HOME COMFORT.

Comfort in a Small Compass.—Shenandoah Interested.

It's a nice thing to be able to carry comfort in your pocket, have it at home and take it with you in your daily vocation. No one can be comfortable with any itchiness of the skin, irritation of any nature, such as eczema, piles or like troubles, make you miserable all day long and real cast all night.

"Certainly. And something very unusual happens in my case. You know that according to a Talmudle saying at the birth of a child it is announced in heaven—this and this one will have this and this one. Now when I was born, my wife was called out to nee, but it was also declared that she would, alas! have a fearful hump. Dear God, 'I said, 'a maiden who is deformed will very likely be bitter and harsh. A maiden ought to be beautiful. Dear A maiden ought to be beautiful. Dear God, give me the hump and let the maiden be beautiful and comely."

Scarcely had he said this when she fell

School That Began at Noon.

"The Three R's at Circle City" is the subject of a paper by Miss Anna Fulcomer in The Century. The author says: During the short winter days it would often be noon before all the children put in an appearance. When I arrived at 9 o'clock, it would either be dark or brilliant moonlight. Smoke might be seen lazily rising from four or five cabins out lazily rising from four or five cabins out of the 400 or 500. I would light one lamp and wait. By 10 o'clock a few children would straggle sleepily in just as the day began to dawn. By 11 o'clock, shortly after sunrise, the majority of the children were at school, some coming without their breakfasts. By half past 12 all who were coming that day would have appeared.

It was hard to get up before daylight on those cold, dark mornings. I often used those cold, dark mornings. I often used to wish that I was one of the little girls, so that I, too, might sleep until daylight. No one in camp pretended to get up early unless there was some special work on hand which must be done. As I was going home to my lunch at noon friends would sengify any force. would sometimes call out to me: "Good morning! Come in and have some break-fast. We have fine moose steak and hot cakes," On Saturdays and Sundays I Hyed and slept as did other people. Even when one did not sit up later at night than 10 or half past it required an effort to rise before daylight. There is some thing in the air and in the manner of life which makes one sleepy. As the days lengthened the children came earlier to Month Character.

Every mouth has a character of its own. More can be told by the lips, even when silent, than by any other feature, with the possible exception of the eye. Did you over seen marrietta small mouth amount to anything? No. Did you ever seen a man with a broad mouth who was not a genius! No. Did you ever seen man with arched lips, drawn far down at the corners, who was not either a cry baby or a fiend? No. Did you ever see a man with a straight mouth and thin lips who did not cling to a purpose until it was accomplished? No. Did you ever see a man plished? No. Did you ever see a man with fips turned inside out who was not an enthustasis? No. Thick lipped men are generally impulsive. Thin lips indicate scereiiveness. A long upper lip means "get there." A short upper lip means "let things take their course." Cupid's bows on a man's mouth—well, have no speaking acquaintance with him. They are for children and women.—New York

Advertising a patent medicine in the peuliar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does it, is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give to those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before pur chasing. The large bottles are 25 and 6oc. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

Manilla's Streets. The streets of Manilla are so modern as to be quite out of keeping with the general appearance of the town. They are perfectly straight, macadamized and provided with ample granite walks. Of these the Escolta and the Rosario are the best. both there are excellent shops, kept prin-ipally by Chinese merchants, most of whom come from Amoy. Tin roofed houses line each side of both thoroughfares.

While Mandoza's ridienfour ranges were eleminating through the courts of the continent the armoda was in reality flying, ortipled and retweaks, thro the force and gales of the German occur. For Public's fleet, if not actually conquered, had been therebould but be try them. Only he interebuted the try them, only he interebuted the try them. Only he interebuted the try them, only he interebuted the try them, only he interebuted the two largests which alters in the great fight off Gravelines. When the Spanish admiral, the Duke of Medica Sidenian countred over his side after the battle second were missing, among them these so if the two larges of the day on the Spanish off the two larges of the day on the Spanish officer present, their crack galloons were knocked in places and the crows nearly all dead or wounded. Trited in the black night, helpless or rather unholped, away from their came are toward the Low Country costs.

Writing of the ultimate fate of this splendid fleet, Capiain Affred T. Malous says:
