When the First Train Started Over a Railway Liuilt by the Natives. Probably the cheapest railroad in the world was built in Oregon in 1873. During the preceding year the Northern Pa-cific Railroad company surveyed the line between Portland and Olympia, terminat-ing at the latter place, but only for a short time. Then it was inoved away to Ta-coma, 85 miles farther north. At that the people of Olympia arose in indignation, called a meeting, and after vigorously discussing ways and means reolved that, although the railroad had been oth given and taken away, they were not bound to submit as unto the Lord, but yould build one for themselves and build It with voluntary subscriptions of labor ul material. One bright morning in April the Olympla brass band halted at the corner of Main and Fourth streets. Charloy Granger's bay mule Betty fell in behind. Then came the officials of both city and county, led by the governor and followed by the oli-sens, until the whole procession was half a mile in length. They marched to a high bluff above the capitol building, and there the mayor of the city and the governor both made speeches, and a prayer was of-fered. The first sod was turned, and the their stores, and mechanics shut their shops, and young men and old men, boys and Indians plied the spade with hearty will, while the women spread the tables with all things needed for a midday feast. Week after week the work went on, and the road stretched out past the timber skirting the upper end of Puget sound, past the falls of Tumwater, between the Indian mounds of Mound Prairie, through half a mile of timber to Bush Prairie more timber, more prairie, across wide backs this offer. Then the ties were made and laid and not a dollar had yet been asked for. But the time had come to buy the rolling stock. and subscriptions came pouring in until everything was bought and ready.

What a day it was in the history of Olympia when the first train was started over the hard earned little railroad! Open cars were hung with everymen, and again the people all came out, with music and eing, this time to ride and not to work.

Many of the old soldiers who labored faithfully to build that little road, among them General Milroy, who was known all through the civil war as Gray Eagle, have crossed the silent river, but the road they built is still in use, and old settlers point to it with pride, the road the hardy pionears made with their own hands, the cheapest railroad in the world.—San Fran-be computed. "The most important part of the opera-tion is of course to leade the target. The invention which has analosi us to do this is something whelly American—a develop ment of our regular army. This invention is the range finder. It looks a simple af-fair—a tall modern tower, with a substantial foundation, built on a commune ing height and connected with the gunperhaps half a mile distant, by telephone At the top is a large telescope, adjusted or a polished steel circular table. A dial or the telescope frame is cogged with the edge of the circular table and gives at any edge of the circular table and gives at any instant the direct reading in azimuth Another dial is so arranged that elevation or depression of the tablesopa gives lis-indicator a corresponding movement. This is like the ordinary transit fixed to read vertical angles, but in this case instead of reading angles of depression distances are indicated in yards to the point where the line of sight plotes the water. An adjustment corrects for height of tide. "It is only necessary, then, to point our telescope at the water line of the ship and read directly azimuth and distances. These are rapidly transmitted by telephone

These are rapidly transmitted by telephone to the guns and plotted on a ploce of draw ing paper. Three of these observations, 20 seconds apart, are plotted, and the gun has to be fired 80 seconds after the last observation is taken or at the end of two minutes total time.
