SAMPSON GETS THE GLORY.

But the Fight Off Santlago Was Essentially a "Captain's Fight,"

New York, Oct. 12.—Although the American fleet in the battle off Santi-ago on July 2 obeyed the general orders of Rear Admiral Sampson, given in advance to meet just such an emergency, it was essentially a "captains" fight," This is the substance of the report of the Rear Admiral Sampson was not present, and the two orders signaled by Schley "clore in" and "engage the enemy" did no good and were unnecessary, for the ships already had closed in and were engaging the enemy when the orders were run up.

Each captain fought his ship on plans prepared and orders given by Sampson. Even had Schley directed the general movement of the fleet in the battle, which it was un-necessary for him to do, they would have been because of the preparation made by Sampson and within his general orders.

The findings of the board are summarked as follows: The battle was fought and won upon plans prepared by Rear Admiral Sampson. The di-rection of the movements of the ships done by Schley during the battle was inconsiderable. The Brooklyn was not engaged at so close quarters as has been represented by the first report. On an average she was two miles away from the enemy. The brunt of the fighting was borne by the Oregon, Texas and Iowa. The New York was about nine miles from the Colon when that ship surrendered, and between four or five miles from the nearest sister ship engaged. The average race of the ships most engaged was about a mile and a half. No American ship at any time during the battle was within a mile of an onsurrendered Spanish

foldlers Themselves Were Mainly Responsible For Sickness in Camp.

Washington, Oct. 12.-Major General William M. Graham was the only witness before the war investigating com-mission yesterday. He was first in command at Camp Alger, Va., at the be-ginning of the war, and detailed the conditions which prevailed at that camp. There was only one railroad running to the camp, and the station was about a mile and a half distant. No running stream was near by, but there were many fine springs and small brooks formed by the springs. He thought the water supply was sufficient when the camp numbered no more than five regiments of troops, but as the troops increased it became necessary to dir wells. There was delay in digging wells, 40 of which were sunk, one for each regiment. The supply was ample for all purposes except for bathing. The wells were well cased, and there was no surface pollution of them. There had been some complaints of slokness on account of the water famine, which had continued from the 20th of May until the 25th of June. Much complaint as there was, however, con-cerning the water supply, he had been through campaigns before in which the water supply was not equal to that at Camp Alger.

General Graham did not believe that the spring and well water had been responsible for the sickness at Camp Alger, but was inclined to attribute much of the trouble to the fact that the sol-diers insisted upon taking the water from the little streams running through the camp. There had been considera-ble typhoid fever at the camp, but it did not originate there, and the first cases were isolated. Much of the slckness was, in his opinion, due to deli-encies sent the soldiers from home, and he had issued an order prohibiting the saie of ice cream, pies, etc., in the camp, and all the milk sold there was
