booses many a body and burdens many a mind. You can't enjoy the food you like because you are bilious. You take all sorts of precautions, and yet the bilious attack leaps on you like a tiger from ambush. You know the feeling! The blood seething on fire with a dull heat; the boring pains in the eyes; the head seeming to open and shut; the horrible nausea. You know the irritability which precedes and the languor that follows the attack. It's miserable, isn't it? Why not cure the trouble? There's a pill that will cure biliousness. Dr. J. C. AYER'S PILLS are an acknowledged specific for this derangement.

A. Swanger, Texarkana, Tex., writes: "For fifteen years I have used Ayer's Pills, and find them very effective in bilious complaints. I have yet to see the case where they have failed to cure."

THE BREWERS' CASE.

One of Them Refused to Recognize Constable Gibbon.

The HERALD yesterday stated that Constable Gibbon had left town for Philadelphia to serve warrants on certain brewers of that city charged with selling brewed and malt liquors in this town without a license. To-day the Philadelphia Inquirer published the following sequel to the matter.

Warrants for the arrest of Jeremiah Gallivan, treasurer and manager of the Baltic Brewing Company, of this city, and William Bates, said also to be identified with the concern, were yesterday issued by County Detective Tools, of Shenandoah, Pa. Last night Constable Gibbon, of that place, arrived in the city with the papers.

"I refuse to recognize these papers," said Mr. Gallivan when confronted by the constable. "This warrant is not made out legally, and until a Philadelphia magistrate countersigns it I shall not pay any attention to the document."

Constable Gibbon then returned to the Windsor Hotel and developments are expected to-day.

"The warrant charges me with selling malt and brewed liquors to dealers in Shenandoah without a county license," said Mr. Gallivan when seen by an inquirer reporter last evening. "I never directly sold such a thing in that place. I have a man who represents me there. The orders are placed here and the goods shipped out, but that does not implicate me directly in the selling. It is nothing but a big bluff, and I intend to fight it with every means in my power. Why, the offense is serious if the charge could hold good. Just think of it, only $3000 bail was required. It ought to be several thousands if what the warrant charges is true."

"Mr. Bates is no longer interested in our concern. The constable wanted to find him also to serve the warrant on him, but he will have a fine time finding him, for he is not in the city. The case will be of interest to every brewing concern in the city of Philadelphia. We pay United States license and also county license and now these people in Shenandoah want us to pay a separate license there as well. It is ridiculous," he repeats.

"The case dates back some weeks when my representative in Shenandoah, William H. Smith, was arrested on a similar charge. I took the case to Leesville and when it came to trial it was postponed for reasons best known to the prosecution. When I asked why the case did not come up the reply: 'We are after the big fish.' All right, I am ready for them, and my lawyers are now looking up the matter."

 "Do you intend to enter bail?"
 "I can tell better to-morrow. Whatever I do in this matter be assured that it will be something telling, and I will make someone smart for trying this charge against me. It is criminal and I don't allow anyone to charge me with what is not true."
 "Will you consult with other brewers in this matter for the purpose of co-operation?" was asked.
 "No, sir," with determination. "I can fight my own battles and I am sure that I shall do as well as I did with that other case where my representative was concerned."
 Constable Gibbon has not returned from Philadelphia. It is said he will remain there until the warrants are properly countersigned and executed.
