

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS

is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALI-FORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company-

GENERALS' OPINIONS Expressed Before the House Committee on Military Affairs.

THE FRICTION IN HIGH PLACES.

General Schofield Criticizes the System Which Makes the Commanding General Subordinate to War Secretary. Miles on Civilian Incompetency.

Washington, Dec. 13 .- Before the ouse committee on military affairs esterday General Miles declared that 40,000 soldiers were needed abroad and 25,000 at home. When asked "When will the Cuban government be organized?" he replied: "I do not know that is a political question."

General Schofield, who preceded General Miles in command of the army, devoted his chief attention to the friction inevitably arising between the sec-retary of war and the commanding general under the present system. The trouble arose out of the system which gave the head of the army the name of commanding general, when in fact he had little or no amhority, or even influence, as commanding general. Whether he does anything depends largely on his personal relations with the secretary of war. If these rela-tions are not close then the secretary of war gets to ignoring the so-called commanding general. General Schofield thought the army should consist of about 39,000 for the Philippines, 15,000 to 20,000 for Cuba, 5,000 to 8,000 for Porto Rico, 15,000 for manning and caring for fortifications, 10,000 for the Indian country and 15,000 as a reserve.

After General Schofield had conclud-ed General Miles spoke briefly on what had been said as to the commanding general. He said the laws now clearly recognized this position as commanding general, and one of these laws made the general commanding the army a member, ex-officio, of the fortifications board. He did not approve the sug-gestion that the head of the army be an executive staff officer to the president. During most of the time in the last 100 years the army had been under the command of a general or lieutenant general, and that was the practice the world over. General Miles said he did not speak from a personal standpoint, as he was ready to be retired at any time. But he believed in the principle of rank and authority commensurate with the responsibility. General Miles said in reply to a ques tion that he thought it would be bet-ter for the president to have the war minister more particularly direct the vast administrative work of the war department, as it was manifestly impossible for any man to come from civil life and at once become familiar with all the latest appliances of war. If the one occupying the chief military position was not liked then let some one else be placed in military authority.

But the selection should not be from so far down the list as to amount to favoritism, for that would not be approved by the people. General Miles pointed out that three major generals Merritt, Brooke and himself, had come through the recent war without hope of recognition. He cared nothing as to himself, but he urged that the services of General Merritt and General Brooks had been such that the rank of lieutenant general for them, as would be given under his bill, would be eminently fitting. In this connection he referred to the cruci working of the system by which Meade. Hancock and Thomas had never received the rank and recognition due them for eminent services, two of them hearted to their graves, them going broker

General Schofield strongly endorsed what General Miles had said in giving amplest recognition and rank to generals for their services,

Cubans Insisted on the Theaters

Havana, Dec. 13 .- Three Cubana were killed and one Spanish officer and two Cubans were wounded Sunday night in an affray between some Spanish ofrs off duty and a number of citizens and a party of Cubans who wished to close the Tacon theater on account o the death of General Calixto Garcia a Washington. The Spanish troops a duty intervened and restored order.

After the news of General Garcia's death spread through Havana the Cubans wished to have all the places of amusement closed. They succeeded in closing two places frequented by Cu-bans, but the management of the Tacot theater, where there were many Span officers among the audience lsh fused to close the house. Thereupon Allegrette, a former capialn of insur-gent troops, got into an excited argument with the manager of the theater, and Allegrette was escorted to the sidewalk by the police on duty. There Allegrette entered into a heated dis-cussion with a Spanish officer, who struck flat of his sword. Then there was a collision between the Cubans and the Spanish military men, more blows were struck on both a Cuban or a Spaniard, intentionally or accidentally, cannot be said, and the Cubans retreated into the Hotel Ingla-More shots were fired on both terra. sides, and Arturo Tuzet, a French citizen born in Havana, was shot and seriously wounded while sitting at a table

More shots were fired, and the Cubans ran through the hotel office and made their way upstairs. Jesus Sotolongo, a Cuban, fell wounded on the stairs, and another wounded man broke into the room occupied by Lieutenant Fitzhugh Lee, son of the famous general and former consul here, demanding protection.

General Greene and several members of his staff, who had been out on a balcony watching the crowd heard the uproar in the hotel and went into the corridor. So soon as the Spanish officers saw General Greene, who was in uniform, they stopped the pursuit of the Cubans, saluted and retired. In the meantime Eastaquio Lemus had been fatally wounded in the streets. and Pedro Blesa and Senor Jiminez had been killed.

Suddenly a shot was fired, whether by a Cuban or a Spaniard Interstored. Mr. Ecules, on the contrary, were peatedly referred to as "their high nesses and mightinesses."

District Attorney Book followed with a short closing address, calling par-ticular attention in Mr. Steele's testimony that it must have been an over sight on his part, reporting to the comptroller that there were no excessive loans. Mr. Beck said he was glad to abandon the six counts in the in dictment which charged Mr. Steel with misapplication of funds for his own benefit. "From the testimony." said the district attorney, "I find these counts are unsupported, and congrat ulate Mr. Steele upon the evidence that his hands have never been solled by a dollar of the bank not justly his own." Mr. Steele was pictured as a sentinel who had fallen asleep at his post, en-dangered the lives of others, and must suffer the penalty.
