JUR COUNTRY: First, Last and Forever.

A BERKS county Prohibition candidate who had 4500 written pledges of support received a total of 1333 votes. This is interesting as showing the proportion of men who stand firm after signing the pledge, and as to how much dependence can be placed by the candidates in these ante-election pledges.

OUR esteemed contemporary, the Miners' Journal, now that the election is over, is devoting itself to giving practical bints for farmers. This, it seems to us, is not exactly the mission of Assistant United States Treashumorous to find the Major giving Squashes." What Senator Quay would appreciate more from the Major would doubtless be a ringing O'Brien's.

The Treating Habit.
