JUR COUNTRY : First, Last and Forever.

JUDGE STEWART, of Franklin, has rendered an opinion in an Orphans' Court case recently that will be likely to attract a good deal of attention beyond the limits of Franklin county. A citizen of that county died possessed of a very limited estate. When the administrator rendered his final account the judge did not merely glance at the items of expense, but examined them closely. He noticed that the charges for funeral expenses were out of all proportion to the limited estate, and having on former occasions observed the tendency to extravagance in the same direction the judge concluded to make an example that would be likely to have a wholesome effect. He therefore directed that one-half of the expenses incurred in the burial be surcharged to the administrator, the bill being, in the opinion of the court, about double what it should have been in justice to the family of the deceased.

Unjust Assessments.

In every part of Schuylkill county and especially so in Shenandoah, there is a well defined demand for a change in the unfairness of assess ments. Unjust taxation is the result of such unfairness, and those who suffer thereby apparently have no redress at hand, and it is this state of affairs that causes the demand on the part of the people for a change.

Under the present system in vogue there are five assessors in Shenandoah and each may put valuation upon property in accordance with his own notion and to the best of his ability. There is no rule by which his action. in this respect may be guided. In the majority of cases the value is fixed by what a property owner might demand, rather than upon what the property might bring in the market. What is true of Shenandoah is equally true of other localities, and will continue to be the cause of dissatisfaction until a change is made in present a bill before the next Legislature and urge favorable action thereon. It is to be hoped that the Schnylkill representatives will give the subject due consideration and cooperate with those from our neighboring county.

The proposition as outlined by the Luzerne commissioners calls for the selection of an assessment board of three members in each city, borough and township, patterned after the triennial board, the assessments in all its details to be made by them, and they are also to hear appeals and make adjustments when the facts warrant, or at least to pass judgment thereon in the final submission of their work to the County Commissioners.

The work of the Commissioners would then be not with the details, as now, as to which they are quite as likely to err as the assessors, but with the adjustment as between localities. If, for instance, the rates fixed were too high as between Shenandoah and Mahanoy City, their attention would be given to equilization as between the two towns. They would, of course, give their attention to any extraordinary detail in borough or township as well. The plan proposed would be materially less, so far as the expense is concerned, than that now in vogue, and the result obtained in more just assessment would be infinitely more satisfactory. The County Commissioners of Luzerne appear to be confident that a law along the lines indicated will receive favorable consideration at the hands of our law-

A Handsome Complexion

OVER-WROUGHT NERVES OF WOMEN.

Extracts From Letters Received by Mrs. Pinkham.

"I am so nervous and wretched." "I feel as if I should fly." How familiar these expressions are. Little things annoy you and make you irritable. You can't sleep, you are unable to lift ordinary burdens, and are subject to dizziness.

That bearing down sensation helps to make you feel miserable. You have backache and pains low down n the side, pain in top of head, later on t base of the brain.

Such a condition points unerringly to crious uterine trouble. If you had written to Mrs. Pinkham when you first experienced impaired vitality, you would have been spared these hours of awful suffering.

Happiness will be gone out of your life forever, my sister, unless you act promptly. Procure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and begin its use, then write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., if there is anything about your case you do not understand.

You need not be afraid to tell her the things you could not explain to the doctor, your letter is seen only by women and is absolutely confidential. Mrs. Pinkham's vast experience with such troubles enables her to tell you just what is best for you, and she will charge you nothing for her advice. MRS. JENNIE BIEBLY, Youngdale, Pa., writes: DEAR MRS. PINEHAM:- Will you kindly allow me the pleasure of expressing my gratitude for the wonderful relief I have experienced by taking your Vege-Compound. I suffered for a long time with nervous prostration, backache, headache, loss of appetite, a heavy bearing-down feeling, also burning pains in the groins. I could not sleep, was tired all the time, had no ambition. Life was a burden to me. The pains I suffered at times of menstruction were something dreadful. I thought there was no cure for it. I saw your advertisement in the paper, and my husband advised me to try your medicine. I took five bottles, and now I am well and happy. Your medicine saved my life."

A SUICIDE'S CONFESSION.

Banker Cross Admits That He Alone Wrecked His Bank. Emporia, Kan., Nov. 23.-Since the sensational failure of the First Na-tional bank, which was followed by the suicide of Charles S. Cross, president of the bank and owner of the Sunnyside stock farm, there have been rumors of a written confession left hind by the suicide. The letter was made public last night by William Martindale, vice president of the bank,

The letter follows:
"I desire to state that the mis-fortunes of myself and the bank have been caused through my faults and errors. I inherited a large debt, which I endeavored to meet by going into other schemes, which have all been practical failures and only got me deeper into the mire. As to the bank matters I desire to say that I have carefully laid plans to deceive both the board of directors, the cashler and employes. Mr. Martindale will now learn for the first time how I have carefully deceived him, principally by way of substituted paper of which he has no knowledge. The reports and letters written the comptroller have been by me misrepresented to the board, they having signed on the last page and I having sent other letters than the ones read to them, changing every one but the last page. I have had a hard luck story most of my lifetime, the only pleasant feature being that of my present wife, who has been a good true woman. Mr. Davis, our cashier, has never made an improper entry on the books, and knows nothing of this whole miserable business. Death I do not fear; it is preferable to the agony of the past year. I know of nothing further to add as to Mr. Martindale. This is a terrible thing for him. He has trusted me without reserve. I have given him a bill of sale of all personal property."
