A CASE of very great importance to coal miners has been decided in Sullivan county, this state. The Bernice Coal Co. retains $49.57 due Thomas Gildea, on the ground that he had signed a contract authorizing the company to withhold the money due the store. Gilden admitted that he owed the store $70.80; that he had signed a contract, but his attorney raised the point that the company store violated an act of assembly in selling goods to cash customers at smaller profits than that gained from employes. The act says that wher- Warned. ever any coal company or other corporation shall charge the employe more than an outside customer, the debt shall not be collectable. This store did business on the double standard, and the miner will get his money tack, as the court decided in his favor.
