FINNEY REWARDED. The Schuylkill Republican Made Sub-Treasurer at Philadelphia.

The President yesterday appointed John F. Finney, of Pottsville, to be Assistant Treasurer of the United States at Philadelphia, succeeding W. H. Diegel, whose term expired last Saturday.

The announcement of the appointment was received with much satisfaction among both Republicans and Democrats, who had come to believe, from the long delay, that Schuylkill county was to be recognized at the hands of the "powers that be."

Major Finney is well known to the readers of the HERALD, among whom he has done effective work for the Republican cause while a resident of this town. Finney was born at Reading, and has resided in this county 35 years; attended Republican state conventions, represented this county in the national convention at St. Louis, served in the State Treasury's office, secretary of the Republican county committee several times; was a member of Schuylkill Council, and is at present publisher of the Miners' Journal.

The position to which he has been appointed carries with it a salary of $4,500, and his bond, $450,000, has already been arranged for. Mr. Finney controls 30 appointments in connection with his office, most of which are governed by civil service rules.

He will assume the duties of his office on September 1st. It will be recalled that Finney was strongly endorsed for Naval Officer, and then for Surveyor, and finally for the position to which he has been appointed.

FAVORS THE DAM.

A Taxpayer Belittles the Objectors and Favors the Reservoir. Editor HERALD: I will avail myself of your invitation to say a few words in regard to the subject of more water. The rantings of the editor of the News here more of the remarks of a "Job" than the action of the members of the Borough Council, in making an honest effort to give the people of Shenandoah an adequate supply of water.

The affords ratings. I can not call them anything else, as they do not contain a single argument to show why the people of Shenandoah should be satisfied with water for only eight hours, when by the expenditure of a few dollars they can have all the water for twenty-four hours of this New Editor, who no doubt imagines he is the Horace Greely of the anthracite coal regions, and exhibits his exporting in his type, makes a great cry of increasing the debt!

He would find by referring to the half-audited report (which was made by the Borough Auditors and for which they were more than well paid) that Tax Collector Scamman would this year collect through $42,000,000, which he can easily see will make a total of $41,143.30. I ask any fair minded man how could we get in debt $20,000 by using some of the money owed by Burke and Scamman, and is it fair for the people of Shenandoah to be kept on a square deal, and to be negligent in their business? It looks something similar to a "Job" when a collector holds $45,418.05 of the borough's money for three years. Here's a chance for a column in big type: "Greedy" on that subject.

A world in regard to the manner of doing the work. One reporter (who by the way should confine himself to the truth, as the water works are only in operation three years this month, whereas he has created an opinion in Scranton, Hazleton and Mahanoy City that they are running some years) seems to be ready to do anything for the Borough Council, and should be a great deal of contract work, as there was not a contract made (and they were made by lawyers, too) that did not extend far beyond the figure. None of the seven men who were so desirous of giving the people more water were in the town at that time, although they know of the circumstances, and were forced to the conclusion that the only proper way to do such work is by the day if they could secure a capable superintendent and engineer who would furnish the tools for so much per cent, as is the case of the question of the contract of the water works.

It is just one hundred and eighty days from the start of the work, and during that time have seen many new machines. But it has been well spent, and every man in the company would not have missed the sight for a good deal. One of the things we have learned is to suffer from mosquito bites. The renowned New Jersey species are not in it with those that live and thrive among the undergrowth of Porto Rico.

In the garret we found some old books bearing the date mark of 1810, and this paper is from that time.

FROM PORTO RICO.

The following letter, written by Elmer Hough, commanding the 2nd Battalion of Porto Rico, has been received by his brother here, and is dated August 14. It will prove interesting reading, and we give it space in our columns: We are now at Guayama, having come down from Orango yesterday. We arrived here yesterday evening, and as we were packed we were confronted by the Spanish trenches on the mountains. The enemy's soldiers, as soon as they spied us, made haste for the trenches. The first battalion of our regiment and one battalion of the 3rd Illinois formed the advance. The Philadelphia City Troop were in line and had their guns loaded ready for action, when the Orango put in an appearance with the orders that hostilities on the island had ceased by the signing of the protocol.

You may be sure there were many cross boys in camp when those orders were received, who had fondly expected to show how bravely they would fight in the case of the gates of a cemetery. While there the Ohio boys came in with a dead soldier who had been shot the night before, while on picket duty, and a little while after a native came in with a small body in a box and buried it in the ground. After that I had no desire to die on Porto Rico soil.

We are encamped on the outskirts of the town, and several of us visited the place this a. m. and took in the sights. It certainly has many pretty buildings and is pretty well up with the times in other respects. One day we carried out and buried an American principle and has a sign bearing the words, "English is spoken here." They sell soda water, etc., and reminds us very forcibly of home. The "shun" part of the town, however, is something awful and compares favorably with the bowery of New York.

We have not received mail for the past seven days, and don't know what a newspaper looks like. The heat to-day is something awful, and it is trying on the boys from Pennsylvania. We met very few people, residents of the island, who can speak English.

The chief candies here is coconut and sugar mixed, which sells at one cent a block, and the boys enjoy it. The flowers, trees and cactus that grow along the roads make a beautiful sight, and are a revelation to the "cool crackers."

It is just one hundred and eighty days from the start of the work, and during that time have seen many new machines. But it has been well spent, and every man in the company would not have missed the sight for a good deal. One of the things we have learned is to suffer from mosquito bites. The renowned New Jersey species are not in it with those that live and thrive among the undergrowth of Porto Rico.

The forecast for Friday: Fair, slightly warmer weather with light, variable winds. On Saturday probably fair, with slight temperature changes.

MAHANOY CITY.

Letters have been received here from Camp Alger to the effect that considerable homesickness prevails among the boys in camp. If permission were granted to muster out, a great many of them would receive it with favorable comment. The health of the Mahanoy City boys with the exception of the Private Fischer is good. He is confined to the deficiency hospital. There is less sickness in the regiment now than there has been at any time heretofore.

On July 1st the home of Andrew Tomko, of East Pine street, was broken into and a revolver, razor, scissors and numerous other articles were stolen. Suspicion rested on James E. Elliott, who was placed in the hands of a constable to arrest Elliott, but when he arrived at his home the rubber had escaped. Until yesterday all attempts to capture him proved futile, although Elliott had been home on different occasions. While the heavy rain storm was in progress yesterday afternoon Officer Lightbourne and Constable J. J. Kelly, of this town, and succeeded in capturing the fugitive. He was given a hearing before Justice Kepner, where the case was settled by Elliott paying the fine and costs and promising to return the stolen property.

Mrs. Louis Armstrong returned home from New York yesterday. While there she visited her husband who is a private in Co. E, 4th, Pa. Vol., now in camp at Montauk, L. I. Mr. Armstrong is just recovering from an attack of fever contracted while in Porto Rico. His condition is improving daily.
