

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF.

Which is Better, Try an Experiment or Profit by a Shenandoah Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment. Must be proven to be as represented. Be successful at home or you doubt it. The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit.

But the endorsement of a friend is. Now, supposing you had a bad back, a lame, weak or aching one. Would you experiment on it? You will read of many so-called cures. But they come from far-away places. It's different when the endorsement comes from home.

Easy to prove that it is so. Home endorsement is the proof that backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this case.

Mr. E. Rouse, of the Ferguson House, says: "I was taken with a lame back about four months ago. There was a continuous pain across my loins and a great deal of headache. The kidney secretions were not normal and every movement I made, such as stooping, bending forward, or attempting to lift anything caused sharp twinges to pass through me which held me motionless for a second or two on account of their severity. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills in some way and procured them at Kirlin's drug store. The first box did me so much good I got another, but I did not have to use half of the second box, before the whole trouble and annoyance were things of the past. Since I took Doan's Kidney Pills there have been no traces of my former troubles and I give them all the credit."

WAS HENRY A MARTYR?

His Crime May Have Resulted From Misguided Patriotism.

ANNIVARIES IN HENRY'S SUICIDE

The Belief Is General That High Officials Indirectly Aided the Accused Officer in Taking His Own Life, and Perhaps Persuaded Him to Do So.

Paris, Sept. 2.—The Dreyfus case presents no new features, but there is a plentiful supply of rumors. The first of these is that Dreyfus is dead, no letter having been received from him for some weeks. Another report is that General De Boisdeffre, who has just resigned the post of chief of the general staff, has committed suicide. Both these rumors are undoubtedly without foundation.

Colonel Faty de Clam is on a vacation trip in Switzerland, and there is no confirmation of the statement of La Patrie that he had been arrested for complicity in the Henry forgery.

General Combes, assistant chief of the general staff, who tendered his resignation on Wednesday to M. Cavalagnie, minister for war, has been persuaded to withdraw it, as his retirement under the age limit will occur next month.

The bill in news, however, has in no way limited the popular excitement. The latest cartoon of M. Forain happily hits off the situation. It represents two soldiers—one standing, the other sitting on a bench and reading a newspaper—"What are you reading?" asks the former, "about the czar's letter?" "No, sir," he replies, "about the Henry affair."

Speculation is keenest over the motives for Lieutenant Colonel Henry's suicide. Looking to the view the whole nation has adopted regarding the guilt of Dreyfus, it is regarded that Henry may have supposed he was acting in the country's interests even in forging the letter, which would satisfy the nation of the justice of the sentence without production of the real evidence, which would be understood on the highest political grounds. In that case Henry might have posed as a martyr to misguided patriotism.

The traditions of the intelligence department, which, at the time of the condemnation of Dreyfus, was under a conspicuous anti-semitic, Colonel Sandherr, would probably have led a blunt mind like Lieutenant Colonel Henry to construe the slightest hint from above of the desirability of killing off the anti-Dreyfus agitation to an order to do so by any means.

Colonel Sandherr, who was then suffering from incipient paralysis, seems to have been the head of a general conspiracy to hunt Jewish officers out of the French army. Dreyfus, a man of haughty demeanor, of vast strategic knowledge, would naturally be selected as a victim of these machinations.

It is asserted that Colonel Sandherr's last days were haunted by a fear, amounting to terror, lest the illegal and flippant nature of the evidence upon which Captain Dreyfus was condemned should be revealed and weaken the prestige of the intelligence department, and that he enjoined upon Henry, his subordinate, to guard the department's traditions at all costs.

The carelessness of the authorities in allowing Henry to have a razor and not watching him is generally interpreted as connivance and perhaps as persuasion, since officers under arrest and likely to be condemned should, according to military regulations, be constantly watched, while Lieutenant Colonel Henry was left for hours alone and allowed to lock the door on the inside.

If there were persuasion, it is not likely to have been direct. Had Henry been expelled from the army, both himself and wife would have lost all pension rights. As it is, the widow becomes entitled to a handsome pension. This seems a more likely motive than the explanation, based upon the alleged incriminating letter he left behind, that he had lost his reason.

Colonel Henry left letters addressed to the minister for war and to General Boisdeffre, in which he protested that he had not realized the gravity of the act which he committed "solely for the good of the cause."

Having died uncondemned his remains are entitled to military honors, but his brother will take the body to Pungy, near Chalons, where it will be buried tomorrow with the strictest privacy.

Several officers of the general staff, it is said tonight, have asked to be sent back to their regiments. General Renouar, the new chief of staff, is understood to have a free hand and to be at liberty to replace all the staff officers if he thinks fit. It is expected that he will resort to a process of purification.

The government's position is most unhappy. Notice of interpellations in the chamber of deputies multiply. President Faure is censured for leaving Paris at such a critical moment. Great efforts are being made to get the signatures of a majority of the deputies, which is a necessary preliminary to a convocation of the chamber.

The movement in favor of a revision in the Dreyfus case is growing by leaps and bounds. Count Esterhazy retains an amazingly cool attitude. In the course of an interview yesterday he expressed astonishment that Lieutenant Colonel Henry was allowed to have a razor. Henry's death, he said, was regrettable, "because it bottles up the other revelations to make." Count Esterhazy intends to appeal against his enforced retirement from active service in the army.

Discovered by a Woman. Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastens its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been completely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at A. W. Waley's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

Receipts and Expenditures. Washington, Sept. 2.—The monthly statement of receipts and expenditures of the government for August shows that the receipts from all sources aggregated $1,782,107, an increase of $2,759,693 over August, 1897. The expenditures for the month aggregated $54,260,715, an increase of $2,762,670. The heavy increases on both sides of the ledger are due to the war expenditures on the one side and the internal revenue law on the other.

THE ARBITRATORS.

American Business Interests Before Our Commissioners.

BOSTONIANS URGE RECIPROACITY.

The Lumber Industry, the Pulp Paper Interests and the New England Fishermen, However, Urge No Change in the Existing Tariffs.

Quebec, Sept. 2.—Yesterday was the busiest and most important day so far in the history of the Quebec conference. During the forenoon the representatives of four leading interests of the United States were heard by the American commissioners, and at 2 p. m., the joint session began at the parliament building and lasted until late in the evening.

The three important industries which were heard in the morning were the lumber industry, the New England fisheries and the pulp paper industry. The men representing these industries all talked for the same thing, viz: That the present duties affecting their respective industries be not changed. They asked the American commissioners not to enter into any agreement with the Canadian government whereby their own lines of trade would be disturbed.

The Boston chamber of commerce was also given a hearing before the American commissioners, but the arguments of the Boston men was along entirely different lines. They asked for a modification of the trade relations with Canada, and that relations as near to absolute reciprocity as possible be secured. The chamber of commerce was represented by Osborne Hayes, H. Hall and E. G. Preston, Mr. Hayes, during a talk after the hearing, said:

"What we desire is a chance to sell our manufactured goods in the Canadian markets. We believe in asking this of the Quebec conference. We are speaking the sentiments of 300,000 workmen along the Canadian border of the United States. In Massachusetts alone, the manufacturers of goods each year want a market for these goods. We do not fear competition, for we have the greatest wealth and facilities on our side."

The Gloucester fishermen were represented by Sylvester Cunningham and Sylvanus Smith. Speaking for the New England fishermen, Mr. Cunningham said they desired the laws governing their industry to remain unchanged. He said they could not afford to do away with the present duty on Canadian fish for the privilege of free entry into the New England waters for fish. "To establish free trade in the Atlantic fisheries now," he said, "would mean the certain transferring of the American fishing industry to the Canadian borders."

The United States lumber industry, represented by Smith S. Randall of Maine, Charles W. Goodyear of Buffalo and S. T. McKnight of Minneapolis, asked for the same action on the part of the conference. The present duties imposed upon Canadian lumber should remain. To remove the duties would well nigh destroy the industry in the United States, and to lower them would mean serious injury to the American interests.

Warner Miller, representing the pulp paper interests, made a similar argument. He asked that the tariff on pulp and paper remain as now fixed. The American commissioners listened to the arguments as presented, but gave no indication as to what action would be taken concerning any of the subjects by the joint commission.

It is said that in the joint session the Alaskan boundary question continued to be the subject of discussion. Senator Fairbanks was asked last night if he could indicate what the outcome of the conference would be. He replied that so far the work had been satisfactory, and all that had been expected by either side. The attitude of the delegations who have appeared here in opposition to any steps in the way of reciprocity cause Canadians to predict that the commissioners will be unable to accomplish all they have undertaken to do. They say that Canada wants reciprocity above all things.

When you call for DeWitt's don't accept counterfeits or frauds. You will not be disappointed with DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, the great pile cure. C. H. Hagenbach.

This decrease is accounted for by a corresponding increase in the cash on hand, due to the receipts from the war loan.

Canton's Welcome to McKinley. Canton, O., Sept. 2.—A grand demonstration occurred here at noon yesterday in honor of President McKinley and Secretary of State Day. Out of respect for the president's expressed wish that his present visit be informal, the affair was to be a considerable extent unorganized, and partook largely of the nature of a spontaneous outburst of enthusiasm. The people of the community turned out en masse, and from the depot to the Bay View residence, where the McKinleys were the guests of Mrs. McKinley's sister, the streets were bright and cheerful with flags and other displays of the national colors. Between 4 and 5 o'clock the party boarded a special train and proceeded eastward.

TRAMPS WRECK A TRAIN.

Three People Killed and Nine Others Injured, None Fatally.

Fulton, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Train No. 5 on the New York Ontario and Western railroad, known as "the Chicago limited," was wrecked at Ingal's Crossing, four miles south of this village, at 5 o'clock in the morning. The wreck was doubtless due to the dastardly work of tramps, who threw open the switch at which the train was wrecked, as well as two switches to the north of the wreck.

The engine was thrown 20 feet and blown to pieces. The tender was inverted. The trucks of the baggage car were torn off and the head coach telescoped the baggage car. A vestibuled chair car and the sleeper Farragut were derailed, but neither was badly damaged. Engineer David and Fireman Hall both jumped and were found under the wreckage of the tender by passengers from the sleeper. Both were alive at the time, but David died in a few minutes, and Hall succumbed to his injuries three hours later. The body of brakeman Osborne was torn in two. Eight passengers and the baggage master were injured, none fatally.

Overholt, president and superintendent, respectively, of the Springfield mines. The two officials were taken out of their buggy by the mob and carried in the direction of the mines. Gov. Dr. Millard, a minister of Pana, made a plea to the miners to release the Overholts, and was knocked on the head with a revolver. The seizure was made for the purpose of demanding the surrender of negro miners who had been working in union men's places. The Messrs. Overholt were released at 9 o'clock last night.
