A gifted Michigan poetess, whose literary work has given pleasure to thousands, has just made a true and detailed statement of one of the sorrows of her life and the strange manner of its disappearance. The author is Mrs. Annie H. Magee, of Port Austin, Mich., and her remarkable statement is given in her own words as follows:

"My daughter, Jean Magee, was in her own words a delicate child, had stomach trouble, nervous debility and general weakness. From the age of eight years she had been subject to distressing attacks and frequent sick headaches. She had to be taken out of school and kept from school for nearly five years.

"She was so extremely nervous that life seemed at times almost unbearable. She would say: 'Oh! mamma, if I could only sleep, but as soon as she fell into a dose of sleep a frightful dream would awaken her so that sleep was almost more dreaded than the want of it. At the age of ten years she was taken to Dr. R. O. Sigwar, of Boston, who said she had spinal trouble and gave her seven months' treatment. The spinal trouble was cured, but the nervousness and stomach trouble returned with such effect as to render the child very miserable. The bad dreams came again.

"Having seen Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People advertised in the Huron Tribune we tried them, with the happy result of a permanent cure. She first began taking these pills about two and a half years ago. The first box had such good effect that we continued them and bought by the half-dozen until about two dozen in all had been taken.

"Friends began to say she would have to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People all her life, but I am happy to say they have all helped her to become a healthy, happy girl who no longer needs medicine of any kind. She is now nearly fifteen years of age, a diligent student making up for lost time, a bright, rosy-cheeked girl. It scarcely seems possible she can be the same one who a few years ago was a delicate, almost a hopeless sufferer.

"All the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves are contained in a condensed form in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppression, irregularities and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood, and restore the glow of health to pale and sunken cheeks. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excess of whatever nature. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold in boxes (never in loose bulk) at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.60, and may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.
