Brunn had set his heart on the density collectorship in Philadelphia for a cut off distance by crossing the field on the south side. There is a fence between the field in which the old Kohley Run stable is located and the breaches. At the place where the victim attempted to pass the path berelative of his in this county, and when T. Larry Eyre was selected Brumm's rage knew tween the fence and the brink of the breach is less than two feet wide and slopes treacherously. The companion passed over the place safely, but young Lee failed. As Lee fell the companion screamed and ran away from the place with all possible speed.

The accident was witnessed by several men who were lounging on the neighboring knolls and several of them hurried to the victim's relief. They found him uncon-scious and blood was flowing profusely from the head, which was terribly mushed. boy was quickly removed to the home of his parents and Drs. G. M. Hamilton, M. S. Kistler and J. Pierce Roberts were summoned. They found that the skull of the child was terribly mashed and the right thigh fractured. After a consultation it was deelded to perform an operation, as the only means of saving the life. The scalp was haid open and the do tors found the entire top part of the skull crushed. Pleces aggregating in size the length and width of a man's hand were removed.
