London, Aug. 2.—Mr. Hooley's revelations of the rottenness of London financlering have thrown into a panic mil-lions of Englishmen who have invested their savings in the stock of companies. was matter of common notorlety that the small promoting journalistic parasites fattened on company operations, but the gigantic fabric of bribery and blackmalling, by which boards of directors are organized of purchased names and backed by a subsidized tours press—some lords even being paid to 1888; quit the companies when no longer needed-was unsuspected.

The only question asked is, who will be the next, and the denials, some merely technical, are received with cynical skepticism. An exodus of aristocrats on foreign tours is expected. One of the gravest charges | Watkins on the return trip was the story of the dealings with Lloyds' bank, where were deposited 86,000 shares of the Singer company. The day Hooley went bankrupt these shares were transferred. He swore afternoon that he never transferred them, and that the certificates used were signed in blank for another transaction.

Among his alleged dealings with the Earl of De La Warr, Mr. Hooley asserted that the earl tried to sell him Philadelphia. an estate at Halsingden, representing that it contained 4,000 acres. Mr. Hooley said: "I promised to take it, but when I sent my agent to see the property he found there were only 1,700 acres. At another point of his testimony Mr. Hooley said he promised Lord March £1,000 and £1,000 yearly for joining the Schweppes' board, that he paid Mr. Adolphus Drucker, the Conservative member of parliament for Northampton, £2,500, and Sir Blundet Maple £1,by repurchasing their shares at enhanced prices.

The witness afterward said he paid Lord Walter Lennox for introducing Lord March and Lord Templeton, and promised him £500 and £500 yearly for serving on the board of directors, who, however, refused to sanction it, so he paid Lord Templeton £700 for

When Lord De La. Warr's counsel had finished his denial Mr. Hooley shouted: "Then I will show you what I have in my pocket—a telegram from ord De La Warr and the draft of a document setting forth what I was to say today."

Mr. Hooley flourished some papers towards Lord De La Warr, who was present, and an exciting scene was ended abruptly by the adjournment of Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident of which Mr. John Oliver of Phitadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyra sanken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite-gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first hottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim."

No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at A. Wasley's drug store. Rebbed the Grave.
