SPARK TELEGRAPHY.

Possibilities of the Method of Telegraphing Without the Use of Wires. Privy Counselor Dr. Slaby of Charlottenburg, Germany, contributes to The Century an article on "The New Teleg-Dr. Slaby conducted a series of experiments in telegraphing without the

He says in concluding his article: I have often been asked in what directions and in what field the use of spark telegraphy might be employed. knowledge of the phenomenon in question knowledge of the phenomenon in question is, so far, a very modest thing; we are really in the very opening chapters. Who would care to say today how far and whither, the path will lead us! I do not purpose to paint pictures of the future, but I believe I can state with emphasis that for certain purposes the new telegraphy is ripe today and well worthy of consideration. The most important ap-pear to me to He in the military field. Bosicged fortresses and advancing armies which have the enemy between them sould make use of spark telegraph today as a method of communication. The system works just as surely on a bright day as by night and in fag, though, to be sure, only in cases where balloons can be employed, since the distances reached when towers, musts and high trees were used would hardly suffice in cases of this kind. Quite as important is the usefulness of the discovery for the mavy. Experiments of last summer have made perfectly certain the possibility of saling captive bal-loons on the high sen. In place of bal-loons, without doubt, one reight use the modern hites, is ought to such a pitch of perfection in America, as those of Hargrave and others. I owe it to the kind-ness of an acquaintance in New York that I know something of these excellent kites, and a few experiments have already shown me that they are perfectly adapted to the carrying of thin wires.

There is a future for the use of spark telegraphy for lighthouses and lightships. The receiving apparatus can easily be made in a handy form, not bulkler than a mane in a many rorm, nor maker can a chromamstor. On the approach to a light-house it would not only give signs, but would tick out the name of the light-house; it appears even possible to provide the receiving apparatus with a regulator, to be adjusted at will according to wheth or a greater or smaller sensitiveness is do sired, whereby the distance of the light-

An undeniable weakness of spark telegraphy is this: Every telegram is imparied to the whole world; every receiver can take it up. Owing to this reason for the present its application will have to be confined to particular cases. For practical pur-poses, if one desires to protect oneself from having dispatches read by others, there remains only the use of signs arranged be forehand. In war, to be sure, telegraphy would become impossible as soon as a has tile spark generator should cause a permanent disturbance of the characters. very interesting battle might occur in the waves of either.
