DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

The Remains of George Dallas Arrive From Georgia.

The remains of George Dallas, the regular army recruit who died at Camp Lithia Springs, Georgia, last Wednesday from typhoid fever, arrived in town today on the noon P. M. R. train. They were taken in charge by Undertaker E. J. Davies and removed to the residence of the parents on East Centre street. The remains were in a sealed casket enclosed in a rough box. The cover of the box bore several certificates of various officials showing that the remains had been disinfected and embalmed. The funeral will take place at noon to-morrow and proceed by special P. & R. E. train for Tamaqua, where interment will be made. The train will leave Shenandoah at 12:30 p. m. and leave Tamaqua on the return trip at 7 p. m. The funeral services will be held at the home of his parents on East Centre street to-morrow morning at 11:30 o'clock. Rev. Robert O'Boyle officiating.

The funeral of Rees J. Thomas took place at two o'clock this afternoon from the family residence, 427 West Coal street, and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends beside the members of Shenandoah Tribe No. 135, I. O. O. F., M. E. Lodge No. 10, and the members of the Grand Lodge No. 890, I. O. O. F., Anthracite Castle No. 74, K. of G. E., and the Daughters of Pocomtous. The services were held at the residence and interment was made in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.

Mrs. Joseph Horning died yesterday at her home in Pottsville, after a long illness, aged 45 years. Besides her husband, deceased, leaves four children. Her funeral will take place Monday.

Frederick Eisenberg, Sr., of Tamaqua, died yesterday at the Pottsville hospital. He was 62 years old. He was brought to the hospital with his three sons a week ago, suffering with typhoid fever. His body was removed to Tamaqua for burial.

The funeral of Francis, six-year-old son of John A. Wolter, of Mahanoy City, took place this afternoon. Interment was made at Tamaqua.

Mary Irene, daughter of Edward Smith, of Delano, was buried this afternoon. Rev. J. J. Fisher, of Tamaqua, officiated at the services and interment was made at the White Church cemetery, Quakake.

Mary Leitenberger, wife of Henry Leitenberger, a former saloonkeeper of Mahanoy City, died in Philadelphia yesterday after suffering two years from consumption.

Bethelmeus Garman, one of the oldest residents of Mahanoy City, died yesterday in the 78th year. He is survived by his wife and two sons.

Rebecca, 14-month-old daughter of Samuel Draper, of St. Nicholas, died at two o'clock this morning after a week's illness. Her funeral will take place on Monday and interment will be made at Tamaqua.

Dickert's Cafe. Ulmer's Vienna sausage and potato salad for free lunch to-night.

Salt-factory Test. The little village of Ringtown to-day witnessed one of the liveliest demonstrations it has seen for many years. Several months ago the influential citizens decided to equip their fire department with a chemical engine and a contract was awarded for one. Several disappointments were occasioned in its arrival. At last, however, it arrived yesterday. To-day, in the presence of hundreds of people from the surrounding country, it was drawn through the town by gaily decorated horses and afterwards gave a test on the village outskirts. A large frame structure was filled with combustible matter and thoroughly saturated with a mixture of oil and kerosene. After the building was all ablaze the hose was played on the flames. The engine did its work very satisfactorily.

Senator Quay Requests an Inquiry. Washington, Sept. 24.—The postal officials have directed one of their representatives to conduct an inquiry into the charges made recently in a political speech that Senator Quay had sold and Assistant Postmaster General Schlenker says the official records show no evidence of irregularity in the appointment of postmasters in the county referred to. The inquiry is made at the request of Senator Quay.

Kendrick House Free Lunch. Oyster soup will be served, free, to all patrons to-night.

Sick Soldier Home. First Lieut. George Britz, of Co. E, 8th Regt., arr. at his home in Mahanoy City from Camp Meade last night suffering from stomach trouble, and so weak he had to be assisted home. Co. E is handicapped by the illness of its two lieutenants. The other, Lieut. Blaklee, lies at his home at Manch Chunk little improved since his arrival there a week ago.

Jr. O. U. A. M., Notified. A special meeting of Major Jennings Council No. 267, Jr. O. U. A. M., will be held at 11:00 a. m. to-morrow (Sunday) to make arrangements to attend the funeral of our late brother, George Dallas. Interment will be made at Tamaqua, the P. & R. train leaving at 12:30 for that place. Members of sister Councils invited to attend. By order of JONAS GILFILLAN, Councilor, Attest: GUY D. STERNER, Sec'y.

Charlism March (Sons's latest) at Brumm's.

The Surface Again Sinking. There was another serious development in the situation at St. Patrick's church, Anderson, at a late hour last night. At that hour the surface again began to sink, and the area of the cave is gradually spreading, though no further damage to the church has yet resulted. It is feared, however, that the edifice will be totally destroyed.

To Camp Meade. As the Pennsylvania soldiers have not left Camp Meade yet, but will probably do so next week, the Philadelphia & Reading Railway will repeat the cheap excursion of last Sunday on next Sunday, the 25th inst. Train will leave at 6:05 a. m. and returning leave Middletown at 6:00 p. m., and Clifton, the station nearest the camp of the 8th Regiment, at 6:15 p. m. Fare, $1.70.

Ringtown Not so Stow. The residents of Ringtown, are to have a theatre. A number of well-to-do citizens have formed a syndicate for the purpose of erecting a two-story structure which will contain a balcony. The stage will be large enough to accommodate small shows. A portion of the building will be used as a hall for public meetings.

Going to Porto Rico. A letter has been received in town by an acquaintance of Miss Lydia Holman, of Philadelphia, announcing her departure shortly for Porto Rico. She will serve in the capacity of trained nurse at one of the hospitals. Miss Holman is a niece of Letter Carrier P. D. Holman and has many acquaintances in town.

SEVENTY MEN ENTOMBED.

Deadly Explosions of Gas and Fire-damp Near Brownsville, Pa.

EIGHT MEN KILLED OUTRIGHT

And Three Others Injured—The Root Escaped by Traversing a Mile and a Half of Underground Passages—A Pathetic Wait For Rescuers.

Brownsville, Pa., Sept. 24.—Seventy men were entombed yesterday in the Empire mine of Snowden, Gould & Co., one-fourth of a mile below town, as the result of an explosion of gas, followed by another explosion of fire-damp. Of the number entombed all escaped or were taken out by rescuing parties except eight, who were killed outright, and three more or less hurt.

Following is the list of the dead: John Halston, miner, aged 35, colored, wife and two children; Salem Halston, miner, his brother, aged 25, single; Robert Davidson, miner, aged 45, white, no family; John Bennett, driver, aged 23, single; William P. Hitchcock, miner, aged 50, wife and seven children; Henry Hagar, driver, aged 17; John Cartwright, miner, aged 50, married, but no children; James Hall, miner, aged 27, unmarried.

The following were injured: George Baker, miner, burned about face and breast; John Baker, slightly burned; Samuel McIntyre, cut on head by fall of slate.

The explosion is said to have been caused by the loosening of a large block of coal, which opened a pocket of gas. Immediately following the explosion of gas there was a second explosion of fire-damp. There were 70 men at work in the mine at the time of the disaster. Four men, Jacobs, Davis, Whetzel and Walker, who were near the entrance, managed to crawl out, and the others, with the exception of those caught by falling coal, escaped by traversing a mile and a half underground, coming out at the entrance near Lynn Station. This point is four miles from the opening of the mine on the Monongahela river.

Shortly after the report was circulated that an explosion had taken place at the Empire mine, and that many miners were entombed, Water street, a narrow thoroughfare leading to it, was crowded with men, women and children, moving toward the mines. There were moans and sobs and a general feeling of painful apprehension. When the mine was reached willing hands at once went to work. Everybody seemed to want to go into the mine. It was by sheer force that those in charge of the entrance kept the crowd out. It was announced that there was a sufficient force of men inside to do rescue work, when a weary and painful wait of hours took place. Just above the entrance to the mine there is an artificial plateau. From the edge of the plateau a good view of the track leading to the mine could be had. Here women stood wringing their hands in anguish and weeping. The hundreds of people realized that they stood at the entrance of a living tomb. It was several hours later that the little train of cars emerged from the engine house, announcing that a train of coal cars was coming from within.

The scene of the disaster is more than a mile from the entry. It took about ten minutes for the first load to reach the outside world. When the little train of cars emerged a good view was visible in the crowd. First there came two cars loaded with coal. Then three cars, in each of which there were two bodies. In one were two brothers side by side, John and Salem Halston. In the others were Robert Davidson and John Bennett, William Pritchard and John Cartwright. James Hall was in the last car.

The wagons were in waiting, and the bodies were taken to undertaking establishments. When the bodies were brought up from the mines they presented a ghastly appearance. After the first lot of bodies had been brought out the excitement and anxiety grew more intense. During the entire afternoon there was a desperate wait. It was first announced that many men had come out of the mine through an abandoned entry nearly three miles distant. This allayed the fear of many, and as fast as the men were accounted for to their friends and families rejoicings and congratulations followed.

At 9 o'clock last night the last of the explorers came out and announced that there was nothing living or dead left behind in the mine, leaving the list of fatalities as given above.

Three More Miners Killed. Nanticoke, Pa., Sept. 24.—By a rush of coal in No. 1 shaft yesterday three men were entombed and probably instantly killed. They were: George H. Morgan, aged 24 years; John Shannon, aged 32, and John A. Jones, aged 28. Two other miners, John Woolford and John Jones, narrowly escaped with their lives. Morgan, with the other four men, was driving a rock plane in the shaft, and had driven it about 35 feet above the adjoining chamber, which had been worked full and played out. This chamber was about 180 feet from the main gangway, and a stout box had been built around the pillars to prevent a rush of coal. It is supposed that this box gave way. Morgan, Shannon and John A. Jones were working in the plane, and it is feared that they were caught directly in the rush.

Fraternals Visit. Messrs. George Willman, Joseph Zimmer man, P. J. Maley, David Daddow and C. L. Fowler, members of the local camp of the Sons of Veterans, paid a visit to Gen. E. O. C. Ord Camp at Mahanoy City last night.

A THIRD TICKET.

The Prohibitionists Meet and Select a County Ticket.

About a dozen advocates of the cold water theory met yesterday at a private residence in Schuylkill Haven and placed in nomination candidates for county officers and for Legislature in the Fourth district. S. G. M. Hopper, of town, was present and addressed the gathering. The following nominations were forced upon those whose names are given: Judge, left open; Congress, S. G. M. Hopper, Esq., Shenandoah; District Attorney, A. J. Pilgram, Esq., Pottsville; Controller, Wilmer Turner, Pottsville; Coroner, John P. Schwenk, Schuylkill Haven; Poor Director, Benj. Rickett, Tower City; Surveyor, Joseph Scatman, Frackville. Legislative nominations were made as follows: Fourth district, E. J. Skelly, Pottsville; Robert Keller, Schuylkill Haven; Rev. S. A. Barr, Crosson.

The nomination of candidates for the Legislature in the First, Second and Third Districts and a Senatorial candidate were left in the hands of the chairman and secretary who will announce them later.

Rev. W. L. Zwick, of Gilberton, is county chairman. The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that our people support for the legislative candidates in the several districts who will openly make the fight against the present government and join with people of all political parties fighting for the destruction of machine politics.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that our people support for the legislative candidates in the several districts who will openly make the fight against the present government and join with people of all political parties fighting for the destruction of machine politics.

Resolved, That we make a heroic fight as a body and individually to elect the fearless champion of the people's rights, Dr. Swallow.

Shenandoah's candidate for Coroner will receive a magnificent vote in the 30th district, and it will make his opponent's head swim on the morning after election.

Genial S. G. M. Hopper, of town, who has been honored with the Congressional nomination, would prove a most acceptable member of Congress. He is in favor of cold water hard coal and any kind of money the people want. Shenandoah will give him a large complimentary vote, as the lawyer candidate is very popular among all classes.

The vote of the candidates in selecting the Republican county chairman was as follows: For Quail—Messrs. Brumm, Edwards, Stein, Kirk, Gensener, Thorn, Schwalb and Honsberger; for Bell—Messrs. Koch, Snyder, Middleton, Graham, Bowman and Helzer.

And still the appointment of a postmaster for Minersville, now long due, fails to materialize. Widow Smith is patiently waiting for that commission.

It is a nice state of affairs, when certain Republicans of Ashland, office-holders and prospective office-holders, refuse to support the party nominees.

The Philadelphia Evening Telegraph, one of the Republican afternoon papers of that city, published by John Wannamaker's son-in-law, has come out in a leading editorial in favor of the election of Dr. Swallow.

Johnson's Cafe, 36 East Centre Street. Vegetable soup will be served, free, to all patrons to-night.

Birthday Surprise. A surprise party was tendered to Miss Verna Schelzer, at her home on West Coal street, last night, in celebration of her twenty-second birthday anniversary. Games of several kinds were indulged in and refreshments served, the evening passing very pleasantly. Among those who participated in the events were Misses Alice and May Celtzer, Wm. Penn, Edith Jennie, Girardville; Annie Keshner, Gerie and Pat Hasser, Bella Loeb, Lizzie Thompson, Martha Gilbert, Emma and Mazie Scholter, Annie Powell, of town; Carrie Goodman, Maud and Mame Andrews and Annie Deipster, of Girardville; Messrs. Frank Kreisler, Girardville; Harry A. Jones, Tamaqua; Andrew Anderson, Thomas Davis, William and Charles Sheely, Lewis Green, Thomas Dove, Henry Foltz, Harry Powell, William Johnson, Charles Snyder, Ervin Moyer, Charles Reitz, Benj. Beacher, John Hopkins and Prof. H. H. Jones, of town.

Notice. A special meeting of Camp No. 6, True Americans, will be held in the lodge hall at 1 p. m. on Monday, 26th inst., to make arrangements to attend the funeral of our late member, Mrs. Pauline Boyer.

By order of EMMA SHEEHAN, Pres.

The Coal Trade. It is now believed that the demand for anthracite coal, owing to the approach of winter, will be largely increased, and that the mines and railroads will be kept busy preparing it and hauling it to the market from now on to the middle of December. Coal crews on the Reading are working full time again, and an order has been issued by the Lehigh to start double crews on that road, and this means that coal will be hauled night and day. An order of this nature has not been issued by that company for years, and it leads to the belief that the railroads expect a good trade in anthracite.

Geraniums, fuchsias, pansies, daisies, roses etc., for spring planting at Payne's nurseries, (Girardville). Tuberoses and gladiolus bulbs.

Slight Accidents. John McGann, aged 19, residing at Mahanoy Plane, and employed at the Bear Ridge Colliery, had the index finger washed by being struck by a piece of rock.

Howard Moyer, signman at Girard Mammoth Colliery, and residing at Haven Run, had the thumb of his right hand caught between a rope and a pulley, receiving painful injuries.

Advertised Letters. Letters addressed to the following named people remain unclaimed for at the local post office: Mrs. S. Barry, Alfred Heintz, J. M. Flower.

D. W. BEIDER, P. M.

Held For Trial. Roman Michel, a tenant in Malone's row, South Jardin street, to-day had Adam Busack arrested before Justice Shoemaker on a charge of assault and battery. The accused entered $300 bail.

The Store Closed. On account of a holiday, the Great Mammoth Clothing House, L. Goldin, proprietor, Nos. 9 and 11 South Main street, will be closed on Monday next, until 6:00 p. m., when it will reopen for business.

Approaching Wedding. It has just leaked out that Miss Jennie Powell, of town, will soon be joined in wedlock, with Mr. Cartwright, of Hazleton. The happy event will take place on Tuesday, October 4th.

LIVELY SCENES!

A Woman Gives Two Constables a Spirited Race.

THEY TRIED TO ENTRAP THEM!

Both Schemes Amiss and the Daughter of Waywardness Spent a Night in the Lockup—The Snappings of a Dog Causes a Street Fight.

There were two lively scenes in town late yesterday afternoon that attracted no little attention. One was brought about by a woman who was thwarted in her determination to outwit two constables, and the other arose from a saloonkeeper assaulting a man who hit his dog.

In the first case a warrant was sworn out before Justice Shoemaker by Catherine Seybert and Annie Hromin, charging Fannie Allendina with being a general disturber of the peace and maintaining a common and ill-governed house. The defendant was also charged with threatening to blow up one of the accusers with dynamite. All the parties reside at Turkey Run.

As the accused has the reputation of being a fighter it was deemed advisable to send two officers after her. Constables Dando and Phillips were assigned to the task. They found the woman at her home in Turkey Run, but granted her permission to go upstairs and put on her Sunday attire. While the officers were awaiting her return the woman slipped out of her house and was not discovered until she secured a room in a running eastward along the mountain top. The constables gave chase, but they had to run as far as Everett's farm before they overtook the fugitive.

On the return trip the woman was very compassionate. She chatted pleasantly with the officers and didn't give them the slightest trouble until she stepped on the platform of the Penna. R. R. depot, when she threw herself down and screamed until a large crowd gathered. She declared that Constable Dando had kicked her several times in the back a charge that was entirely unfounded. The woman knew the neighborhood was thickly populated with her people and hoped to create a feeling against the officers that would result in a rescue, but in this she failed and was carried to the lockup. The woman spent the night in a cell and this morning was given a hearing before Justice Shoemaker, who put her under bail for trial at court.

The scene of the second disturbance was at the corner of Main and Cherry streets. Joseph Wierczak, a saloonkeeper at that place, owns a dog that attacked Charles Hildebrand, who was passing at the corner. The latter had a hammer in one of his hands and he threw it at the vicious animal. The hammer struck the dog, but in bouncing struck a child, which fortunately escaped injury. The dog made a second rush at Hildebrand, and this time the latter threw a pair of shears at the animal. The aim was true and the dog ran yelping into the saloon. Wierczak, it is alleged, ran out with a companion named Wentz and in the clash that followed Hildebrand was choked and beaten. He swore out warrants for his assailants and they are under bail.

It will pay you to read Ike Orkin's announcements on the fourth page.

Fashionable Fall Exhibit. As the changes of the seasons occur so do the changes in the show windows of our stores. Pedestrians on Main street may feast their eyes on a beautiful line of fall and winter clothing which has been tastefully arranged in the show window of L. Goldin's Mammoth Clothing Store. The exhibit shows the styles according to the top notch of high grade tailoring. The fourth window is devoted to children's and youth's garments. Mr. Goldin can be credited with taking deep interest in selecting the choicest of goods for his patrons.

Notice, Sons of St. George. All members of Shenandoah Lodge, No. 60, order Sons of St. George, are requested to attend the funeral of our late Brother John Fluck, of West Coal street, on Sunday, Sept. 25th, at 2:30 p. m. The members will please meet in their hall at 2 o'clock p. m. By order of ARTHUR SEWARD, W. P. Attest: E. D. BEDDALL, Sec'y. 9-23-21

Dr. Baird to West. Dr. W. C. Baird, a former resident of Brownsville, but now located at McKeesport, and Miss Mattie Smith, an accomplished young lady of the latter place, will be married on October 5th, at the home of the bride's parents. It will be a quiet home wedding, and the couple will then leave on a honeymoon tour of the principal cities of the east. Dr. Baird is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Baird, of Brownsville.

All kinds of vegetables and flower seeds, and plants at Payne's nurseries, Girardville. Electric cars pass the door. 5-6-4

Special Mass. There was an impressive service in St. Michael's Greek Catholic church on West Centre street at nine o'clock this morning, the pastor, Rev. Cornelius Laurian, celebrating High mass and Requiem for the recently assassinated Empress of Austria and Queen of Hungary, Elizabeth. The attendance at the service was large.

Died From Shock. Harry Panleschok, the Austrian who was found at the Main street crossing of the Lehigh Valley railroad early yesterday morning, with both legs cut off, died at the Miners' hospital, Fountain Springs, at eight o'clock last night from shock, and without having recovered sufficiently to permit an operation.

Held For Trial. Roman Michel, a tenant in Malone's row, South Jardin street, to-day had Adam Busack arrested before Justice Shoemaker on a charge of assault and battery. The accused entered $300 bail.

The Store Closed. On account of a holiday, the Great Mammoth Clothing House, L. Goldin, proprietor, Nos. 9 and 11 South Main street, will be closed on Monday next, until 6:00 p. m., when it will reopen for business.
