He has been more anxious than he dared show as to the condition of our sick soldiers and look-ed with apprehension upon the possibility of a prolongation of the strug-gle in the unhealthy valley of Santiago. The secretary said that the Porto-Rican expedition would go forward in-mediately. At San Juan the navy will be of greater assistance than it was at Santiago, owing to the possibility of approaching the town more closely without risking contact with mines. General Brooke is now on his way to Washington by direction of Secretary Algor so that he will be in a position to make his views known to the department. The experience gained in dispatching Shafter's expedition, it is expected, will aid the officials in their determination to make short work of the Porto Rican affair. There will be the Porto illean affair. There will be plenty of froops available for the ex-pedition, as the government has de-vised other means of removing the Spaniards captured at Santiago to Spain than by carrying them on these transports.
