AN APPALLING ACCIDENT

Eight Workmen Killed on the New York Central Railroad.

THE BODIES HORRIBLY MANGLED

The Men Were Shoveling Snow, and in Leaving the Freight Track to Escape an Approaching Train Stepped in Front of an Express.

Buffalo, Dec. 14.-Eight men were killed and three injured yesterday at Winspeare bridge, near Corfu, on the New York Ceneral railroad. The men were engaged in shoveling snow, of which there were numerous drifts on ated. The men stepped from one track to avoid an approaching train, right in front of a fast express train running in the same direction as the first, and were literally ground to pieces. John Warner and gang were working on track No. 3. A freight train was laboring its way ponderously up the steep incline. Its motion was so slow that the men continued their work until the train was almost upon them. Then they jumped out of the way. Some jumped to the right, others to the left. Those who jumped to the north escaped. Most of those who jumped to the south were struck by the express train coming down track No. 2 with fearful velocity. There is a straight piece of track here, and the engineer had a clear view down the stretch No snow was falling. As soon as he realized the appalling situation brought the train up with a jerk that threw the passengers out of their seats It was too late, however, to avoid the calamity.

The bodies were scattered over s iarge area. Some had been thrown a distance of 60 feet. Others were thrown against the freight train and their odies horribly cut and dismembered The body of one man was hurled on to the top of the freight train and carried nearly two miles. The bowels of some of the men were scattered along the track. Brains oozed from shapeless skulls. Dismembered legs, arms and bodies strewed the crimson snow.

The more fortunate companions of the dead and injured gathered up the remnants together as nearly as they could judge in human form, and placed them tenderly in the baggage car of the train that killed them, and they were taken to Buffalo.

The dead are: John Warner, of Buf-falo, foreman of the shoveling gang. instantly killed; Henry Gunnison, Buffalo, instantly killed; six unidentified men, supposed to be Poles.

Engineer Smith, of the express, in an interview said: "I could see nothing ahead of me, but I thought the place looked bad and blew the whistle. I had let up on the whistle, when I heard my fireman give a yell. He did not call for brakes, but I slapped on the air the minute I heard him. He had een a man beside the track, though he had not seen any one struck then. A moment after I applied the brakes I saw a man shoot up into the air on my side of the cab. He was as high as the smokestack when I saw him. He came down on the freight train, which was running along on that side. My train stopped in about two train lengths, and was the most horrible I have ever witnessed. The dead and mangled were lying on both sides of the track just as they had been thrown. I did not see them until after we had struck them. I did not see them come on the track, and until my fireman yelled I did not know they were there." The Sure La Grippe Cure.

The New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk railroad brought the Salisbury and Pocomoke City fire departments to the scene of the conflagration at a rate of tess than a mile a minute.
