in part as follows: "I think it proper and fair to take your time to say briefly that the pro est I have felt called upon to make against the political machine has been unde within the party and against its methods, and not against individuals except so far as they represented a sys tem of politics. A man carrying the keys of power by hereditary descent or holding them by cleverness or mental energy, must surrender them when the tired people so demand.

"To suffer a political machine to sell for each the commonwealth's justice or retain squatter sovereignty in the state or national offices is only to kill the po litical party thus indulated. A mighty revolution has set in within this state. Pennsylvania is no longer docile or unresisting to Republican bossism.

"Enconditional hostility to all machine methods is the loudest war cry within Republican ranks throughout the commonwealth since the days of the civil war. By the judgment of today's convention upon the last legisla-tive record and its machine methods the people will pass judgment on the candidates after the convention ad-journs. It could have, if it pleases, as fine a medal from the people as any Admiral Dewey will deservedly get, if it will sink the fleet of politicians who run the state for political revenue only. There are many who believe that unless it does this, and very soon, there will be a great storm to break upon the Reublican party," When the letter had been read David

H. Lane, of Philadelphia, with a con-siderable display of feeling, said that Mr. Wanamaker denounces bossism, and yet there has never been displayed in a Republican convention such an arrogant exhibition of bossism as is shown in the written words of the Philadelphia candidate.
