Washington, July 11 .- "The bombardment of Santiago has legun." That was the verbal information obtained last evening shortly before 9 o'clock at the war department. Almost immediately three bulletins were posted, the most important of which was from General Shafter. This dispatch announced that General Toral, who succeeded General Linures in command of the Spanish forces in Santiago when the latter was wounded, had declined to surrender unconditionally, and that the bombardment of the town would be begun by the army and navy about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The fact that the hombardment was scheduled by Shafter to begin so late in the day created some comment, but ★swer to a question bearing upon that point, General Corbin said: "I have not the slightest information as to the reasons General Shafter had for beginning the bombardment at the hour ne names, but it was probably because he was ready just at that time. You can speculate about that as well as 1 two hours, pending repairs. Information received by the war department during the few days of truce indicates that he has materially road employes at Mahanoy Plane strengthened his position. During the on the afternoon of the 25th inst. past week he has received reinforceboth infantry and artillery Randolph's battery of 24 guns, which left Key West last Tuesday at midnight, is now in position before Santiago, and, as one of the war department officials expressed it," when the long toms of Randolph begin to talk something will happen in Santiago," General Shafter has nearly 50 slege guns and a large number of seven Inch mortars, besides lighter artillery at his disposal. These guns, taken in con-nection with the work that can be done by the fleet, will, it is believed, carry and Joel Leddon. terror and distruction to Santiago.

Three men slightly wounded. Will have considerable forces tomor row, enough to completely block all the roads to the northwest. I am quite well. General Garcia reports that enemy evacuated little town called Descaninos, about three miles

Santiago, and near the bay. Shafter, The news of the bombardment can at the close of a busy Sunday in the war department. Previous to the receipt of this dispatch the secretary of Shafter. In the early morning came a telegram saying that he had ridden over the American lines and was grat patch reported that the lines were impregnable, thus removing any fear of a successful sortic by the Spanish troops tempted. When questioned as to whether he believed that there had been a bombardment of the city, General Corbin replied: "You know as much about it as I do. I have kept nothing back. I should say, however, that the firing today was but the preliminary to the more serious business of tomorrow. This being the case, the attempt to take the city will be made today.

The belief is held by the best informed officials that General Toral, the Spanish commander, will surrender when he finds it will be impossible for him to evacuate the city. Upon what ground this belief is based could not be ascertained, but that information to latter's ground yesterday afternoon, that effect is in the hands of the war officials there is no doubt.

General Shafter's dispatch last night shows that he is engaged now in strengthening his position, and today will follow up his operations with a final assault upon the city.

Everything on the firing line is now ready for the commencement of hostilities. The dynamite gun, which has been in position for several days, is now in better working order than at any time of the battle of San Juan, and it is predicted that its charges, consisting of 20 pounds of gun cotton and gelatine, will work havee in the Spanish trenches when it opens
