WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Rev. James Moore and Wife Entertain a Number of Friends.

The parsonage of the Primitive Methodist church was the scene of a very enjoyable gathering last evening. The occasion being the celebration of the crystal wedding anniversary of Rev. James Moore, the pastor of the church, and his estimable wife. It was not until over thirty members of the church and friends called at the parsonage that the pastor and his wife had any idea of celebrating the event. It was a surprise to them, and a pleasant one, too, the visitors making several valuable and useful gifts. Refreshments were served and a pleasant evening was spent. To-night all who participated in last night's gathering will assemble in the church at a flash light photograph will be taken by Photographer Dobb, and presented to the pastor and his wife in commemoration of the anniversary. Rev. Moore is held in high esteem by the congregation. He has filled the pulpit of the church for several years, and under his administration the membership has steadily increased, and there has been a corresponding improvement in the financial status of the congregation. Rev. Moore was ordained in the local church ten years ago. Since that time he has been a close student of the denomination's welfare and as pastor of the local congregation his popularity has been such that he has frequently been induced to decline calls from other quarters.

Among those who participated in the gathering last evening were Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Baugh, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoskins, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dabb, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Houser, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson White, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Edmonson, Mr. and Mrs. William Penco, Messrs. George Miller, chap, Edward Cooper, Edward James, Mrs. Thomas James, Mrs. Wm. B. Davis, Mrs. George Hares, Mrs. William Hall, Mrs. John Flock, Mrs. Frank Lewis, Mrs. George Broxton, Misses Nellie Baugh, Annie Timmons, Jennie Hares, Fressilla Davis, Hannah Collins, Minnie Dobb and Harriet Parrish.

Select Board. A gentleman can get board and home comfort in a small family. Location central. Address, "HERALD." 11-15-31.

Union Evangelistic Services. A combination of seven churches with their pastors in leadership, most cordially invite the residents of Shenandoah to assemble in nightly worship from church to church, to join in sacred songs, devout prayer and to listen to the gospel as preached by the several pastors. In such special services we believe that all the people of our community may be richly benefited—in personal experience and life, in all that tends to sanctify and brighten the home life and in that which must produce a closer and pleasanter Christian fellowship. If our people will generally say kindly one to another, "Come thou with us, and we will do thee good," we shall all be much the better. The first service is this evening in the First Baptist church, north-east corner of Oak and West streets, at half past seven o'clock. The Rev. I. J. Reitz will preach the sermon. J. T. SWINDELLS.

Boys Accused. George and Joseph Aklewski, two boys aged respectively 9 and 14 years, were arraigned before Justice Shookmaker last night, charged with the larceny of four dollars on oath of Mrs. Margaret Howard. It was shown at the hearing that Mrs. Howard's daughter, Lizzie, had dropped two $2 bills on the street which were picked up by the boys and turned over to the man, who gave the money to the owner in the Justice's office, and the boys were discharged.

THE COUNTY COURT

A Brutal Husband Gets a Sentence of One Year.

CASE OF ATROCIOUS ASSAULT!

Beat His Wife With a Club, Breaking Her Arm.—The Woman Was at the Point of Death in Consequence of the Injuries.

Joseph Zuckowsky, a Polish resident of Colorado, was put on trial and convicted at Pottsville this morning on a charge of atrocious assault upon his wife. The man was promptly sentenced and sent over to the jail to serve a term of one year.

The case was one of unusual interest in view of the plea of insanity made by the accused. It was unsuccessful, the county authorities concluding that the man suffered more from a spirit of wickedness than mental derangement.

The assault was one of the most atrocious that have been instituted before the Justice in this county by wives against husbands in several years. The suit was before Justice Toomey originally. The wife was badly beaten that she was unable to appear against her cruel husband. The man used a heavy club in the assault and terribly lacerated the victim's scalp. In trying to avoid one of the blows the woman threw up her left arm. The blow fell on her neck, and the arm was fractured between the wrist and elbow.

It was during the month of August that the assault was committed and it was not until the present term of court that the wife was sufficiently recovered to appear in court. She was an inmate of the hospital at the Schuylkill Haven almshouse, and for some time after her admission to the institution was in such a critical condition that it was feared she would die.

When Zuckowsky was arraigned before Justice Toomey his conduct was such that the Justice believed the man was insane. When asked why he had beaten his wife, the prisoner said, "I beat her because she won't stay home. She has no God." He attempted to assail the good name of the woman, but several witnesses sustained her reputation for good character.

CRIMINAL COURT.

A Large Attendance of Litigants With Three Judges on the Bench.

Pottsville, Nov. 15.—From present indications the two weeks of criminal court will be busy ones, with nearly 400 cases on the calendar. Judge Jeremiah Lyons, of Juniata county, is assisting Judges Bechtel and Koch. They are pushing the cases rapidly and by the end of the week many of them will be disposed of.

Among the appointments made by the court was that of Jeremiah Davis as constable in the Fourth ward of Shenandoah, succeeding John Dando, who was killed in the performance of his duty by Biasecki.

The court refused to settle the award of arbitrators in the case of Amanda Zehner et al vs. Leigh Coal and Navigation Co., granting damages caused by coal dirt.

Cora Deibert, who prosecuted William Mulvey at the last term of court, charged and found guilty of larceny, was sentenced to a term of execution under sentence of court and a writ of execution was permitted. The parties reside in Mahanoy City.

The St. Peter and St. Paul Society, of Mahanoy City, was granted a charter.

In the case of James McBrurty vs. Main & Malin, a rule to set aside execution and judgment, and permit the defendant to enter into a defense, court granted the rule.

The report of viewers to lay out a new road and abandon an old one in Delano township was presented to court.

Action to recover property in North Union township was taken by Lucy Forman against Stephen G. Johnson. Court granted a writ of estrepment to issue in the case.

Charles D. Arters is foreman of the grand jury.

S. G. M. Holopeter secured a subpoena in divorce in a suit brought by Theresa Kelley against John M. Kelley, charging desertion. The respondent formerly resided at Palo Alto.

John Kautner, charged with setting fire to the barn in the Charles Barber cemetery, Pottsville, was called for trial yesterday afternoon, and the jury retired last evening.

WAR TAXES TO STAND

Will Not Be Abolished at the Coming Short Session of Congress.

NO REVISION OF THE TARIFF.

Chairman Dingley, of the House Ways and Means Committee, Declares the Government Will Need For Some Time All the War Measure Revenues.

Washington, Nov. 15.—The Washington Post states that the war tax will not be abolished at the coming short session of congress, and that there will be no revision of the tariff whatever.

It bases this announcement upon the positive statement made by Chairman Dingley, of the ways and means committee, who in an interview says: "The government will need for some time all the revenue produced by the war taxes. During the month of October the war expenditure exceeded the war revenue by some $14,000,000, and this month they will be $10,000,000 in excess. This being the case, there will be no change, at least this fiscal year. The war revenue act will continue in force and unchanged, except perhaps in a few minor administrative features, for at least a year longer."

"It is hardly necessary to add," continued Mr. Dingley, "that there will be no revision of the tariff, although I have seen some statement to the effect that such a revision is contemplated. The session is limited to three months," continued Mr. Dingley, "and that short period will be mainly occupied in passing the appropriation bills. In drafting new laws for the regular session necessary for the government of Hawaii. In addition to these important matters the usual number of routine matters will arise. From the present outlook the session will be well under way before the treaty of peace with Spain will be laid before the senate, and the ratification of that document may not be accomplished long before the 4th of March arrives."

"Will that necessitate an extra session?" "It is, of course, impossible," said Mr. Dingley. "I know what will arise between the 1st of December and the 4th of next March, but so far as the present outlook can form a basis for judgment I should say that no extra session will be necessary or desirable, unless some new question should arise. In the first place we shall not know until the treaty of peace has been ratified what new possessions we are to have and what legislation is necessary for them, and even then we will be in no position to act intelligently. I think that the military administration ought to be continued for at least a year longer. Military administration means the maintenance of order, the establishment of sanitary regulations, the giving of assistance to those who may need it. It will bring order out of chaos and afford us time to determine the which legislation. There are always enlightens, and certainly when congress meets at its regular session in December of next year we will be much better equipped to consider the proper method of dealing with our new possessions."

"For my part," added Mr. Dingley, "I hope that the territory to be added will be no larger than is absolutely necessary. I realize that in some cases it may be easier to hold than it will be to let go, but at the same time I hope that the treaty, when it is presented to the senate, will provide for the acquisition of a minimum of territory."

The Sixth Lehigh Valley Victim. Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 15.—Daniel E. Price, of Easton, engineer of one of the locomotives in collision on the Lehigh Valley railroad early last Friday morning, died last evening of his injuries, internally inflicted. This is the sixth death from the accident.

A festival was being held at Old Fellows' hall, and Pryor dropped in and began to make himself heard. He wasn't there very long before there was trouble, and Pryor was in the middle of it. He drew a revolver. That was the very worst thing that he could have done as he was picked up, instantly, and lifted bodily out of the building, after some one had played a lively tango upon his head with a loaded bottle of temperance "stuff." He didn't linger long after he struck terra firma, and his friends haven't seen him since.

Thieves Looed White Town Burns. Canonsburg, Pa., Nov. 15.—This town was visited yesterday by a furious fire, which before it could be gotten under control, wiped out fully a third of the business portion, two of the principal hotels, many dwellings and did damage estimated at $100,000. No lives were lost, as far as can be ascertained. During the progress of the fire thieves reaped a rich harvest in the east end of the town. After the fire a dozen or more families found their homes torn upside down on their arrival, almost everything portable being carried away.
