The Coal Trade.

The anthracite trade continues about as dull as it has been at any time within recent years, and none of the reports which come to hand are of anything like activity, but on the contrary prices are being cut at points both East and West.

In plain terms coal is a drug on the market at this time. We are disposed to consider the last half of the year's production of a goodly share of business in the buying of anthracite from the mines to the consumer. It will likely be so this year, and the management of the trade have only themselves to blame if it be not so.

The bulk of the anthracite trade is being centrally in the hands of a few individuals. If they heed the warning of the past few years they will not rush to the top of the end of the season, as of late has been their pernicious habit.

EDITOR HERALD:—Hon. M. C. Watson, one of the candidates for the Democratic Senatorial nomination, is highly indignant over treatment he has received from a young man who was in the field as one of his delegates, and which he characterizes as maliciously unjust and treacherous. About six weeks ago Mr. Watson was informed that Joseph Burke, of the Fourth ward, was desirous of running as delegate for him. Upon learning this Mr. Watson called on the gentleman and was told by him that he would be only too willing to run as delegate and do what he could for Mr. Watson. To have no doubt in the matter the latter called upon Mr. Burke's father and mother, and both gave their unqualified consent to the arrangement. A few days ago Mr. Watson learned that Joseph Burke had gone to the delegate, Mr. Burke, and ascertained if he had changed his mind. The interview concluded with Mr. Burke renewing his assurance that he would stand and do all he could for the candidate and matters progressed apparently until about a week ago, when Mr. Watson discovered that all his treacherous plots for the Fourth ward had been printed. He looked upon this as an oversight and attended personally to the printing of the tickets. But to Mr. Watson's great surprise, Mr. Burke called upon him this morning and stated that he could not go to the delegateship. This candidate very naturally asked the reason and was frankly told by Mr. Burke that he could not afford to do so. Upon being pressed for a more definite reason he stated that, in the first place, he had a sister teaching school and he had been a member of the board of directors for Mr. Watson's sister would not be re-elected this year. Secondly, that his father had threatened to turn him from home if he continued in the field. Mr. Watson, very naturally, is exceedingly indignant over the matter, especially since he has now conclusively ascertained that the candidate is a most dirty and unscrupulous character, being put up against him, although he believes that the honest and fair-minded citizens of the town will not tolerate such conduct, nor will they sanction the handling of appointments at the disposal of the School Board in such a manner as has been developed by Mr. Burke's confession. It clearly shows the reason why the election of school teachers has been deferred so long this year, and reflects the dirtiest kind of political work.

I feel that the record of Mr. Watson in the Senate twelve years ago will be sufficient to carry him through this fight, and he will come carrying the banner of victory.

FAIR PLAY.
Shenandoah, Pa., July 5.

To the Public.
I have just learned from a friend of Mr. Joseph Burke that one of the reasons for withdrawing as my delegate at this late hour (today, at 9:15 a. m.) is that I got tickets printed at a Republican office, the HERALD. I really wish to say I got no printing done at the HERALD office, of any kind. My tickets were printed at the job office of Rose & Bros. (German) whom I know are always good Democrats and deserve a share of the Democratic primary vote, but seldom get it. I always did remember my true friends—Republicans or Democrats—last night, and I certainly will not change at this late day.

I am, very respectfully,
M. C. WATSON.

Shenandoah, July 5.
[We confirm the above statement, that the HERALD has done no printing for Mr. Watson in this campaign, but are ready to do so as he meets all obligations promptly.—Ed.]

THE FRANEY SUIT.

Judge Koch Makes the Bay Window Injunction Absolute.

Pottsville, July 5.—Judge Koch this afternoon handed down a decision in the injunction suit of the Commonwealth against J. J. Franey to restrain the defendant from constructing by windows and a stairway outside the building line at his property, corner of Main and Lloyd streets. The case was argued a week ago yesterday.

The decision handed down is as follows: "And now, July 5th, this cause came up to be heard on a rule to show cause why an injunction should not be granted, and was argued; and, thereupon, and after due consideration thereon, it is ordered and decreed as follows: That, in accordance with the prayer of the petitioner, said rule be made absolute; that the injunction now issued and final hearing, restraining and enjoined J. J. Franey, his agents and employees from constructing and maintaining five bay windows and one stairway above and over Lloyd street, in Shenandoah, on the northwest corner of Main street. And it is further ordered and decreed that the maintenance of said windows and stairway is a public nuisance, and that the defendant remove the same. And it is further ordered and decreed that the defendant pay the costs of this suit.

By R. E. KOCH, J.

Exceptions for defendant noted and bill denied.

Notice to Water Consumers.

The dry season of the year is now at hand and all persons using water from the public water works are cautioned that after this date the washing of bugies with hose, lawns and sprinkling of streets are positively forbidden. Scarcity of water necessitates the above order and it will be rigidly enforced by the superintendent. Beginning with the 10th inst., water will be shut off from 7:30 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. until further notice. By order of water committee.

Reproved the Commander.

It is said of the late Bishop Quintard of Tennessee that he was the only man from whom the late Senator Harris ever accepted a reproach. Senator Harris, as of course you know, was an officer in the Confederate army. Bishop Quintard was a chaplain in his command. One day the chaplain happened to overheard the general berating some soldiers. The general was illuminating his remarks with highly colored and picturesque profanity. The soldiers were hopelessly stupid.

"Why," roared the general, with illuminations, "why in—more illuminations—'oley orders!"

The chaplain stopped forward.

"General," said he, "how can you expect your soldiers to obey your orders when you let them hear you disobey the command of your superior officer?"

The general whirled about and glared at the chaplain. Then his face softened. Off came his hat.

"Sir," said he, "you are right. I will not wear another 'cath till this war is over."

And they say he kept his word.—Washington Post.

The Price of His "Dimes."

Young Man—Her hand, sir, is the price of my dimes.

Banker—My! My! This insolence is unbearable. Get out, call a policeman!

Young Man—One moment, sir, you don't understand. I know nothing of your affairs, so do not for one moment imagine you let them hear you disobey the command of your superior officer!

The general whirled about and glared at the chaplain. Then his face softened. Off came his hat.

"Sir," said he, "you are right. I will not wear another 'cath till this war is over."

And they say he kept his word.—Washington Post.

The Mack Brick a Failure.

The main street in Mahanoy City is paved with the Mack brick, and the American says "the brick is woefully chipped and worn and in places presents an appearance of deterioration that gives an impression that the Mack brick used on this contract was not up to the standard. This is too bad, as the brick is a handsome one, color and form considered, but then, in paving brick as in everyday life, handsome is as handsome does, and the brick is not doing itself proud as far as wear is concerned."

Miner Died in a Knot.
Joseph Gilger, a miner employed at the Richards colliery, near Mt. Carmel, was entombed by a fall of coal yesterday. For seven hours he suffered agony, while workmen were digging him out. He was alive when reached, but died as he was being carried into the presence of his wife. Gilger was pinned fast, with his arms above his head, while one leg was pushed alongside of his face. The sole of the other foot was planted squarely against the small of his back. His head was almost turned around.
