TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

An Occupied Double Building Demolished, Yet no Lives Lost.

A terrific explosion occurred at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon at Brownsville, whereby a double block, owned by Solomon Haak, of town, and occupied by the families of Edward Eberman and Harry Meyer, was totally destroyed. Nothing remains of them but the rear walls, a part of the roof and the rear kitchen, and their condition is such that they must be razed. It seems like a miracle that not an occupant of the house was injured. The members of both families were at dinner in the kitchen at the rear and the greatest force of the explosion was south and upward. The front of the buildings faced to the south. Eight rooms, four on each side of the block, were blown out of existence and almost all the household furniture destroyed. Pieces of debris imbedded themselves in the sides and roofs of all the buildings within a radius of fifty yards and the window panes of nearly all these dwellings were wrecked.

The Brownsville school building stands about fifty feet west of the block in which the explosion occurred, but, strange to say, that aside from the blowing out of all the window panes on the eastern end, the structure suffered no damage. The children in the schools were almost panic stricken by the explosion, but the admirable discipline and tact displayed by the teachers resulted in all but two of the pupils leaving the building in safety. Thomas McAndrew, 12 years old, rushed from one of the class rooms and as he emerged from the school building was struck by flying plaster from the wrecked dwellings. He was rendered unconscious for a few minutes, but has entirely recovered. Howard Westervelt, a boy 8 years old, also escaped from his teacher, and was struck by flying debris, but only slightly hurt.

The loss to the Eberman and Meyer families, by the destruction of their household effects and wearing apparel, is about $500, each. They saved comparatively little. The buildings destroyed were worth about $1,200. The property was formerly owned by the late Michael Thompson.

The occupants of the houses could give no clue to the cause of the explosion. A man on the premises, however, gave the tip that about ten days ago one of the boarders in the Eberman house, a miner by occupation, brought home a large box of dynamite and had it stored in the second story of the building. It is on the Eberman side of the block that the ravages of the explosion was the most severe. Eberman kept a saloon in the basement. How the dynamite was ignited (if the report concerning it is true) is a mystery.

Both the Eberman and Meyer families are homeless, as barely enough of either side of the block remains standing to give even one of the families shelter from rain. All the household effects that both families have picked out of the wreckage would hardly fill a small wagon. The scene about the property is one of absolute desolation. Immediately after the explosion some young men ran up from Brownsville to town and sounded a fire alarm. The Phoenix Fire Company went to the scene, but its services were not required, as no fire followed the explosion. The Phoenix carriage was upset on Coal street and the pole was badly twisted.

BIG ELECTRIC INTERESTS.

Street Car Companies and Lighting Concerns in the Legislature.

Harrisburg, Jan. 5.—One of the biggest fights in the Legislature at the session just opened will be between the electric light and street car companies of the entire state. The street car companies are anxious to have a bill passed that will give them the privilege of selling their surplus electricity to municipalities or anybody who desires to purchase it.

In fact, it is proposed that the street railroad companies shall become heat, light and power concerns as well as traction organizations. By acquiring this increased power the traction companies, of course, become the active competitors at once of all the lighting, heating and power corporations in the respective cities and towns.

The passage of such a bill will greatly cripple the heating and lighting companies of the smaller towns, because the railway companies could furnish light at a nominal sum. The bill is in charge of Chris. Magee, who has vast street railway interests, and he has enlisted in his cause the powerful traction interests. He tried to induce Senator Martin to go into the scheme, but the latter refused because the interests of his friends are in the power and lighting companies. It is said, however, that Quay has consented to assist Magee in his scheme, provided the latter would support Quay for the Senate, which he did.

There will be millions of dollars involved in the battle, and it is expected to be the bitterest ever seen here.

COUNCIL IN SESSION

Several Important Matters Were Acted Upon Last Night.

TAILS CHOPPED OFF OF CHARGES

Limit Put on the Expense For the Water Assessment—Ordinance Adopted Regulating Balls and Dances—To Investigate Charges of Discrimination.

The first meeting of the Borough Council for the new year was held last night with the following members in attendance: Messrs. McGuire, Coakley, James, Bell, Harkins, Lally, Hand, Murphy, Brennan, Stranglin, Neiswender.

Mr. Hevry appeared before Council and complained that his horse and wagon were injured by the casting in of a part of a street. He was told that the street committee already had the matter under consideration.

Mr. Hand, of the finance committee, reported that the tax duplicate was written and that the committee was prepared to turn it over to Tax Receiver Burke.

Mr. Stranglin stated a list of the collections made by the P. & R. C. & I. Co. at its collection under the Alien tax law, and turned over to Collector Burke, had been received. The collections amount to $4,774.25. He said it would take considerable time to compare the list with Mr. Burke's examination lists, and under the circumstances the examination lists of the collector could not be gone over at present. He also thought Collector Burke should post his duplicate, showing the net balance on it. It was decided that the members of each ward go over the list of payments and that Tax Collector Burke be asked to balance his duplicate as suggested.

Mrs. Cadden applied for exoneration from taxes. The finance committee was instructed to get a written opinion from Borough Solicitor Burke on the question of exoneration of real estate from taxes.

Borough Solicitor Burke submitted the following report:
I desire to report that the bill for telegrams arising out of the Bialecki shooting affair I submitted to the County Commissioners; the claim and notes in the matter of a judgment of the county's liability for the bill, and they have referred it to their solicitor. He has not yet advised them.

I have consulted with the Commissioners' clerk and Commissioner Stauffer in regard to the assessment of the borough's plant in East Union township; as yet the clerk has been unable to locate the assessment, but Commissioner Stauffer says the case a judgment will give Council a hearing on the assessment at any time of which they may have a few days' notice.

Suits were commenced and concluded against the Schuykill Traction and Lakeville Railway companies for tax; the latter case was settled by the company paying the claim and costs; in former case a judgment has been taken for $40 as the amount of tax due to June, 1898, but this is disputed, and I have been unable to conclude the matter.

As you may by this know, the river taken by Mrs. Mary Mollet to her name stricken from the bonds of Collector Scanlan, have been discharged by the court. Whether she will proceed further in the matter, I am unable to say. No hearing has yet been had in other proceedings pending on the bonds.

Suit has been commenced by Burgess Taber against Mr. Samuel Feldzer, of North Main street, for obstructing the pavement in front of his store; the hearing takes place this evening.

Our committee submitted to me an ordinance for the regulation of dances, etc., within the borough; the ordinance is properly and legally drawn and properly comes within the power and authority of Council.

Members of Council have spoken with me in reference to a change in the ordinance regulating the railway car tax in town, so as to enable Council to increase the tax. I prefer not to offer an opinion on this matter until it comes officially before me and after careful consideration.

Mrs. Susan O'Brien has commenced an action against the borough to recover damages for an injury sustained to her by falling on a West Coal street pavement. I have pleaded and the case is now ready for trial.

The dispute as to the amount of car taxes due from the Schuykill Traction Company was referred to the law committee for investigation.

An order was drawn in favor of F. W. McDermott for the telegraph bill in the Bialecki murder case, and the Borough Solicitor was instructed to proceed to collect the amount from the company.

Mr. Bell said that John Roberts, the undertaker, wanted to have the $10 fine he paid in the Hoehler case returned to him, on the ground that the fine was unjust; that he had to make the burial in the case without a burial permit because the Health Officer was absent at the time. Council declined to interfere, as the matter was entirely in the hands of the Board of Health.

The fire apparatus committee reported repairs made to fire plugs and said all fire plugs are in good condition.

The ordinance committee submitted a draft of an ordinance providing that no public license shall be held in the borough until the license for it is first issued by the Chief Burgess, or in his absence, by the President of Council. Licenses will be issued for every night, except Sunday, upon application of at least two persons, provided that no license fee will be required of fire companies for their annual balls, or picnics. For each and every dancing school or class a fee of $1 will be charged, up to midnight; and for every ball $5. All other amusements, exhibitions, shooting galleries, etc., not already provided for, $1 for each day up to 12 o'clock, midnight. For violation of the ordinance a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $50 is provided for, and in default of payment imprisonment in the lockup not exceeding 48 hours.

Mr. L. J. Wilkinson protested that the ordinance was vicious in a way. Especially as it was directed against select parties and private dances. Answer was made that in adopting an ordinance of that character there could be no discrimination and it was necessary to provide for a nominal license fee. The officers of Council were directed to put the ordinance in legal status.

In reference to the O'Brien suit for damages referred to in the Borough Solicitor's letter, it was decided that the Borough Solicitor notify the owner of the property where the accident occurred of the condition of affairs, and give the party an opportunity to be represented in the case.

Upon President McGuire's statement that considerable complaint had been made by business men of the town that the Schuykill Traction Company had discriminated against the borough by the recent change in its fares, the Law committee was instructed to investigate the matter and report at the next meeting.

ing. In the meantime the committee to see the officials of the company and endeavor to have the matter fixed up, so that there will be no discrimination against this borough.

The Construction committee was instructed to have the time for the contract for the completion of the borough building painting fixed at May 1st, 1899. It was also decided that the railing on the bell tower be either repaired or removed, as it is in a dangerous condition.

A discussion arose as to the terms upon which James J. Coakley and John Stanton were employed to make a measurement for the public water works. Mr. Bell said the pay would be governed by that paid previously, which was $2 per day, and he moved that rate be paid.

Mr. Stranglin thought the assistant superintendent of the works ought to be one of the assessors, as he could at the same time acquaint himself with all the numerous and note all defects or leakages; that the time was important, as it should be made on the eve of the time for the new duplicate. Mr. Neiswender was of the same opinion.

Chairman McGuire strongly opposed the movement at the rate of wages fixed, and said the committee should have made the assessment at the proper time—six months ago. Mr. Lally defended the committee, as did also Messrs. Bell and Coakley.

A motion by Mr. James that the limit for the work be fixed at fifteen days at $1.50 per day for each man, and that the assistant water superintendent be one of the assessors was defeated. But, incidentally after Mr. Harkins moved that the assessing go ahead, provided the work would not consume more than fifteen days at $2 per day, or a total expenditure of $30. This was readily agreed to by those who favored the previous motion and it prevailed.

Charles Dietz, of North Main street, sent in a communication complaining that a show case exhibited by his next door neighbor, Frank Schmidt, obstructed his view and the view of the public, thereby damaging his business. He threatened that if Council failed to act in the matter, he would enter an action against the borough for damages to the amount of $50 per day.

Mr. Stranglin could not understand why people persisted in bringing such complaints before Council when the Chief Burgess has full power under the ordinance, and even greater power than Council can give him. The communication was referred to the Chief Burgess.

Borough Treasurer T. J. Mullahey submitted the following report:
Balance at last report, $1,189.65. Receipts—M. M. Burke, Esq., $20; S. C. Spalding, M. D., $10; J. A. Tommy, $99; Water Superintendent, $1,735; Tax Collector Burke, $11,000; J. W. Curran, $38.50; temporary loan, $4,500; total, $19,552.55. Disbursements—Bonds redeemed, $1,000.00; coupons paid, $2,382; first disbursements of the new steam foundation loan, $90.80; balance in treasury to date, $12,313.69.

Chief Fire Marshal P. J. Reynolds reported that there was but one fire during the month of December.

Chief of Police Murphy presented his report for December, showing 15 arrests. Of these six paid fines and seven served time. Lodgings were furnished 11 persons. Chief Burgess Taber collected $6 of the fines and Justice Shoemaker $6. A report was also submitted, showing the times at which certain street lights did not burn during the month. The latter part of the report was referred to the Lamp and Watch committee.

The Chief Burgess reported that during December he collected $2 in fine and $32.50 in theatre licenses, a total of $34.50.

There was a discrepancy of four dollars between the two last reports and the report of the Burgess was referred back to him for correction. A motion was also made that orders amounting to the salary of the Chief Burgess be held until the official balances his accounts with the borough.

James Cook presented a bill of $46 for writing the duplicate, and the bill was objected to as excessive. It was finally agreed to allow him $40 for the work.

Justice Tommy sent in a bill of $68.88 for costs in the Lamp and Watch sewerage suits. Objections were raised (1) that the costs should have been collected from the defendants; (2) that the understanding was the suits were to be dropped upon abatement of the nuisance and payment of costs, but as neither condition was complied with, the fines should have been collected. The matter was referred to the Borough Solicitor.

BUSINESS MEN PROTEST.

Request the Ashland Council to Rescind Car Tax Ordinance.

Sometime since the Town Council, as a retaliation against the Schuykill Traction Company in increasing its rate of car fare, passed an ordinance placing a tax on each pull, a license on the cars and regulating the operation of the company's snow sweeper in that town. This had the effect of restoring the old rate of fare between Ashland and Girardville.

At the meeting of the Council on Wednesday evening a number of business men appeared and presented a petition in which they requested that Council rescind the ordinance "relating to the tax on the Schuykill Traction Company's poles, license for cars, and restriction of the sweeper. If the Schuykill Traction Company agrees to pay a yearly tax of one hundred dollars and a guarantee of the utmost care for life and property while using the sweeper in our borough limits."

The petition further sets forth that the company will issue a workingman's ticket at the rate of five cents each way to and from their work for one continuous passage, provided Council will rescind the former ordinance.

The petition caused much discussion, and the request that a committee be appointed to confer with the Traction Company was not considered for the reason the latter made no such request. A committee, however, was appointed to meet with the business men.

BATTLE WITH ROBBERS

Policemen's Deadly Duel on the Street With Six Miscreants.

ONE OF THE OFFICERS KILLED.

The Other Kept Up the Running Fight With the Fleeing Thieves, But Was Compelled by a Second Wound to Give Up the Chase.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—Six highwaymen who were endeavoring to make their escape after having held up the dry goods store of H. C. T. Boorman, at 332 Twenty-first Place, engaged in a shooting affray with Policemen Edward Wallner and John McCauley last evening and both officers were wounded. Wallner dying three hours later in the hospital. McCauley was shot in the arm and hip, but will recover.

When Wallner and McCauley were called to the scene of the robbery they started in pursuit of the men. The officers drew their revolvers, but hesitated about firing because of the people on the street. When the six robbers reached an alley they ran behind a fence and opened fire on the officers. Both policemen ran into the street and returned the shots. Wallner was wounded at the beginning of the encounter, and McCauley was left alone to battle with the men. After firing more than a dozen shots at the officers the six men turned and ran up the alley. McCauley followed them and received a second wound. He was then forced to give up the chase, and the robbers escaped.

Boorman and his clerk, Charles Carlson, were alone in the store when five of the robbers entered, one remaining at the door. They robbed Boorman of $25 and a watch and took $5 and a watch from Carlson. There is no clue to their identity.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The war department received yesterday from the collector of customs at Havana, Colonel Tasker H. Bliss, the first report transmitted by him since his arrival at that port. Colonel Bliss says that on making an inspection of his surroundings he discovered that the Spaniards had removed nearly everything except the bare walls and floors. The several places in the customs house when he assumed charge were chiefly held by Spaniards, the total number employed at the date of writing being 239. The problem that confronts him, he says, is how to repair a house from foundation to roof without a material disturbance of its occupants. The new organization comprises only six Americans.

SUMMARY STEPS.

Mr. Feldzer Committed For Violating a Borough Ordinance.

A couple of weeks ago complaint was made by Borough Council that Samuel Feldzer, proprietor of the Bon Ton military store on North Main street, was obstructing the pavement with a show case. The matter was referred to the Chief Burgess, with instructions that the ordinance be enforced. Accordingly Mr. Feldzer was instructed to remove the obstruction, and he did so, but subsequently he again displayed the show case and the Chief Burgess arrested it. The case has been in storage in the Water Superintendent's office, pending the payment of expenses by the owner.

Chief Burgess Taber then swore out a warrant for Mr. Feldzer's arrest charging persistent violation of the ordinance in obstructing the pavement. The case came up before Justice Tommy last night. The Justice says he gave Mr. Feldzer the opportunity of entering bail for a hearing at some future time, the statement being made that the accused's wife was very ill. Mr. Feldzer, however, insisted upon a hearing and he was committed, Mr. and Mrs. C. Holderman and the Chief Burgess appearing as witnesses, and Borough Solicitor Burke as attorney, for the prosecution.

Justice Tommy then imposed the fine and costs and Mr. Feldzer offered to enter bail until he could consult with his lawyer, who was not present. The Justice ruled that no bail could be taken after conviction, as the case was one of summary punishment. It was a question of either paying the fine and costs, or going to the lockup. The Justice says he gave Mr. Feldzer a full hour to make up his mind as to whether he would pay the fine, but the latter had some reckless advisers with him and they made objectionable remarks, among others that Feldzer was being persecuted because he was a Jew. Finally, says the Justice, one of the advisers said Feldzer could not be locked up, whereupon the Justice instructed Constable Gibbon to carry out the sentence.

After Feldzer was locked up a delegation comprising David Levine, Levi Refowick, Sam Block and Abe Levine hurried to the Borough Council meeting, where the imprisonment was denounced as an outrage. David Levine and Levi Refowick were the chief spokesmen. They demanded the prisoner's release under bail. Refowick made remarks about persecution that led to a hot exchange of words between him and Councilman Harkins.

Council decided to send for the Chief Burgess, Chief of Police Murphy returned with a reply in which the Chief Burgess stated that the case was his, and not the Council's. This position being assumed, Council was powerless to act in the matter and the visiting delegation finally concluded that there was nothing to be done but pay the fine and costs. Accordingly David Levine went back to the Justice's office and gave a check for $13.90, fine and costs, under protest and asked for a transcript of the case, which the Justice promised to give him. Feldzer was then released.
