There is not much likelihood that they will go to Cuba, although the majority of the boys are auxious to go to the island.

The first snow of the season here fell on the 28th. It only lasted for a short while, and was hardly noticeable. The boys from the North take much in-terest in the convict gaugs, composed princi-pally of negroes. They are dressed in regular convict suits, chained together with large iron chains, and most of them are serving terms of from three to twelve years. It was one of these gangs that cleared the ground for our camp.

The people of Augusta are treating us fine and their generous spirit will long be remem-bered. A society of ladies have established what is known as the "Soldier's Rest," comprising two large rooms in a building where we can go and enjoy ourselves in reading papers from home, and coffee and sandwiches are served free. They have extended an invitation to go there whenever they please for test and refreshments. Letters addressed to us should now bear the inscription "Camp McKenzie, Augusta,
