According to the novels of Richardson and his contemporaries, in the olden days men used to admire women who screamed under the least provocation and fainted on all opportunities. Rich-men, however, have been always toppling out of their chairs, falling in a "dead faint" at the sight of a woman, having their stays cut and their hands clasped in prayer, and their noses smelling-sweet.

But the women and the men have changed radically since those days. The modern man does not admire the fainting woman, neither does he cry for her in distress. He is only a man, and lives to regret it. There is no reason why any woman should be a fainting woman. General bodily weakness and nervousness in women are due to weakness or disease of the delicate, special organs of the sex. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific and unfailing remedy for all disorders of this description. It imparts health and strength to the sensitive and susceptible organs upon which a woman's general health is largely dependent. It quickens and tones up the nerves, restores the vigor of youth, rounds out the emaciated form, imparts the glow of health to the complexion and transforms weak, sickly, nervous invalids into new, healthy, happy women. It fits for wifehood and motherhood.

words fall to describe my suffering before using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was Mrs. Sallie Fox of Tampa, Granger Co. Tenn. I had the most agonizing, irritating and profuse flow of white and yellow matter, and suffered terribly at all times. My feet and limbs were cold. I had palpitation of the heart, and my back was so weak that I could not turn myself in bed. The thought of food sickened me. My kidneys were very badly affected. I had been down six months. I could not sleep night or day and had given up all hope. My husband got me some of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took it for five months and at the end of that time some of my hair had grown on my head. I am now as well as I can be. I am sure I would be in my grave if it had not been for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."
