THE HOOKIES PICNIC.

Attended by an Immense Gathering of People—Successful Test.

The picnic of the Resene Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, of town, at High Point park yesterday was a grand success in all respects. The attendance was the largest that has been at the park this season and the result was very satisfactory to the company from a financial point of view. The affair was equally gratifying socially and the many families who attended spent an exceedingly pleasant time. There were refreshments in abundant on the grounds and excellent dancing music was furnished. The committee of arrangements were active and nothing occurred during the day to mar the pleasure of the vast throng. In the early evening there was a very entertaining and pleasing feature—the testing of the company's chemical engine. This attracted visitors from many places, Mahanoy City being especially well represented. Preparatory to the test a good sized wooden sled was erected and filled with inflammable material. This, with the structure, was saturated with coal oil and benzine. The torch was then applied and after the flames had secured a good hold a squad of the Hookies set to work with the chemical apparatus, extinguishing the fire in a remarkably short time. A second test was equally as successful and the spectators were well satisfied with the demonstration.

A RECRUIT'S LETTER.

Few Items From a Shenandoah Man at Fortress Monroe.

The following communication dated at Fortress Monroe has been received from Allen M. Miller, one of the recruits sent there from town a few weeks ago:

Brother Hawks: All the Shenandoah boys here except one named Murphy are well. Murphy took sick last night, 3rd inst.
The boys would like the people at home to send them some tobacco, and many of them are getting sick because the girls don't write to them. The boys look good in their new uniforms. The first squad that arrived here from Shenandoah was distributed among different batteries, but the last squad was put in a body in Battery B.
They are going to put 200 men in one battery.
Many of the sick soldiers from Cuba are now here. They are dying at the rate of one a day. The First Maryland will go to Maryland next week. Fred Grubler is anxious to get a letter from home. It is very hot here and the boys frequently drop under the heat. Hiram Newelover says he will not go home again. He is enjoying life here immensely and says that had he known of the life here he would have enlisted long ago.

Miss Clara Thropp Arrives.

At eleven o'clock this morning Miss Clara Thropp and her splendid company of operatic comedians started in town. Miss Thropp is looking exceedingly well and happy on her return from London, where she made a distinct hit at the Duke of York theatre.
She will appear to-night at Ferguson's theatre in Leopold Jordan's operatic comedy, "Where's Matilda?" She looks a perfect dream in the role of Matilda. Her voice has gained wonderfully in sweetness of tone since her last appearance in America. Accompanied by this charming comedienne is Mr. Leopold Jordan, the author of the play.
This is an exceptional treat to theatre goers to see Miss Thropp and her company of well known favorites.

DEATH'S
CROSSING.

Awful Accident on the Rail at Cohoes, N. Y.

TROLLEY CAR OUT IN TWO.

Passengers Hurl'd to Death Without a Moment's Warning.

EIGHTEEN DEAD AND TEN DYING.

The Trolley Car, Crowded to Overflowing, Was Crashed Into by a Train on the Delaware and Hudson Railroad—The Passengers Were a Merry Party Returning from a Labor Day Picnic—Bodies Terribly Mangled and Dismembered—A Scene of Horror.

Cohoes, N. Y., Sept. 6.—An appalling disaster occurred in this city last night.
Shortly before 8 o'clock a trolley car of the Troy City Railroad company was struck by the night boat special of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, at a crossing at the west end of the Hudson river bridge, which connects this city with Lansingburg, and its load of human freight was hurled into the air. Eighteen of the 35 passengers are dead, and at least ten of the remainder will die.

The cars entering the city from Lansingburg were crowded with passengers returning from a Labor Day picnic at Honesdale Park, a pleasure resort near Troy. Car No. 192, of the Troy City railroad, was the victim of the disaster. It came over the bridge about 7:35 o'clock, laden with a merry party of people, fresh from the enjoyment of the day.

The crossing where the accident occurred is at grade. Four tracks of the Delaware and Hudson road, which run north and south at this point, cross the two tracks of the trolley road.
The tracks of the street line run at a grade from the bridge to the point where the disaster took place.

In consequence of this fact and of the frequent passage of trains it has been the rule for each motor car conductor to stop his car and go forward to observe the railroad tracks and signal his car to proceed if no trains were in sight. It cannot be ascertained whether that rule was complied with on this occasion, for all events prior to the crash had been forgotten by those who were involved.

The motor car was struck directly in the center by the engine of the train, which was going at a high rate of speed. The accident came without the slightest warning. The car was upon the tracks before the train was in sight, and no power on earth could have saved it. The motorman evidently saw the train approaching as he reached the track and opened his throttle, but in vain. With a crash that was heard for blocks the engine crashed into the trolley vehicle, the effect was horrible. The motor car parted in two, both sections being hurled into the air in splinters. The mass of humanity, for the car was crowded to overflowing, was torn and mangled. Those in the front of the car met with the worst fate. The force of the collision was there experienced to the greatest degree, and every human being in that section of the car was killed.

The scene was horrible. Bodies had been hurled into the air and their headless and limbless trunks were found in some cases 50 feet from the crossing.
The rest of the motor car was smashed and amid its wreckage were the maimed corpses of two women. The passengers of the train suffered no injury in addition to a violent shock. The majority of the passengers of the trolley car were young people. They included many women.

Many of the accident the bloody corpses were placed in boxes and taken to a neighboring mill shed. Many of them were unrecognizable. The crash was frightful in its results. Headless women with gay summer dresses bathed the water. The bodies of the women limbs without trunks or any means of identifying to whom they belonged; women's and men's heads with crushed and distorted features; bodies crushed and flattened; those sights constituted a spectacle most horrible to behold.

The train of the Delaware and Hudson road, immediately after the accident proceeded to Troy. The engineer stated that he did not see the car until he was upon it. He tried to prevent his train from striking the car, but his efforts were fruitless. His train was going at a very high rate of speed at the time. In consequence of the caution taken by the trolley road to ascertain if the tracks were clear at this crossing, the engineers of trains have always felt safe in running at a high rate of speed. The engineer thinks that the motorman, when he saw the train was upon him, tried to get beyond the danger line. The grade of this crossing and the speed at which his car was going also made it impossible for him to stop before he reached the Delaware and Hudson tracks. It was the front end of his car that caught the crash, and the motorman was killed outright.

The following dead bodies have been identified thus far: Archie Campaux, of Cohoes; James Temple, Lansingburg; Edward Barney, Cohoes; Mrs.
John Craven, Cohoes; Miss Kittie Craven, Cohoes; Joseph Senz, Cohoes; Nelson Sweet, 12 years, Cohoes; Mrs. Ella McElroy, Cohoes; Mrs. John W. Sulcliffe, Cohoes.

Among the injured are: Isaac Shaw, Cohoes, skull fractured; George Ankers, Cohoes, injured internally; John W.
Sutcliffe, Cohoes, head cut and ribs broken; Mrs. Linscott, Cohoes, collar bone fractured and several ribs broken; she had a baby in her arms, which was crushed and will die; Emma Devashire, Cohoes, skull fractured; Mrs. James Temple, Lansingburg, jaw fractured and injured internally; Mrs.
Ira Dewey, Cohoes, head crushed.

DEATHS FROM WANT OF CARE

Health Reports Disclose a Pitiful Condition of Affairs.

CHILDREN ARE THE VICTIMS!

Seven Died During the Month of August From Want of Medical Attendance—One Thus Far This Month.

The Board of Health has before it a ve-ritations problem which, for the sake of humanity, needs a solution, and that at an early day, as the lives of many children in the town are being sacrificed.

The subject is brought up by the following return made by a physician to the office of the Board of Health to-day:

"Francis Yakowitz, aged three years, suffering of diphtheritic croup; residence, 434 West Huckleberry alley."

Appended to the return was a note that women and children are visiting the house and some of the children are of school age.
A verbal report was also made that another child of the same family has died from cholera infantum, and apparently without medical attendance.

The Board of Health has full power to prevent people from visiting houses where contagious diseases exist, and it has always enforced it, as it will no doubt do in the case referred to. This is not the point upon which the problem hinges. It is the neglect to give suffering children proper medical attendance, and this is not the only case in which it has occurred. Quite to the contrary, there were reported to the Board of Health during the month of August no less than seven cases of a similar character. It is not charged that they arise from wilful neglect of parents, although it is well known that among some of the foreign classes which help make up this community, there seems to be disposition to delay the calling in of a physician until almost the last stage, and in nine cases out of ten the call for relief is late. It is known that in at least half the cases in which children have died recently from want of medical attendance the parents have been handicapped by poverty. There is no physician in the town who would refuse to answer a call to the bedside of a child whose life depended upon his attention, but it almost invariably occurs that the physicians are not called upon, as already stated, until the diseases reach the critical stage, because the parents try to handle the case themselves without incurring an expense which they do not feel able to meet.

The position of the Board of Health is this: There is little, if anything to be gained by prosecuting the parents for failure to summon medical aid at the proper time, aside from the fact that it would be most difficult to prove that the neglect was wilful. Therefore, the next best step, and the one most in keeping with the principles of humanity, is to provide a fund whereby medical attendance can be given in such cases as those referred to. The county physician cannot be appealed to because he is required to care only for those who are drawing county relief, and that keeps him busy. The Board of Health cannot disburse money for the purpose, because it has no appropriation to draw upon for such an expense, and the Borough Council is in the same position.

There seems but one source of relief at hand at present, and that seems to be the raising of a fund by public subscription. It could be placed with the Board of Health to be disbursed by its officers and the Health officer in such cases as may be found upon investigation to be worthy of relief. The Board of Health is constantly in touch with all cases of the kind and would be in a better position than private organizations could attain to determine when and where the relief would be needed.

Returned From Klondike.
Saturday evening Joseph Davis, of Shamo kin, and Henry Wagner, of Girardville, returned from the Klondike gold fields, disgusted with the country. They state that the stories about gold finds are exaggerated and that they found no claims worth working, having ascended the Yukon river many miles above Dawson City. John Gillespie returned with the party as far as Seattle.

Goals to Rome.
Michael J. Gough, of Hazleton, has received from the Bishop the appointment as one of two clerical students, to a four years' course in the American College at Rome. Mr.
Gough has already finished a three years' course in St. Bonaventure College, at Albuquerque, N. Y. He leaves for Rome about the middle of next month and will be absent four years.

office now located at Delano will be removed to Hazleton in the near future. The gravel train may also be transferred.

William Frans, of Win. Penn, who had his back broken by a fall of coal at the Win.
Penn colliery last Wednesday, is in a critical condition at the Miners' hospital. It was feared he would die last night, but to-day he was slightly improved. His case is hopeless.

Here it's a question of how much or how little. No matter how much coin you have, you'll find it has more purchasing power with us than elsewhere. It is not because your dollars contain more metal for us, but because we are satisfied with smaller tolls. If we can't give you a fair equivalent we don't want your money.
