JUDGE KOCH NOMINATED

Named by Acclamation With Brumm and Edwards.

OTHER REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

Strong Efforts Were Made by the Brumm Faction to Knock Out Snyder, But the Latter Was Nominated For Controller on the Third Ballot.

Special to EVENING HERALD.

Pottsville, Sept. 12, 1893. The Republican county convention was held here in Union hall this morning, to place in nomination candidates for Judge, Congress, District Attorney, Controller, Poor Director, Coroner and Surveyor.

The preliminaries were of a marked character. Few delegates arrived here last night, ninety per cent. of them putting in appearance this morning, while some arrived as late as an hour before the opening of the convention, at 9 o'clock. The candidates opened their headquarters last night. Frank Scanlan and Dr. W. N. Stein, the Shenandoah candidates for Poor Director and Coroner, respectively, held forth in adjoining rooms at the Merchants' hotel, at which place were also the headquarters of the County Chairman. Here, too, just across the corridor from Chairman Shay's rooms, Charles A. Snyder met his friends and extended the organization of the delegates. Dr. Bricker, Charles F. Shindle and William Carter had rooms in Cogan's cafe, while John Edwards, of Ashland, and John W. Heffner were at the Exchange. Poor Director Middleton, had no headquarters, but was active all over. Neither Judge Koch nor David C. Henning, the two judicial candidates, opened "reception rooms," but both were in consultation with the leaders of their respective factions.

The indications at one time last evening pointed to an interesting convention. Mr. Brumm was in frequent consultation in an endeavor to dictate the organization of the convention, especially the chairmanship. The friends of Koch and Snyder were just as determined that he should not do so, and in this they were strongly supported by Judge Koch. The latter was in consultation with the anti-Brumm people at a late hour last night, and his honor gave the Minersville statesman to understand that he would not be allowed to dictate, and used emphatic language in demonstrating what would happen if Brumm insisted upon naming the chairman. Judge Koch was highly commended upon his manly stand, even by the Brumm people.

Mr. Brumm divided his time between his own office and the Journal station. His one fight was the defeat of Snyder and the nomination of Berger for Controller, although he pretended to be for Shindle, who cut a very small figure in the preliminaries. The Congressman had several encounters during the night, in at least one of which he got the worst of it. He was in the headquarters and demanded from the general Controller a retraction for certain accusations he claimed the latter had made. But before Mr. Brumm retired from the room he found he had the wrong end of the encounter. Mr. Brumm is either losing his head, or else he is endeavoring to make a party, and success in November for the entire ticket.

At least one thing was evident: Mr. Brumm could easily have been defeated for re-nomination had there been a candidate against him. It did not take a political prophet to determine this. However, there being no other name presented to the convention, Mr. Brumm felt at liberty to enter the other contests, which he did with considerable energy.

FIGHT FOR CHAIRMAN.

The Brumm people having assumed the authority to name the chairman of the convention, selected Hon. Elias Davis as their choice. This did not take a political prophet to determine this. However, there being no other name presented to the convention, Mr. Brumm felt at liberty to enter the other contests, which he did with considerable energy.

This morning the fight for chairman overshadowed all others, and the word was quickly passed around by the Brumm and Koch leaders requesting their friends to fall in line. Judge Koch, who considers that he is not treated with the consideration due him on the chairmanship yesterday, was at his office early this morning receiving his friends, and requested that they vote for Shay as the presiding officer.

THE CONVENTION.

Chairman Shay was late in making his appearance at the convention hall, the delay in making up the roll causing his tardiness. Much time was spent in arranging the preliminaries after the chairman's arrival, and it was 11:15 o'clock before the delegates were seated and ready for business.

Secretary Duffy read the official call for the convention, after which the roll of the delegates was called.

THE PERMANENT CHAIRMAN.

Nominations for permanent chairman being in order, Hon. Elias Davis, of Broad Mountain, and A. L. Shay, Esq., of Pottsville, were nominated, whereupon Mr. Shay, then acting as temporary chairman, called Dr. A. L. Gilliam, of Pottsville, to the chair, pending the voting for permanent chairman which resulted as follows:

Shay 109 1/2 Davis 97 1/2 Total number of votes cast, 207. Necessary to a choice, 129.

The entire vote of Shenandoah was cast for Davis, while Wm. Penn lined up for Shay and Mahanoy City gave Davis 5 and Shay 7.

Chairman Davis was escorted to the chair and, in his well known manner, thanked the delegates for the honor conferred upon him. During his remarks he said that he had noticed, for the first time in the history of the Republican party, that posters were placed in public houses offering a reward for bribery during the Republican convention. He declared there were no bribers in the convention. The speaker paid a tribute to President McKinley, Congressman Brumm and the United States Senators, and declared that no good Republican could desert the present Congressman. In closing his remarks Mr. Davis indignantly exclaimed, "Forget the Legislature and remember the Maine!"

Eleven vice presidents were named. Among them were David Morgan, of St. Clair; Frank A. Everett, of Broadview, and K. D. Reese, of Shenandoah.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED.

The chairman then announced the following committees: Credentials—H. B. Fleisher, Auburn; Frank Moore, Pottsville; John Nagle, Ashland; James Alexander, Mahanoy township; David Morgan, St. Clair; Thomas Garvin, Port Carbon. Resolutions—C. C. Matten, Pottsville; Thomas Dove, Jr., Shenandoah; Mr. Jones, Towey City; John Tannoy, Mahanoy township; David Morgan, St. Clair; Henry Wagner, Tamaqua.

KOCH FOR JUDGE.

The chair then declared nominations in order before adjournment and C. C. Matten, of Pottsville, presented the name of Hon. H. Koch for Judge in a lengthy address, in which he paid an eloquent tribute to the present member of the bench, and declared that the Republican party had shown itself to be favorable to a non-partisan judiciary. He condemned the action of the Democratic convention in ignoring the president set in this county by electing a judiciary outside of political party considerations.

Mr. Brumm moved that the nomination be made by acclamation. It should be understood that the Brumm people had previously withdrawn Henning's name, because they were aware that Judge Koch would not enter a contest for the nomination, and they immediately submitted to the inevitable and Henning's name was not presented to the convention.

BRUMM AND EDWARDS. Congressman Brumm was renominated for Congress without opposition.

S. B. Edwards, Esq., of Pottsville, was nominated by acclamation for District Attorney amid much applause, clearly showing that he was the choice of the delegates.

METHOD IN THE MAKE UP.

The object of making the nominations for Judge, Congressman and District Attorney amid much applause, clearly showing that he was the choice of the delegates. The convention adjourned at 12:30 to meet again at 1:30 p. m.

THE CONTROLLER—FIRST BALLOT.

The convention re-convened at two o'clock, when nominations for Controller were made as follows: Charles E. Berger, Cresona; W. W. Edwards, Ashland; Charles F. Shindle, Tamaqua; Charles A. Snyder, Pottsville. County Commissioner Kantner made the nominating speech in favor of Mr. Snyder and asked the convention to take into consideration the fact that the present Controller was appointed by the Governor and that the Republican ticket should be ratified by the Republican convention assembled.

Mr. Brumm seconded the nomination of Shindle in a bitter speech directed at Snyder. He declared that Pottsville and the vicinity already had three candidates and said Tamaqua and the Second Legislative district demanded a representative on the ticket. He declared that if this was not done the ticket nominated to-day would be defeated, because of inaction on the part of the Republicans.

C. C. Breckons, Esq., arose and said he heartily seconded the nomination of Mr. Berger, and said that, so far as location was concerned, the man he favored was entitled to the consideration. He said that the question of location should have been considered before the other candidates were named.

The roll call was then proceeded with and resulted on the first ballot as follows: Snyder 109 1/2 Berger 97 1/2 Edwards 97 1/2 Total number of votes, 207. Necessary for a choice, 129.

The Shenandoah votes on the first ballot was as follows: For Snyder—Anderson, Schoppe, Dove, Hart, Evans, Cale and Ringheiser, making a total of nine votes. For Edwards—Morris and Shipp, two votes. Shindle, the Brumm candidate, did not get a vote. Shindle, the Brumm candidate, did not get the vote of E. C. Brobst.

SECOND BALLOT.

Snyder 118 1/2 Berger 24 1/2 Shindle 36 Edwards 29 Necessary to a choice, 129 1/2. Whole number cast, 207.

The second ballot the Shenandoah delegates gave 11 votes to Snyder and one to Edwards. Shindle received no votes from the town on this ballot. Brobst and Shipp changed to Snyder, leaving only one vote in that town against Snyder, and that vote was held by Delegate Morris.

SNYDER NOMINATED.

The result of the third ballot was as follows: Snyder 143 1/2 Berger 108 Edwards 55 Necessary to a choice, 129 1/2. Total number of votes 258.

On this ballot Ashland changed from Berger to Snyder, and the Broadview delegate from Edwards to Snyder.

The vote of Shenandoah was 11 for Snyder, Ringheiser voting for Shindle.

At the hour the Herald went to press the indications were that the convention would complete its slate by nominating Middleton for Poor Director, Stein for Coroner, and Bowman for County Surveyor.

NOTES.

Mr. Brumm "tackled" the delegates from the Third ward in Shenandoah, but met with the cold shoulder. He now wishes he hadn't. Every arrangement was made for the press. Only those holding tickets of admission were entitled to the low floor. The galleries, however, were thrown open to the public.

Mr. Brumm issued orders to his Shenandoah followers that he wanted the entire delegation from that town to vote for Shindle.

John F. Finney, the recently appointed Sub-Treasurer, is more interested in the Legislative fight than any other. He is booming Gus Schrick.

Dr. W. N. Stein's headquarters were crowded during Sunday night and to-day, and he gave them all the glad hand. Brumm, Koch and Snyder are delegates to the convention. The Schuykill Haven statesman was elected by but very majority. The Brumm people put up a stiff fight against him, but were unsuccessful.

M. J. Lawlor represented the News, registering at the Park hotel Sunday night. The platform builders were at work during the night. The personnel of the of the committee on resolutions determines the fate of that document. Register Kocse did "the grand" at the Elk

ANARCHY'S VICTIM

Austria's Murdered Empress Was Stabbed to the Heart.

THE ASSASSIN'S BRUTALITY.

Rejoices That His Cowardly Thrust Was Effective.

THE BEREFT EMPRESS'S GRIEF.

Francis Joseph Bears Up Well Under the Strain, and His Courage Excites Admiration—The Assassin Declares That He Acted Entirely on His Own Responsibility, But It is Believed His Act Was the Result of a Widespread Conspiracy to Include the Murder of Other Royalties.

Vienna, Sept. 12.—The plans for the funeral of the late Empress Elizabeth, who was assassinated by an anarchist on Saturday at Geneva, contemplate bringing the remains to Vienna next Thursday, a lying-in-state on Friday, and the obsequies of interment on Saturday.

The assassin is Luigi Luitini, a native of Italy and an ex-Italian soldier. He had been working as a stone mason in this vicinity, and last month he took the preliminary steps to become a naturalized Swiss. His application papers, however, he withdrew last Monday. The Italian records show that Luitini was an illegitimate child and took his mother's name. He has been twice arrested as a defaulter from military service.

The foul crime is said to be the outcome of an anarchist conspiracy, which comprehended the murder of other sovereigns, including the emperor of Austria. The desperado wielded a three-bladed file, very slender and sharp. The weapon inflicted at one single blow a mortal wound, the keen instrument piercing the breast of the unfortunate victim just above the heart. Internal bleeding ensued, and after a priest, who had been hastily summoned, had administered extreme unction to the dying woman she expired in great agony.

The empress had been for several days a guest at a sanitarium, and was walking from the hotel when the mur-derer committed his atrocious crime. After having been stabbed the empress arose and walked on board the steamer. He had been waiting for her, and did not wish to put off from the quay, but did so at the request of the empress and her suite, there being no apprehension that she was seriously hurt. The steamer was turned back before reaching the open lake, and the empress, unconscious, was carried to the hotel on a stretcher. Doctors and priests were immediately summoned, and a telegram was sent to Emperor Francis Joseph. Efforts to revive her majesty were unavailing, and she expired at 4 o'clock.

After striking the blow the assassin ran along the Rue des Alpes, with the evident intention of entering the Square des Alpes, but before reaching it he was seized by two cabmen who had witnessed the crime. They handed him over to a boatman and a gendarme, who conveyed him to the police station. The prisoner made no resistance. He even sang as he walked along, saying: "I did it," and "She must be dead." At the police station he declared that he was a "starving anarchist, with no hatred for the poor, but only for the rich." Throughout the examination of the assassin his demeanor was one of revolting cynicism. He frankly congratulated himself upon the success of his crime. He said: "I am an anarchist, but I belong to no committee. I acted on my own initiative. Let them do as they like with me. That is my strength." He added that he regretted that the death penalty does not exist in the canton where the tragedy occurred.

The autopsy on the body of the murdered empress took place yesterday. It showed that both the lung and heart were pierced by the assassin's dagger. The examination showed an almost imperceptible wound. The file having penetrated the heart and not causing exterior bleeding.

A file found late last evening in the passage of a house on the Rue des Alpes has been identified by the assassin as the weapon he used. As yet the authorities have found no confirmation that the murder was part of an anarchist conspiracy, but a dozen persons with whom the assassin associated have been arrested for examination.

Empress Elizabeth was about returning to Caix, France, when she was murdered. Her suite had proceeded by train, leaving with her only the maid of honor, Countess Szapary, and a man servant.

The last words of the empress were addressed to the attendants on the steamer. Recovering consciousness for the moment, she feebly asked what had happened.

The empress's fortitude is the topic of universal admiration. He is bearing up manfully despite the fearful shock, which, in view of his age, had inspired the gravest apprehension. Although at first stunned and slightly hysterical, he soon regained his self control, and displayed remarkable calmness. Occasionally, however, completely overpowered by his grief, he moaned piteously, repeatedly sobbing the name of the empress. Addressing Prince Von Liechstein, chief marshal of the imperial household, he exclaimed: "It is inconceivable how a man could lift his hand against one who never in her life injured anybody, who did nothing but good." Then he moaned: "Nothing is spared to me in this world." He managed to sleep several hours Saturday night, and said yesterday he felt comparatively well, discouraging the attempts of his attendants to display solicitude for his health.

The shock of the news created one of the court squabbles who rushed from the palace to Burghard's shrieking: "Where is the murderer of our empress?" Dispatches of condolence are arriving at the palace from all parts of the world, testifying to profound horror and sympathy. Among them are messages from President McKinley, from Emperor William and from nearly all the European sovereigns.

The Swiss federal council met at Geneva yesterday morning, and sent the following telegram to Emperor Francis Joseph:

"The Swiss federal council has the honor to express to your majesty its profoundest grief and deepest indignation at the horrible crime to which her majesty, Empress Elizabeth, has fallen victim. Our pain and indignation are all the greater owing to the foul crime having been committed on Swiss territory, where the departed, as she had often done before, was seeking recovery from bodily sufferings, which recovery, as on previous occasions, she had every hope of finding. The council hastens to assure your majesty, at the same time, of its warmest sympathy and that of the whole Swiss people in the irreparable loss your majesty, the imperial house and the people of Austria and Hungary have suffered through your exalted lady's death."

Chappelle's Cinch.

Some four years ago when "The Limited Mail" was first given here, Mitchell Hutchinson wagered a box of Perfectas with Agent Chappelle, that he, the agent, was in error when he claimed he was dead sure that Vance would "back Ferguson's theatre and people would be turned away." The company did not turn up, and the amounting to $325.50. Mr. Chappelle enjoyed the cigars all right, and when he registered at the Ferguson House on Friday and announced that Vance was coming, and that the company was to remain a week, "Hutch" thought he saw a chance to get even on that box of 500 cigars. "Odds even, more cigars," asked the genial host, "Sirs," said "Chapp," "A box of the same sort, that we turn people away, three nights out of the six." They shook hands over it when Attorney Coyle remarked, "I'll take half of that bet, but how Vance can carry such a big company and stage every piece as he is sure to do and plays at 10, 20 and 30 cents is a mystery to me." "What?" interrupted Mr. Hutchinson; "play at ten, twenty and thirty? Here, call up all your friends and smoke with me now; at that price you'll turn 'em away every night—now, put one in your pocket, you're betting on a dead certainty." This excellent company opens to-night with "The Limited Mail."

Grand Jury's Report.

The Grand Jury reported having passed upon 100 bills of indictment of which 59 were returned as true bills and 41 as ignored bills. Of the latter, the costs in 12 were placed on the prosecutors and in four on the county. The county prison was visited and the discipline and management were found good. Some minor repairs are needed about the building. The Almshouse was also found in good shape except that the ice house and slaughter house should be replaced by new structures. A better water supply is also needed as are also fire escapes on the main building. The phosphate factory in North Mahanoy township just south of Pottsville is declared a nuisance and should be moved farther away from the public road. The Grand Jury regretted its inability to deal out costs, and impose the same in many cases upon the Justices of the Peace returning them to court. Some remedy should be secured to check it.

Leg Cut Off.

Samuel Strah, of Girardville, had one of his legs cut off by a train on the Reading road at Philadelphia. Mr. Strah quit work at the mines several weeks ago to seek employment. He is a painter by trade, but being unable to secure employment as such, he accepted a job as brakeman on the Reading freight between Philadelphia and Tamaqua.

At Payne's nursery, Girardville, you will find the largest stock ever seen in the county.

Mr. Brumm's Dilemma.

The Minersville Free Press says that the movement in behalf of Mrs. Alex. Smith for postmistress of that town has become so formidable that Congressman Brumm will hardly dare resist it. The Congressman is in a deep quandary. He doesn't know whether to consider the people or his own selfish interests.
