LIGHTS OUT.

Antics of Electricity Caused Some Unpleasantness Last Night.

The commercial system of the arc electric light plant was put out of service at about eleven o'clock last night through an accident at Stousser's jewelry store on North Main street. During the storm the insulation of a wire became loose and contact was formed with the tin covering of an awning in front of the store. The street was illuminated by a large, brilliant blue flame which made its way along the awning to the building and up the leader to the roof, where it splattered until a messenger reached the electric light plant and caused the current to be cut off. Some uneasiness was occasioned by the affair, as it was feared that the building might take fire, and strong gales prevailed at the time.

THE TALLEY FUNERAL.

Many Prominent People in Attendance at the Funeral.

BALTIMORE PEOPLE AMONG THEM

Rev. H. F. O'Reilly Conducted Requiem Mass in the church of the Annunciation—Representatives of Baltimore Church Societies Were Among the Fall Bearers.

The funeral of Bernard L. Talley, the president of the Home Friendly Society of Baltimore, Md., who died suddenly in this town on Sunday morning from an attack of apoplexy, took place at nine o'clock this morning from the residence of the widow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McKernan, corner of White and Oak streets. The attendance was large and in the cortege were a number of prominent residents of Baltimore and many parts of this region. A carriage filled with beautiful floral offerings proceeded to the house. The remains rested in a hand-some cloth-covered casket. The Messrs. O'Hara were the funeral directors.

The cortege proceeded from the McKernan residence to the church of the Annunciation, on West Cherry street, where Rev. H. F. O'Reilly, the pastor, officiated at Requiem High mass. The church was crowded with relatives and friends of the deceased. The remains were interred in the family plot at the Annunciation cemetery.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Patrick Flannigan and James E. Kelly, representing the Knights of Columbus, of Baltimore, Md.; Mr. Stephen J. Moore, representing St. Fin's Council No. 20, Catholic Benevolent League, of Baltimore, Md.; and Messrs. William T. Evans, M. D. Malone and M. J. Lawlor, of town.

In addition to the Baltimore people above named there were in attendance at the funeral Mr. George A. Chase, secretary of the Home Friendly Society, Mrs. George A. Chase, James B. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Calloway.

Representatives of the several life insurance companies having agencies in town were in attendance in a body.

THE THEATRE.

The Lester Walter Company received a cordial greeting at Ferguson's theatre last night upon its second appearance of the week's engagement and gave in return a strong production of the sensational military drama, "The Great North." Mr. Walter was ably supported by Lylene Radloff, Charlotte St. Felix, Harry Jenkins, Harry Markham and others, who excited much interest by the skillful manner in which they unraveled the interesting story of the play, which deals with the conspiracy of an unprincipled army officer who strives for means to secure the hand of the ward whose fortune he has squandered. The accomplish his purpose he persecutes the ward's lover and accuses him of a murder he committed himself. The play terminates satisfactorily to the hero, heroine and the audience. The scenic and stage effects were perfect. Specialties of a clever character were also introduced by members of the company. To-night a play dealing with notable events by Russian military life entitled "The Russian Prince" will be produced, for the first time at the local theatre. Critics have said that this play excels in many respects the famous "Michael Strogoff."

VISIT FROM KLONDIKERS

Two Men Who Have "Struck It Rich" Are in Town.

The HERALD to-day received a friendly call from Messrs. James H. and E. F. Treasurer, brothers, who recently returned from Klondike. Like many of the men who have returned from the great gold fields these two gentlemen have treasures in bank vaults and under the snows of Alaska, as well as behind their christian names.

Their story vividly recalls to mind the story of the Count of Monte Cristo. They were raised in Tamaqua and left that town seventeen years ago, locating in California. Five years ago they went towards the Klondike region and located at Forty Mile. They were practically penniless then, but went to sniff good fortune in the air, and two years and a half ago struck north, prospecting. E. F. Treasurer says he built the first cabin in Dawson City. They now own fifteen claims in the Klondike and they speak of millions of dollars with as much unconcern as the agricultural editor of the HERALD refers to a peck of onions. They produced a hand full of gold nuggets that almost made the eyes of the horse editor bulge from their sockets. James H. Treasurer says he mined the great gold nugget taken from Eldorado creek. John, a brother of the visitors, and Elias Peter, a brother-in-law, both former residents of Tamaqua, remain in Klondike to look after the family interests. Messrs. James H. and E. F. Treasurer left the gold fields some time ago and have visited most of the principal cities on their way East. They came to this county about three weeks ago and intend remaining here about two weeks. They are visiting their cousins, Samuel W. Davis, Thomas S. James and Mrs. John A. Bitter.

REMAIN UNREPENTANT

Soldiers Who Were "Spread Eagle" Are in the Guard House.

PRIVATE TO BE COURT MARTIALED

There is an epidemic of Nostalgia in Camp Meade, and Many of the Volunteers Are Taking French Leave After Being Paid.

Middletown, Pa., Oct. 19.—The three Second West Virginia privates who were "spread eagle" at Camp Meade because they refused to work on Sunday are still in the regimental guard house under heavy guard. The men are manacled, and they will do police duty until they promise to obey orders. Lieutenant Colonel Moore is in command of the regiment in Colonel Castlet's absence, and he admits having given orders to "spread eagle" Mace, Mose and Frank. He says they are old offenders, and if they do not obey their superiors he will repeat the punishment. Mose was "bucked and gagged" recently for cursing an officer. Colonel Moore says it is necessary to resort to corporal punishment, as one the fourth element in the regiment to maintain discipline. Some of the men in this command were recruited in the West Virginia mountains, and the officers claim they are constantly causing trouble. Charges of conduct unbecoming a soldier will probably be preferred against the men, and they will be court martialed.

Private Townsley, of the corps reserve ambulance company, has been placed in the guard house for trial by court martial for neglecting Private Esigies, of the First Rhode Island, who died Monday in the Second division hospital of typhoid fever. Townsley was nursing Esigies and on Saturday fell asleep. The patient became delirious and wandered around the hospital ward until Townsley awoke and placed him in his cot.

There is an epidemic of nostalgia in camp. The men are more anxious to get home since they were paid and are talking "French leave" by the score. Only five privates out of the guard house of the First Maryland reported yesterday for duty. Seventeen men are absent without leave from one company in this regiment. The First Rhode Island was paid Monday and only thirty had the boys left camp during the night for home.

L. J. WELLS, Dress Goods.

To look beautiful is part of woman's mission. From the beginning every age every woman has marked a higher development in the adornment of woman, by style in her garments.

It is a woman's right, then, to adorn herself as becomingly as possible—to look beautiful.

Therefore, when choosing an outer garment—the principal garment in woman's dress at this season of the year—everything being equal, the one having the approved style is the one you should have.

It is plain then that they who want to be properly dressed, to have outer garments of the approved style, must "get their faith" to a make that can be relied upon for being absolutely right in that particular.

THE LABOR COMMISSION.

Men Who May Solve the Great Industrial Problem.

Washington, Oct. 19.—The governmental industrial commission held two sessions at the capitol yesterday and decided to adjourn over until Nov. 15, when active work will begin. The commission organized by the election of Senator Kyle as chairman, ex-Representative Phillips of Pennsylvania as first vice chairman and Representative Gardner, chairman of the house committee on labor, as second vice chairman. There was a strong fight made on the secretaryship, and an election to that office was deferred until November. It was decided to establish headquarters at the Ellis building in this city, facing the capitol.

Most of the opening session was devoted to speeches of members of the commission as to what should be the scope of the investigations. Mr. Hatcherford of Indiana, representing the miners' organization, said that the chief trouble of the miners is the lack of education, a problem which should have the serious consideration of the commission. Much of the labor troubles, particularly of the miners, was due to ignorance of the American language and institutions on the part of a large percentage of the workmen.

THE MAN WITH THE HAMMER!

The man who wields the hammer with the most flourish and makes the most noise isn't always the one who drives the nail. His nails may be bent, his hammer poor, and when the day's work is done he'll be behind. We drive bargains, not nails, but our stock is up in quality. The blows of our hammer are accurate and regular. We are making a winning record every day in our GROCERY line.
