

GET DOWN TO CAUSES.

Shenandoah People Reason Easily and Consistently Nowadays.

In former times liniments and plasters sold over all internal remedies, because people mistook effects for diseases and attacked a pain where they found it. Temporary relief convinced them they were right, and so they laid a return of the pain to a return of the complaint, when in fact, the disease was there all the time. Backache is not an aching of the back, but an aching of the kidneys, and remedies must reach the kidneys, and be perfect in the work at that, before permanent relief is secured. Doan's Kidney Pills are perfect in their work and permanent in their cure. A backache gives way at once because the kidneys resume their normal functions and there is nothing to ache. There is nothing so hard to combat as the evidences of our senses, and yet all who believe us on the subject of backache are glad they did because of the cure.

Mr. Augustus Swegler, of 14 East Coal street, miner, found in the old Quaker remedy just what he needed for a bad back as many other coal-miners have found, and he does not hesitate to recommend it strongly. He says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and found them most reliable and satisfactory in curing my lame back. I was troubled for a long time, and about four months ago when I learned of this remedy which was said to be so good for backache and kidney trouble, I procured a box at Kirlin's pharmacy. My back at that time hurt me when lifting or stooping and if I sat down and attempted to rise or move quickly sharp twinges of pain went directly through it. When on my feet there was a steady aching in my loins. I do not have those troubles now, and I have not felt them since using Doan's Kidney Pills. I can endorse them as a good reliable preparation for the kidneys."

W. McKINLEY, LL.D.

The Degree Conferred on the President by Chicago University.

A GREAT RELIGIOUS SERVICE.

Reference to the President by the Speakers Evokes Enthusiastic Applause—Booker T. Washington's Eloquent Words of Warning.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—The national jubilee of Chicago was last night inaugurated with a union thanksgiving service at the Auditorium. President McKinley attended and listened to addresses by a Jewish rabbi, a Roman Catholic priest, a Presbyterian clergyman and a noted colored orator. The applause for the president was terrific, and at one time he was compelled to rise in his box and respond to the frantic cheering of the audience. The services, however, were of a religious character.

The president rested during a great portion of the day at the residence of Captain Lafayette McWilliams, his relative, where he is being entertained. He did not attend church in the morning. For a short time in the afternoon he was taken for a drive, in company with Mrs. McKinley, Captain McWilliams and Mrs. McWilliams. The party was then driven to the Auditorium at 8 o'clock, and all along the way people lined the streets to watch the passage of the president's carriage.

Easily 12,000 people were within the great auditorium, and probably as many more were on the outside unable to obtain admittance. The president was seated in a box and with him were Alexander H. Rowell, President William H. Harper of the University of Chicago, Captain McWilliams and Secretary Porter and Cortellion. The first address was by Rabbi Emil G. Hirsch, who brought out a great burst of enthusiasm by a reference to the American people. He said: "We are proud that when war was imminent the affairs of the nation were in the hands of a man"—here Dr. Hirsch's voice was drowned by a great wave of applause. When he could be heard the speaker finished his sentence: "to the American people, one that loved peace, a worshiper of the prince of peace." Loud cheers followed Dr. Hirsch's statement of his sentiments in reference to territorial acquisition when he said:

"Constitutionalism, not colonial dependency, must be the watchword of the star in relation to the countries delivered from Spanish rule." Rev. Dr. Thomas P. Hodnett, a Catholic clergyman, caught the fancy and applause of the audience by repeated references to Dewey, Sampson, Schley and the rough riders, and when he mentioned the name of McKinley by name the people became so rapturous that in his protest was compelled to rise in his box and bow his acknowledgments. At the conclusion of his address Dr. Hodnett aroused much enthusiasm by a philippic against the "growing influence of monopoly and the cohesive power of unjust corporations."

One of the most stirring speeches of the evening was made by Rev. Dr. John Henry Barrows, who took a firm stand in favor of the retention of the Philippines, which sentiment appeared to meet entirely the approval of the audience.

Booker T. Washington, the colored orator, was the last speaker. He said in part: "This country has been most fortunate in her victories. She has twice measured arms with England and has won. She has met the spirit of rebellion within her own borders and was victorious. She has met the proud Spaniard, and he lies prostrate at her feet. All this is well; it is magnificent. But there remains one other victory for Americans to win—a victory as far reaching and important as any that has occurred since the army and navy. We have succeeded in every conflict except in the effort to conquer ourselves in the blotting out of racial prejudices. We can celebrate the era of peace in no more effectual way than by a firm resolve on the part of northern men and southern men, black men and white men, that the trenches which we together dug around Santiago shall be the eternal burial place of all that which separates us in our business and civil relations. Let us be as generous in peace as we have been brave in battle. Until we thus conquer ourselves I make no empty statement when I say that we shall have, especially in the southern part of our country, a cancer gnawing at the heart of this republic that shall one day prove as dangerous as an attack from an army from without or within.

"In this presence and in this auspicious occasion I want to present the deep gratitude of nearly ten millions of my people to our wise, patient and brave chief executive for the generous manner in which my race has been recognized during this conflict—a recognition that has done more to blot out white men and black men than any event since the dawn of our freedom."

When Mr. Washington gave expression to these words the most interesting feature of the evening occurred. The audience rose and cheered to the echo, while President McKinley, standing in his box, acknowledged by repeated bows the compliment of the colored orator.

The degree of LL.D. was conferred today on President McKinley by the University of Chicago. The president and his party were entertained at luncheon by President and Mrs. Harper of the university, at their residence, and afterwards accompanied by his trustees and faculty of the institution, proceeded to Haskell Museum, where President McKinley was created a doctor of laws and invested with the gown and hood. Then the president led a procession of the university faculties, fellows and counsellors across the campus to Kent theater, where other ceremonies took place. All the students of the university furnished an escort for the president, who, in his cap and gown, afterward reviewed them.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. It is a disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she kept at it; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at A. Wasley's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

Praise for Medicine that Cures

After all Other Remedies Fail Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure Restores to Health.

FOR 67 years Mr. Howard Morgan has made Waterbury, N. Y., his home. He is known throughout that section as an honest and upright citizen, and his word is as good as his note. With these qualities combined with industry and a shrewd business tact, Mr. Morgan has accumulated a comfortable fortune. He has an ideal farm home, and fortunate indeed is the stranger who may chance to seek its hospitable shelter. For a number of years past Mr. Morgan has been afflicted with heart trouble, a disease so prevalent that it affects one fourth of our entire people. Read what he says:

"I had what the doctors called 'sympathetic heart trouble, shortness of breath, oppressed feeling in chest, sharp pain in left side and shoulder, weak spells as if I would faint. These made me most miserable. I was unable to do even light work, or exert myself in the least without becoming exhausted. I was treated by our local physicians, but seemed to get no better. Finally I began taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and before the first bottle was half gone I could see that I improved. After using a number of bottles I was completely restored to health. Words cannot express my feeling of gratitude that this great medicine should have been placed within my reach. My wife has taken Dr. Miles' Nervine with the best of results, and she thinks it has no equal to soothe the tired and weak nerves. We both take pleasure in recommending Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies whenever we hear of anyone afflicted as we have been, and we shall continue to do so for we know your medicine has true curative merits."

THE discovery and announcement by Dr. Frank Miles, that the health of the whole or any part of the body depends upon the state of the nervous system very much more than upon anything else, has been received by many of our most eminent physicians as scientifically correct. There are many others in the profession, who through ignorance or prejudice or both, still refuse to accept the more modern theory, but continue to treat the kidneys or other organs with nostrums which irritate, excite and inflame them beyond their strength, while the heart and brain are starving for proper nourishment. Dr. Miles' Remedies restore the lost energies of life and build up the system quicker and better and stronger than any other known medicines.

We are glad to hear from our old friend, Dr. M. W. Shepard of Plant City, Fla. He writes: "I have used the Dr. Miles New Heart Cure and the Restorative Nervine for nearly three years with the best of results, and shall continue to use them when required. I am particularly pleased with the results from it in the treatment of insomnia and nervous prostration that are truly marvelous. I have also used your Anti-Pain Pills and find they are the best thing I ever tried for headache and neuralgia."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on the heart and nerves sent free on request by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

WRECK OF THE MOHEGAN

Fifty-one Bodies of Victims Have Been Recovered.

THE BRAVERY OF THE SAILORS.

None of Them Made any Effort to Escape in the Lifeboats, and the Gallant Officers Went Down With Their Doomed Vessel.

London, Oct. 17.—The Atlantic Transport company issued the following statement last evening regarding the fate of the passengers and crew of the steamer Mohegan, which was wrecked last Friday evening off the Lizard, between the Manacles and the Lowlands: "Up to midnight 51 bodies had been recovered. Some were found miles away, in coves, and it is expected that more will be washed ashore today."

Many persons among the rescued were killed by being dashed on the rocks, who would have escaped if cast ashore on an ordinary coast. Some of the bodies are horribly mangled. The latest advices from Falmouth say that 38 bodies have been identified, mostly the bodies of sailors. Four are as yet unidentified, including those of two elderly ladies. One appears to be a German. She wore a watch and a wedding ring, both engraved "1871." The other wore a silver brooch, with the letter "D" in pearls. This is probably the body of Mrs. Charles Duncan. None of the ladies have been brought to Falmouth, the others to the village church at St. Kerens. The rescued passengers are being sheltered at cottages along the shore and the crew at the sailors' home at Falmouth.

The cause of the disaster remains the profoundest mystery. Nobody attempts to explain how the Mohegan got so far north of her true course from six to seven miles. There was no fog at the time, while the wind on her port quarter was not sufficient to prevent her answering the helm. It has been suggested that the compass was faulty, but daylight lasted long after Edith's light was seen. The sailors say the fact that the Lizard light was not visible should have served to give the alarm.

The masts of the Mohegan, which are above water, show that her stern is landward, causing a theory that the navigating officer on discovering that he was in the bay, ordered the vessel to be turned seaward. Two engineers who are saved declare, however, that they never slackened speed.

Remarkable stories of rescues continue. Robert Barrow, a seaman, performed the feat of swimming unaided through the roughest water to Cornwall Point, a distance of two and one-half miles. He climbed up the ragged cliff, where a searching party found him early the next morning completely exhausted. A. C. L. Smith, of Oregon, a passenger, surrendered to a woman who was very angry and was reporting him and saying she would kill him. The woman was saved. Her name is reported as Miss Webb, but no such name appears in the company's list.

Messrs. Smith and W. J. Bloomingdale say there was the greatest difficulty in launching the boats. The crew, in a chivalrous effort to save the women, made the mistake of launching the heaviest water, the cork only four sailors in one boat, which capsized as soon as it was launched. Messrs. Smith and Bloomingdale say that Captain Griffith had appeared ill all day.

The death of Mr. T. W. King, who was in former years a wealthy summer resident of Nantucket, Mass., and of his family, including Mrs. King, her mother, Mrs. Weller, and his sons, Rufus, aged 11, and Anthony, aged 7, has caused deep sorrow at Penzance, where the family had a summer cottage and were very popular. Joseph O'Rourke, Mr. King's valet, who was saved, says he was on deck when the crash came. The lights went out immediately. Rushing to the saloon he heard Mr. King exhorting his family to keep cool.

John Hyslop, the New York yachtsman, who was saved, in the course of an interview condemned the double railing around the ship's boats, which he says impeded the launching. The masthead light, in his opinion, should have been an oil instead of an electric lamp, as in that event it would not have been extinguished, but would have furnished a beacon to guide the lifeboats.

The heroism of the English coast patrol and the crew of the Saxon steamer stand out boldly. The Mohegan smashed upon the rocks at the Manacles off the Lizard at 7 o'clock Friday evening while the passengers were at dinner.

From the best evidence obtainable at St. Kerens it appears that the Mohegan foundered five minutes after she struck the rocks. She was going at full speed, struck twice, stopped and rapidly settled into the water. As the captain and the executive officers of the steamer went down with her it has been impossible thus far to ascertain how she got out of her course, as Falmouth Light and the coast were visible.

Dinner was ready and Captain Griffith was about to proceed to the saloon when a sudden crash made it apparent that the steamer had gone ashore. The captain immediately went on deck and the survivors saw they saw him on the bridge doing all in his power to lessen the disaster.

There was a rush for the boats, but the officers stood firm and put the women aboard first. Captain Griffith stuck to his post on the bridge shouting orders through a trumpet until he went down with the ship. One passenger got away the falls of a lifeboat with a razor and thus saved several lives.

A coast guard was watching the steamer, seeing that she was on a dangerous course. A warning rocket was sent up, but it was too late. Then to avoid the catastrophe, which occurred so suddenly that there was not sufficient time to get out all the life saving apparatus of the ship.

As soon as the Mohegan struck the rocks the passengers were waded ashore and the Port Houstock lifeboat immediately put out. The life savers did noble work, and the Port Houstock boat was immediately followed by others. There was a high sea running, as the result of a gale, which made it necessary for tugs which put out to turn back.

on the bridge to the last and many instances of sacrifice are recorded. Members of the crew are known to have stood by and watched the boats launched and put off when it was apparent that these were the only means by which their own lives could be saved.

A lifeboat with a load of 40 persons on its way to the shore passed many who were battling for their lives in the water whom it was impossible to save. The villagers, headed by the vicar and coast guard, stood on the shore and cheered the boat. When the lifeboat entered the little cove the fishermen waded into the sea to help drag the little boat up on the beach and tenderly carried the exhausted survivors to their homes.

The lifeboat was again launched and put out for the wreck on its outward journey picking up three survivors. On its way back to the shore 16 other survivors were taken from the water. This was just before daylight.

Men as Nurses. There isn't one man in fifty thousand who is a good nurse. The average man feels as much out of place in a sick room as a bull must in a china store. His heart may be ever so full of sympathy, but his feet are heavy and his fingers clumsy.

In most cases when a woman's general health breaks down the original cause is weakness or disease of the strictly feminine organism. The only permanent cure lies in the correction of all these disorders. Husham's should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine that invariably cures all ailments of this nature without "local treatment" and "examinations." It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned. It makes them well and strong. It allays inflammation, heals all internal ulceration and stops debilitating drains. It soothes and tones the nerves. Found at all medicine stores. An honest druggist won't urge upon you a substitute.

I had female trouble for many years," writes Mrs. A. Longhough of Grand, Seneca Co., N. Y. "I tried many physicians until I was completely discouraged. Finally I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for six months, and I soon found that I was completely cured. I had been so long I could hardly walk across the floor. I am now well and strong, thanks to Dr. Pierce."

SCRE WOUNDS CURED BY CUTICURA

More hands commenced with a burning on my fingers. When I rubbed them you could see little white pimples, and I felt like twisting them out of their sockets. I had high fever and cold chills. I had to walk the floor until I fell asleep. My hands pained like an onion, the finger nails got loose, the water ran out, and there the burning fire was. My hands puffed up worse than a toad, the water ran through the handgrips on the floor. I went to a doctor for a remedy. I got CUTICURA. The salve and CUTICURA SOAP. The salve hardened my hands, and my hands are now cured. CUTICURA. Dr. J. C. CUTICURA, New York, N. Y.
