Should not be worn without intelligent advice. Whenever an eye finds relief in a shaded or colored glass, something is going wrong with the interior of that eye that needs attention. and common carelessness can make a combination strong enough to defy all the healing skill of the physician. Common carelessness lets the cold root and grow. Common carelessness says, between paroxysms of coughing, "It will be all right in a day or two," and the common end is confirmed lung trouble, perhaps consumption. The common-sense treatment of a common cold is a prompt dose of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is the most efficient and reliable cure for colds and coughs, and is constantly prescribed by physicians.

S. HAYS, M. D., says:—
"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my practice since 1858, and have always found it reliable for the cure of colds, coughs, and all lung diseases."

KILL OR CURE METHODS.

Washington's Treatment in His Last Illness Little Short of Murder. "There can scarcely be a doubt that the treatment of Washington's last illness by the doctors was little short of murder," says Mr. Paul Ford in "The True George Washington." Those were the days of the "kill or cure" treatment, when strong plasters, jamp and bleeding, the universal remedies, left little hope for patients who could not withstand both drugs and disease.

Professor John Fluke writes in his "Old Virginia and Her Neighbors" that when Washington in full vigor found that he had caught a bad cold he sent for the doctors. Meanwhile he had half a pint of blood taken from him by one of his overseers. Of the three physicians in attendance one was his dear friend, the good Scotchman, Dr. James Craik, his colleague. Dr. Elisha Dick, said:

"Do not bleed the general. He needs all his strength." His advice was not heeded. Three copious bleedings followed. In the last of which a quart of blood was taken. The third attendant, Dr. Gustavus Brown, afterward expressed bitter regret that Dr. Dick's advice was not taken. Besides this wholesale bleeding the patient was dosed with calomel and tartar emetic and scarified with blisters and poxities.

"The question is suggested," writes Mr. Fluke, "if Washington had lived a dozen years longer, would there have been a second war with England?" The heroic methods of the seventeenth century, which, though killing thousands, were continued far into the eighteenth, are exhibited by the items of a bill rendered by Dr. Haddon of York about 1690 for performing an amputation. They included the highly flavored and two ordinary cordials, three treatments for the wound, an ointment precipitate, the operation of letting blood, a purge per se, two purges elearicals, which are powders mixed with honey or sirup, external applications, a surgical and two stringing powders, bloodletting, a defensive and a large cloth."

Held For Dog Stealing. George Winlack was put under $300 bail this afternoon by Justice Shesmaker, charged with stealing a valuable setter dog from William T. Hopkins. ## A Remarkable Cure.

Mr. Alexander Moore, a reliable business man, of 1230 S. 13th St., Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I contracted a violent cold which settled all over me. The pain in my chest and throat was terrible. The doctor gave me medicine and bled my side, but I only grew worse. Then you gave me a bottle of Brazilian Balm. I had little or no faith in it, but decided to try it. I took 3 or 4 good doses before bed time, and rubbed it well over my bled side. That night I slept like a top—my first good rest for over a week—and awoke in the morning cured. Brazilian Balm is simply invaluable."

San Francisco's Fatal Fire. San Francisco, Nov. 25.—Nothing new developed today in connection with the Baldwin hotel fire. Holocaust Narrowly Averted. Paris, Nov. 25.—There was a narrow escape yesterday from a repetition of the terrible disaster of the Charity Bazaar fire. While a religious ceremony was in progress in the vestry room of the Church of St. Germain des Pres, where many girls from the schools were in attendance, the cinematograph lamps were suddenly extinguished and a fearful panic ensued, everybody instantly recalling the Charity Bazaar fire. The priests finally succeeded in allaying the panic, but not before 40 girls were more or less severely injured by trampling.

Secretary of State Recovers Perfect Health by Use of Paine's Celery Compound.

When unalloyed testimonials are constantly received from men of such prominence as the distinguished citizen whose portrait is here printed—when among the thousands of letters received by the proprietors of Paine's celery compound there are to be found in almost every mail some from men and women of national reputation, it is easily understood why this remedy which makes people well has proven its remarkable efficacy among all classes of people. No other remedy has the hearty approval of a like body of educated men and women and professional men, nor has there ever been a remedy that was welcomed in so many intelligent, prudent homes, where pains is taken to get only the best in so vital a matter. In such families all over the country, Paine's celery compound is the first and only remedy used. Prof. Phelps has studied the nerves in health and disease, when well nourished and when under-nourished, in men and women and children years before he looked for the remedy. Paine's celery compound is the outcome of his entire professional life. It is the one remedy that the world could not how-to-day at any price. Paine's celery compound induces the body to take on solid flesh.
