UNDER THE WHEELS.

A Young Man From Frackville in Search of Work the Victim.
The danger attending jumping on moving coal trains was reflected in an accident on the Philadelphia & Reading Railway at New-castle yesterday afternoon. The victim was Edmund Harris, a single young man residing with his mother at Frackville. He left home early yesterday morning in search of work and journeyed to Minersville. His efforts to secure employment proved futile. While returning home he attempted to board a moving P. & R. coal train at Newcastle. His foot slipped from the car step, causing him to fall under the wheels. The fall his nose was broken and many parts of his body were lacerated. A painful wound was inflicted above the left eye. Fortunately none of his limbs were mangled. The victim was removed to the Pottsville hospital for treatment.

Presented With a Rocking Chair. Quite a number of the friends of Mr. Harry Young, until recently passenger brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad short route, presented him with a beautiful rocking chair last evening previous to his departure for Sunbury, to which place he has been transferred by the company. The gathering was a most enjoyable and many expressions of regret at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Young were made by those present, among whom were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Williams, of Frackville; Mr. and Mrs. William Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. John Bee, Mr. and Mrs. Price, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. James, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. James, Mr. Ed. Edmundson, Mr. J. Dosto, Mr. Alex. Davis, Mrs. Benj. Evans, Mrs. Blackman, Mrs. John Findley and Mrs. Conway.

Drowned in the West. Mrs. Thoms Dove, Sr., of South Jordan street, to-day received a telegram from Man-lis, Mich., announcing that her nephew, David Hopkins, had been drowned at that place. No particulars of the accident were furnished. The victim was a son of the late Thomas Hopkins, who was killed at the Turkey Run colliery some years ago, and a brother of Miss Mary J. Hopkins, of North White street. He was 24 years old and unmarried. He left here some years ago with his uncle, George Cogswell, who was a shoe merchant in town for several years, and who located at Manis.

To Be Remodeled. Louis Goldin has decided to remodel the property on South Main street he recently purchased from Hon. M. C. Watson. Attention will first be devoted to the hotel portion. It will be transformed into a store room with a depth of 70 feet and an extension will be erected at the rear. The front of the building will be lowered to a level with the pavement and otherwise altered.

CRASH AT A BREAKER.

A Switch Causes Trouble at the Boston Run Colliery.
NO PERSON SUSTAINED INJURY.
The Engine Crashed Into Chutes Under the Breaker and Was Badly Crippled. Several of the Chutes Were Torn From Their Places.

There was an exciting event at the Boston Run colliery breaker at about four o'clock this morning, when an engine crashed into the supports of the structure, and barely missed causing great damage. A freight train from Mahanoy Plane stopped near the colliery and the engine hauled four box cars to the place to be loaded with coal for the western trade. After placing these cars on the turnout the engine started out to return to the train and proceeded on his journey along the main line. He supposed, in starting, that he was on the right track and did not notice that the switch had been misplaced. It was not until he was within a few feet of the large doors which inclose the chutes that the engineer saw that he was going under the breaker. He reversed the engine and threw himself upon the floor of the cab, as the speed at which the engine was going was too great to admit of immediate stoppage, or avoid a collision of some kind. The engineer remained prostrate, awaiting the crash. It followed within a few moments. The engine crashed against the chutes under the breaker and there was a shower of timbers, iron and coal.

An investigation after the crash showed that the smoke stack of the engine was wrecked, the cab was badly damaged and the injector pipe was torn off. The engineer escaped with a few cuts and bruises on his head. Several of the chutes were torn out, but otherwise the breaker sustained no damage. A wreck crew from Mahanoy Plane cleared the debris away and the crippled engine was hauled to the repair shops.

More Heat Wanted. Numerous complaints are made about the temperature in some of the local public schools and threats are made to bring the matter before the School Board. It is maintained that the heat is not generated in time in the mornings for the opening of some of the schools. In one school room yesterday the thermometer registered as low as 37. This, however, was in the new White street school building, where the heating apparatus is not satisfactory. To-day the scholars in this building were transferred to other buildings because of the low temperature. The heating apparatus is not working satisfactory, and Supt. Cooper called the Board's attention to it at the last meeting.

ANOTHER RIOT IN HAVANA. Spanish Privates Fire on a Funeral Cortege—Eleven Persons Wounded.

Havana, Dec. 14.—When a funeral procession which was escorting the hearse containing the remains of Jesus Sotolongo, who was killed Sunday night, reached the corner of Infanta and San Jose streets yesterday a violent affray took place between members of the funeral party and some employees of the Military hospital. Eleven persons were wounded. They are: Dr. Beatacort, Cuban deputy for Santiago de Cuba; Rafael Portuondo, Cuban deputy; Cuban Consul General, Cuban Colonel Armando Rivas; Francisco Lucas Blanco, a Spaniard; Ramon Garcia, a Spaniard; three women and two children. Garcia, who was stabbed, may die, and Portuondo was badly hurt.

One version of the affray is that the Military hospital employees and a number of Spanish privates, who were standing in the hospital portico, refused to remove their hats when requested to do so by persons in the procession. Thereupon the Cuban soldiers endeavored to knock off the hats and a fight ensued. The privates fired upon the procession, the windows of the hearse being broken and bullets striking the coffin. Knives and pistols were freely used.

BRYAN AND EXPANSION!

Declares Our Country Cannot Endure "Half Free and Half Vassal."
RESIGNED TO RESUME TALKING.

The Defeated Presidential Candidate Now on His Way to Washington to Fight Against a Voluntary Policy, Although He Favors Ratifying the Peace Treaty.

Savannah, Ga., Dec. 14.—Colonel W. J. Bryan, upon his leaving his command yesterday, the Third Nebraska regiment, gave the following interview: "My reason for leaving the army was set forth in my letter to the adjutant general tendering my resignation. Now that the treaty of peace has been concluded, I believe that it can be more useful to my country as a civilian than a soldier.

"The people of the United States, having rescued Cuba from foreign control, may now resume the discussion of the domestic problems which confront this nation and to the consideration of the new questions arising out of the war.

"I may be in error, but in my judgment our nation is in greater danger just now than Cuba. Our people defend Cuba against foreign arms; now they must defend themselves and their country against a foreign idea—the colonial idea of European nations. Heretofore greed has governed the government and used its instrumentalities for private gain, but now the very foundation principles of our government are assaulted.

"The imperialistic idea is directly antagonistic to the ideas and ideals which have been cherished by the American people since the signing of the declaration of independence. Our nation must give up any intention of entering upon a colonial policy (such as is now pursued by European countries) or it must abandon the doctrine that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. This nation cannot endure half republic and half colony—half free and half vassal. Our form of government, our traditions, our present interests and our future welfare all forbid our entering upon a career of conquest.

Colonel Bryan favors ratifying the treaty of peace and then "dealing with the subject in our own way." He left last night for Washington, and intends to enter actively into the fight against a colonial policy.

The Commercial Club, a social organization, was not asked to contribute, and therefore could not have refused, as was reported.

A Curious Libel Suit. A curious libel suit is about to be tried in Pittsburgh. Joseph Borivig Kreemery is the editor of a Slavonian newspaper published at Hasleton, and P. N. Rovonack and Julius Wolf are the publishers of "The American Slavonic Gazette," of Pittsburgh. Kreemery says that "The Gazette" is in the habit of spelling his name "Borivov," which means an unclean person, and sometimes "Borivo," which means a drunkard. As this holds him up to odium and ridicule, he wants punitive damages for the injury done to him.
