

The White is King

AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

The White Sewing Machine was awarded highest honors, the Gold Medal, at the Omaha Exposition.

$30.00 and up.

QUEEN MACHINES,
$19.50 and up.

All Arc Warranted for Five Years.

LIBERTY MACHINES,
$15.00.

J. P. Williams & Son, FURNITURE AND MUSIC STORE.
13 S. Main St., Shenandoah, Pa.

GO TO O'HARA'S

FOR FINE LIVERY AND UNDERTAKING

OPEN DAY AND NIGHT.

Cor. Lloyd and White Sts., SHENANDOAH and Main Street, MAHANOY CITY.

Headquarters for Carpets, Linoleum and Window Shades

BLANKETS AND COMFORTS.

DRESS GOODS
—IN ALL THE—
NEW STYLES AND COLORINGS.

Tapestry and Lace Curtains.

TABLE COVERS.

J. J. PRICE'S, Dry Goods and Carpet Store.

EXTRA! READ THIS!

Feather Boas, 23c. Plush Capes from $2.50 up to $20.00. Astrakhan Capes at the same prices. Also a full line of Cloaks at the lowest prices. Reefers from 60c. up to $7.00. Collarettes from $1.65 up. Heavy Skirts from 90c. up to $10.00. Silks, Satins and a full line of Waists. In the Millinery department we have a full line of hats and all kinds of trimmings. Ladies' and Gent's Natural Wool Underwear, 35c. A full line of Children's Underwear.

NEW YORK BARGAIN STORE,
NO. 23 SOUTH MAIN ST., SHENANDOAH, PA.

SWALM'S HARDWARE STORE.

Headquarters for Roasting Pans, Bread Pans, Cake Pans, High Grade Enameled Ware, Carving Sets, Knives and Forks, "Rogers Bros." Table and Tea Spoons.

SWALM'S HARDWARE STORE.

1898---HOLIDAY SEASON---1899.

FULL STOCK---ALL NEW GOODS, NEW CROP and NEW PACKING.

RAISINS—New blue muscatels, 2, 3 and 4 lbs for 25 cents. New Seedless, New Sultan, New Valencia. New Layer Raisins.

PRUNES—2, 3, 4 and 5 pounds for 25 cents.

EVAPORATED FRUITS—New Peaches, Pears, Apricots, Apples and Plums.

New Figs and Dates.
New Citron, Lemon and Orange.
New Florida and Jamaica Oranges.

NUTS—Almonds, Cream, Filberts, Pecans and Walnuts.

CANNED GOODS---1898 PACKING.

Fancy California Lemon Cling and Crawford Peaches. Fancy Pears, Plums, Apricots and Cherries.

TOMATOES—Extra Quality and extra size cans, 2 for 25 cents. Extra Quality Standard cold packed, 3 for 25 cents.

CORN—Extra Fancy Maine, 2 for 25 cents. Fancy New York State, 3 for 25 cents. Standard Maryland, 4 for 25c.

PEAS—Fancy Sifted Early June, 2 for 25 cents. Sweet Wrinkled, 3 for 25 cents. Extra Early June, fine quality, 4 for 25 cents.

BEANS—New Lima Beans, 3 cans for 25 cents. White Wax String Beans, 4 cans for 25 cents. Baked Beans, 2 and 3 cans for 25 cents.

New Orleans Baking Molasses, best quality, 10 cts. a quart. Don't forget our strictly Fresh Fancy Creamery Butter. Fresh Dairy Butter.

At KEITER'S.

HEAD SQUEEZED.

A Driver's Perilous Position While in the Act of Coupling.

John McAndrew, a young man employed as a driver in the Indian Ridge mines, had a narrow escape from instant death yesterday. He was in the act of coupling cars when his head was caught between the bumpers. Fortunately the cars did not come together with much force, but the squeeze was severe enough to cause bleeding at the ears.

Red Cross Acknowledgment.
Rev. Robert O'Boyle, pastor of the Trinity Reformed church of town, and also President of the Shenandoah Ministerial Association, this morning received the following acknowledgment: "DEAR SIR: Mr. Charles H. Howell, president of the Associate Society of the Red Cross No. 1, of Philadelphia, has to-day handed me your check for $15.00, being proceeds of a collection at the union services, held in the Trinity Reformed church, of Shenandoah. Kindly accept the thanks of the society for your kindness and trouble in this matter. "Yours truly, "FRANK T. PATTERSON, Treas."

Nelivender's Cafe.
Sour kroust, pork and mashed potatoes will be served, free, to-night.

Final Production.
The engagement of The Ideals will close at Ferguson's theatre to-night with a play depicting many thrilling as well as very amusing scenes of life in the great metropolis. Several special settings will be introduced during the action of the play and the excellent orchestra will discourse several of its choicest selections.

Laurel Club Meets.
The Laurel Club held its regular weekly meeting at the home of one of its members, Miss Margaret Devers, on East Coal street, last evening. Among those who enjoyed the festivities were: Misses Gertrude Quirk, Mame and Ella Gallagher, Annie and Maggie Elliott, Annie Tobin, Mame McDonough, Annie and Mame Brennan and Messrs. John Whalen, William Nork, John Cople, William Delaney, John Cleary, Martin Conville, Harvey Wells, Harvey Smoyer, Bert Davis and P. J. McGraw.

Fell Down Stairs.
Mrs. Charles Kowland, of South West street, fell down stairs at her home this morning and sustained painful bruises on her back and head. The victim tripped when descending the stairway and carrying a bucket of water. Although she fell from the top to the bottom of the flight, she sustained no fractures.

One of the largest and finest lines of papier-mache animals and tree ornaments, wholesale and retail, at Morgan's Bazar, 23 North Main street. These goods are imported and can afford to sell them at wholesale prices to retail buyers. 12-14

CARS IN A CRASH!

Breaking of a Coupling Causes Trouble Near Mahanoy City.

NO PERSON SUSTAINED INJURY!

Only Gondolas Were Involved in the Accident—Two Sections Came Together After a Coupling Broke—Wreck Crew Was Promptly on the Scene.

Mahanoy City, Dec. 3.—A rear end collision involving a train of empty gondolas occurred near the line kiln, about a mile east of this town at one o'clock this afternoon. Several of the cars were wrecked, but fortunately no one sustained injury of a personal character.

The train was running at a pretty fast speed towards this place when a coupling broke. This allowed a section of six cars and an oil tank, the latter at the extreme rear, to trail behind. Upon discovering what had happened the engineer decided to slacken the speed of the first section and try to bring the cars together again, but the rear cars caught up sooner than he expected and the wreck followed. Six of the gondolas were wrecked, four of them being reduced to kindling wood. The oil tank was thrown from the track, but escaped damage. The train was drawn by engine No. 580 and in charge of Conductor Cushman, of Tamaqua.

The wreckage blocked both tracks and shut off traffic. The train bearing relatives and friends going to Tamaqua to attend the funeral of Mrs. J. W. Parker, of Trenton, N. J., was at the local station, waiting for the train of gondolas to arrive and pass. It was sidetracked until about 2:30 o'clock, when arrangements were made to get it through.

The wreck crew stationed at Mahanoy Plains was on the scene within half an hour after the wreck occurred and did rapid work to get the main line opened. It is expected that both tracks will be cleared of debris by four o'clock.

Holiday Opening.
Messrs. Hooks & Brown, the stationers and fancy goods dealers of No. 4 North Main street, had their eighth annual holiday opening to-day. The store is stocked with a complete line of goods suitable for gifts, all arranged on separate counters in such a manner as to make a display equal to any outside of the large cities. All around the store hang tree ornaments of various shapes and colors, while above the counters hang framed pictures. The toy counter contains all the new toys which delight the children, while the game counter contains all the new ones and the best of the old ones. The book department contains paper and linen books and colors, while above the counters hang framed pictures. The toy counter contains all the new toys which delight the children, while the game counter contains all the new ones and the best of the old ones. The book department contains paper and linen books and colors, while above the counters hang framed pictures. The toy counter contains all the new toys which delight the children, while the game counter contains all the new ones and the best of the old ones. The book department contains paper and linen books and colors, while above the counters hang framed pictures.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

Mrs. Ellen Scanlan Succumbs to a Paralytic Stroke.

Mrs. Ellen Scanlan, who received a paralytic stroke last Tuesday, died at her home on East Centre street last night. She had attained the ripe old age of almost 70 years. The deceased is survived by two sons and three daughters, namely: Tax Collector M. J. Scanlan, John Scanlan, a member of the St. Augustine Order at Villanova, Pa., Mrs. Thomas Connors, Mrs. Jere. Connors and Mrs. Thomas P. Reilly.

The funeral of Mrs. Ann Parker, widow of the late Hon. John Parker, of Mahanoy City, who died at the home of her son in Trenton, N. J., took place this afternoon, interment being made at Tamaqua. The funeral was largely attended.

The funeral of the late Robert Garrett took place this morning at 9 o'clock from the residence of Thomas Doe, Mt. Carbon. Requiem Mass, Patrick's church, Pottsville. Interment in No. 2 cemetery.

The funeral of Thomas W. Grant, who died in this town on the 1st inst, will take place Monday afternoon at one o'clock, at the residence of Dr. David Taggart, at Frackville, and interment will be made at Pottsville.

The funeral of Samuel Gradwell, who died at the Miners' hospital from a fracture of the spine, will take place at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Services will be held in the Trinity Reformed church and interment will be made in the Old Fellows' cemetery. The members of Henry Horne's Camp No. 49, Sons of Veterans, will attend the funeral.

Katie, the 24 year old daughter of John Dunlavy, of Lost Creek No. 2, died yesterday afternoon, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 29. Captain Evans commanded the La Escoeca, which was bound from Iquique to New York, laden with about 2,000 tons of nitrate of soda, valued at about $5,000. The prize was picked up by twenty-four hours previously to the eastward of Cape Henlopen. The bark was in the charge of the chief officer, Captain Evans, her commander having died of brain fever Sept. 22. She was in a hopeless condition, having experienced a heavy north northeast gale Nov. 2