Liver Trouble

When the yellow flag of quarantine is hoisted over a dwelling it means disease and danger. So when the yellow flag flies in the face—when the cheek is sallow and the clear white of the eye is dyed saffron—there is danger. It is liver trouble. The liver is one of the most important organs of the body. On the proper discharge of its functions depend human health and happiness. When the liver fails of its duty, poisons at once begin to generate, and other organs of the body become involved. Never neglect the liver if you value health. If you are suffering from liver trouble, begin at once the use of AYER'S PILLS and you will find prompt relief and permanent cure.

"I was so weakened by liver trouble that I could scarcely lift my head. While in this condition I began the use of Ayer's Pills, and finding almost immediate benefit, continued their use until I was cured of my complaint."

MAHANOY CITY.

The Working Time in That Vicinity Is Improving.

Mahanoy City, Sept. 15.—The collieries of Lehigh & Company at Park Hill, Pa., will be six full days this week and, from present indications, will work full time next week. The Primrose colliery, operated by the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, will work five full days this week.

J. D. Laidacker, agent for the Penna. R. Co., says Boston is considered the best road for the coal traffic. He made the distance between New Boston and Franklin, a little over ten miles, in 27 minutes, which is considered excellent time for that road. There is a deposit of $20 up in Pottsville for a wager that he can beat any man in the county on an all-day ride.

There was a very private and fashionable wedding in the First Presbyterian church last evening, the principals being Franklyn H. Woods, of New Castle, Pa., and Miss M. Stella Woolcock, formerly a public school teacher in this town. Misses Rosetta E. Barlow and Carrie T. Hess, both of town, were bridesmaids, and James S. Woods, of Huntington, a brother of the bridegroom, was the groomsmen. Messrs. Louis Mackenzie, of Philadelphia, and Thomas L. Patterson, of town, were ushers, Miss Grace Woolcock, sister of the bride, maid of honor, and Miss Mary Parabley, of Carlisle, flower girl. Rev. T. Maxwell Morrison, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony.

The coroner's jury in the case of Patrick Barrett, the aged miner who met his death in the Schuylkill colliery on Monday, returned a verdict that the death was accidental. The victim was buried today.

Corporal William Wynn and Private Oliver Shoen, of the 10th Infantry, returned from Camp Blodgett and Joseph Zimmerman, of town, and Private William Wilson, of Mahanoy Plane, are home from Camp Meade on a five-day furlough.

Miss Hattie Beynon, daughter of David Beynon, and John Holman, both of town, will be married this evening at the residence of the bride's parents.

The Salmon-Rogers foot race schedule for the 24th inst. may not come off on that date, the Rogers people having attempted to fluke. Salmon will keep on with his preparations for this race and the 30-yard dash on Oct. 15.

WOODEN MEAT SKEWERS.

Made in Great Variety and Used in Numerous Restaurants.

Wooden meat skewers are made almost exclusively of hickory, and like many other manufactures of wood, they are made in factories located in proximity to the forests where the wood of which they are made is taken. Wooden skewers are made mostly in the west. They are sold in great numbers in Tennessee and Ohio.

Hickory skewers are made in various lengths—4 1/2, 5 1/2, 6 and 7 inches and up to giant skewers 16 inches long, and all but the 4 1/2 inch skewer, which is made of a gauge or diameter of five-thirty-seconds of an inch, are made in two or more gauges. Thus the 6 inch skewer is made in gauges of seven-thirty-seconds, fifteen-sixty-fourths and four-sixteenths of an inch. So that, simple as a thing as a meat skewer may seem to be, it is in reality an article that is made in large variety.

The skewers are made wholly by machinery and are sold very cheap. They are put up in bundles that vary in the number of skewers contained, according to the size of the skewers, and they are packed in cases that vary likewise. Thus the smallest skewers are put up 250 in a bundle and 50,000 in a case. Of 8 inch skewers, six-sixteenths gauge, there are packed 9,600 in a case and so on. Skewers are used for other purposes than skewering meat together. Great numbers of the smallest size are used in markets in tagging meat for delivery. Many larger skewers are used in securing bagging put around quarters of beef for transportation.

Skewers of the smaller sizes are those most used. The total consumption of skewers in this country amounts to billions annually. Large numbers of American skewers are exported, the greater number of those exported being of the larger sizes. We send hickory skewers to England, South Africa, South America and Australia.—New York Sun.

HE GOT A REPUTATION.

Showing How One May Accidentally Have Greatness Thrust Upon Him.

Professor Moses Stuart Phelps used to tell a story about himself which proves that a reputation for wisdom is sometimes very easily acquired: "In the days when he was a graduate student at New Haven he took a walk one morning with Professor Newton, who lives in the world of mathematics. Professor Newton, as is his habit, started off on the discussion of an abstract problem. As the professor went deeper and deeper Mr. Phelps' mind wandered further and further from what was being said. At last Mr. Phelps' attention was called back to his companion by the professor winding up with, "Which, you see, gives us 'x'."

"Does it?" asked Mr. Phelps, thinking that in politeness he ought to reply something.

"Why, doesn't it?" excitedly exclaimed the professor, alarmed at the possibility that a flaw had been detected in his calculations. Quickly his mind ran back over his work. There had indeed been a mistake.

"You are right, Mr. Phelps, you are right," almost shouted the professor. "It doesn't give us 'x'; it gives us 'y'."

And from that hour Professor Newton looked upon Mr. Phelps as a mathematical prodigy. He was the first man who had ever caught the professor tripping. "And so," Mr. Phelps used often to add, with his own peculiar smile, in telling the story, "I achieved a reputation for knowing a thing I know nothing about."—Christian World.

Stand Up, Mr. Floppert!

EDITOR HERALD.—I read with interest several pertinent questions propounded by "Floppert" through last night's issue of your paper to Auditor George Floppert, but discovered that the interrogator had overlooked a couple of "rib-rawsters" which I believe should come before the public to be answered by the respondent ("?"). It is possible that "Floppert" was not acquainted with the facts I refer to as having been omitted and, with your kind permission, I will supply the deficiency by addressing the two very pertinent questions, namely:

Mr. Floppert, is it not true that on Tuesday, last, you went to the District Attorney's office at Pottsville, in company with one of the defendants in the Councilmen's misdemeanor suit, and asked that the District Attorney strike the name of that defendant from the indictment in that case? And is it not true that you were promptly and emphatically told that the District Attorney's office would not be a party to any such proceeding; that if you wanted one name taken off, you would have to do the same with all?

Once more, Mr. Floppert, please. Is it not a fact that you have personally approached one of the two Councilmen who would have a hand in the reconstruction of the Borough Council, with the statement that in case the Councilmen who are defendants in the misdemeanor suit should resign, or be removed by court, you and the other two Borough Auditors who are prosecuting the suit would like to name the men to be selected to fill the vacancies?

TURNED TO STONE.

The Remains of a Well-Known Hazleton Singer Reinterred.

In order to erect the handsome monument dedicated to the memory of the late John Arnold, whose body is interred in the Trinity Catholic cemetery, at Laurel Hill, Hazleton, it was necessary last week to reinter the remains of the late and well-known Joseph Keller, for many years the Concordia's leader and one of the most prominent singers of eastern Pennsylvania.
