is largely devoted to a history of the war. The leading features of the message are briefly as follows :

The President declares that it is policy to continue military occupation of the new possessions of the United States until Congress legislates, and Congress is asked to assist the "ubana to form a government. The message also declares that there are prospects of better relations existing between the United States and Canadian governments, The President approves Secretary Long's recommendation for increasing the navy. and also approves increasing the standing army to 100,000 men, and as this is provided for he will muster out the entire volunteer army. The message also recommends the creation of the ranks of Admiral and Vice Admiral. MUSIC STORE. possessions acquired by the war with Spain at this session. There are earnest advocates of the Nicaraguan canal bill who will strive to secure its passage now, and they may possibly be successful, but neither it nor any one of the other measures, like the pooling bill, anti-scalpers' bill, etc., which have strong friends, will be allowed to interfere with the bills the passage of which is deemed absolutely necessary. The leaders at both ends of the Capitol have put their heads together, and the work of the session is to be entered upon with the idea of avoiding an extra session. With this purpose in view, the appropriation bills are to be given the road at both ends of the Capitol and pressed through with all possible haste. Two sub-committees of the appropriations committee of the house have been at work for a week. The deficiency bill to meet the extraordinary expense of the army and navy during the six months from Jan. 1, 1898, to July 1, is ready to submit to the full com-mittee today, and the regular District Take Pan-Tina for coughs and colds, 25c.
