had a parade and flag raising to commemorate the victory of Rear Admiral Dewey at Manila.

After the parade the people gathered at the colliery office, which is located near the breaker, and there the flag raising ceremonies were opened.

William Chalmers was master of ceremonies and Superintendent Michael Golden and John M. Hughes gave assistance in the arrangement of details.

Simultaneous a cheer under the leadership of Prof. John Knight sang "The Star Spangled Banner," the whistles of the colliery were blown, and the national anthem was sung.

Rev. John Dysinger, of the Wesleyan church, then introduced and spoke on the subject of the flag being and on the country's emblem.

After the choir rendered a selection, Rev. P. F. Dagnett, of Lost Creek, and Minister Steinhilber, of this town, spoke.

Another selection was rendered by the choir and then Superintendent W. H. Lewis made a brief address.

He said the people might well be proud of the emblem of liberty, as it represents a great country, whose principles are justice, truth and honor.

A BEAUTIFUL EXHIBIT.

Paine's Celery Compound, the Medicine That Makes People Well, Now Having an Immense Sale—Wasley's Display Worth Going to See.

It does not take long to see the trouble to devote his windows to displaying a proprietary medicine, but the fact that Wasley has one of his show windows completely filled with Paine's celery compound in original packages, accompanied by mouthfuls of celery bunches, proves the great merit of this popular preparation.

No man, woman, or child can pass this busy street without seeing the display.

In talking with Mr. Wasley concerning his sales of Paine's celery compound, he said: "It is the best seller I ever saw. I have sold this spring a great many bottles and the demand is increasing daily."

It seems as though everybody was buying Paine's celery compound. The poor, the rich, the banker, the clerk, the merchant, the laboring man, and ladies generally buy this medicine, and I have yet to hear of a single person who has not been pleased with the results.

Everybody who is troubled with the lagged, tired feeling that so generally afflicts people during the spring months."

Mr. Wasley, continuing, said: "I am satisfied that the large advertising being done in the Herald for Paine's celery compound has been of great assistance in this section in increasing the sales of this medicine."

Judicious advertising always pays and Wells, Richardson & Co., the proprietors of Paine's celery compound, certainly know the papers that will give the best returns from advertising."

Wasley has now stock on hand of the largest consignments of Paine's celery compound ever shipped to this town.

Take a look at their window and then step inside and buy a bottle of the compound. It is the one tonic on the market whose reputation has been established by years of use, and will take every person in this place who will take nothing else as their spring medicine.

Cemeteries Receiving Attention.—The daily pilgrimages to the local cemeteries which has been in progress for the past week has resulted in the complete renovation of these plots and the beautifying of the graves.

This is the wholesome effect of Memorial Day. It may be that some have neglected to attend to this matter; this is mentioned in the hope that their attention may be directed to it.

The best place to buy your wall paper is at F. J. Portz, 21 North Main street. We have the largest stock north of the mountain.
