Peculiar Combination of Circumstances at the Post Office,

A situation of somewhat singular aspect has presented itself in connection with the letter entrier force of town. Joseph Mauley and Michael Durkin are the two substitute letter carriers on the force, and there can be ast August Durkin enlisted in the regular Neither men resigned their position as substitute carrier and the force is now left without relief. Postmaster Bedea cannot remove them, and the department at Washington has not seen fit to do so, al-though the facts have been laid before it. A crisia has reached by the death of the father-lu-law of Letter Carrier Reilly. The latter nust continue his work, even on the day of the funeral, because there is no substitute to take his place, and none of the other carriers can cover his route without neglecting his own. Substitute Manley cannot act at present, because the deceased is his father. The postmuster cannot even appoint a temporary substitute, only in case of sickness or death

Excellent Production. The production of "The Prince of Russia" at Ferguson's theatre last night by the Lester Walter Company was an excellent on from an artistic standpoint as well as stage and scenic offects and costuming. Lester Walter was a majestic Prince and threw exceptional power into the character. He ably supported, particularly so by Harry Markam, Paul Carrol and Misses Lylene Radeliffe and Charlotte St. Felix, and Harry Jenkins made his comedy role as funny as it could be done. The specialties were also very pleasing, and as a whole the production gave entire satisfaction. To-night there will A matinee will be given Saturday afternoon

CONFLICT IN THE TESTIMONY!

The Butty of the Victim Accuses Two Men of Not Giving Warning Before Firing a Shot and the Jurors Accept. His Story.

An inquest was held by Deputy Coroner in the Eilangowan colliery on Wednesday afternoon by a blast, and the indications are Bureau of Mines by Mine Inspector Stein, as the jury rendered a verdict censuring the men who fired the blast. Inspector Stein said this morning that he believed the case was one which should be prosecuted.

The first witness examined was John Brown, inside foreman of the colliery. He said all the men employed at the place in question were miners, and had certificates. He said Mike Mackinofsky and Mike Zarlot, with the deceased and his butty, were work-ing in the east bottom split, fifth lift. Mackinofski and Zarlot were working in breast No. 33 and driving a heading on the inside rib from No. 33 to No. 34. They had driven almost through. They had the heading driven ten yards. Sumelski had taken a shot off of the pillar in No. 34 breast. Brown said he considered all the men competent. They always did their work satisfactorily. The heading was 62 feet from the stump heading. The headings are driven 60 apart. The face of the breast is 22 feet up from the heading. The breasts are 25 fee wide and have 33 degrees pitch. It was the hole that the men in No. 34 breast fired that blew through and killed the deceased

Stiney Rice, butty of the deceased, swore the accident occurred at about two o'clock in the afternoon. He was down in the stump heading, making powder for a hole he had drilled. He was in the heading about three minutes before the shot went off. He heard his butty rap to No. 33 breast, and just as he his batty rap to No. 33 breast, and just as he stopped rapping the shot went off. Rice said and will be surrounded by a company of his butty rapped twice to No. 33 and witness did not hear the men in that breast rap. Every time the men in No. 33 were ready fire before that time they would come down and tell Rice and the deceased. This time they did not do so. The witness said he was sure they did not come down. If they did he could have heard them call. Somelski's body was found on the opposite side of breast No. 34, twenty-five feet from the heading, and it was covered by coal.

Mike Zarlot, one of the men who were driving the heading from No. 33, testified : I fired two shots in the heading that day. went down the first time and told Sumelski I was going to fire. I also told him I would not come down anymore, but would rap, and he said "Ail right." The second time I rapped three times with my pick and Steve (the deceased) rapped once in return. I did not have the shot lit when I rapped, nor did I have the shot ready when Steve rapped. My butty was in the heading when Steve rapped, and then my butty took the tools out of the heading and carried them into the heading at breast No. 33.

Mike Mackinofsky, Zarlot's butty, swore Krystof on the head with a piece of board told the men working in the next breast that last Monday and fractured the victim's skull, we were going to fire. Then Mike, my butty, was again taken before Justice Shoemaker said to Steve that we were not coming down that many of the leases would not be relast night. The prisoner had spent 48 hours any more to tell them that we were going to in the lockup, to await the result of the fire, and that we would rap. I was in the have decided to offer more favorable terms, injuries and learn whether or not he could heading between 33 and 34 when Steve and that a fixed rate of 45 cents is given, get out on bail. A message received from rapped. Then I took the tools out of the This is a reduction of six cents. Heretofore the officials of the Miners' hospital last night heading and went across the breast and into the royalties were paid on a sliding scale, stated that Krystof's condition was critical, the other heading before the shot was fired. beginning with 36 cents and running up to but there was a chance to save his life. Upon I was in the heading between 33 and 32 51 cents. The P. & R. C. & I. Co., the Lethis Justico Shoemaker decided to commit breast when the shot was fired. I did not see high Valley Coal Company, the Wm. Penn and that his butty was rapping to get a signal from the men in breast No. 33 when the shot went off. On the contrary the two men in No. 33 contend that warning was given, the victim answered it, and he plenty of time to get away before the shot was fired.

The jury pinned its faith to the evidence of the victim's butty and rendered the fol-lowing verdict: "That the said Steve lowing verdict: Sumelski's death was caused on the 18th day of October, 1898, by a shot in the heading in breast No. 34, east bottom split, and was through the carelessness of the men in breast No. 33, for not warning the deceased."

It is intimated that it can be shown that the men in breast No. 35 were over-zealous the coal. in their work, for the purpose of gaining more measurement in the heading than the man in No. 34. It is also intimated that one of the witnesses at the inquest will swear he was afraid to work with one of the men in No. 33 on account of his apparent recklessness in giving warning when about to fire shot, and that it is not solely on account of the censure in the verdict that the case is to be placed before the proper tribunal.
